

Duncan, Ewing, Humphrey Going Into Wrestling Training Camp

CORVALLIS—More than 40 of Oregon's leading schoolboy wrestlers will be scrambling for 10 tickets to the Orient here next week in a two-day trout camp on the Oregon State University campus.

Winners of the tryouts will represent the state in a nine-match tour of Japan over 28 days in July and August.

Eligibles for the tryouts include 10 place winners in 10 weights during an AAU freestyle wrestling tournament here in March and state champions who entered the same meet but did not place. A total of 46 wrestlers in all are eligible to bid for the Japanese trip.

The list includes Klamath High's Grant Humphrey and Bob Ewing. They won AAU championships at 130 and 190 pounds respectively and will be favored to handle all competition in their weight classifications in the tryouts.

Tryout entries will gather Sunday (June 16) for registration. Wrestling under international rules will begin Monday in a sub-champ tournament from which AAU tourney winners will be exempt. Survivors of the sub-champ competition will then take on AAU titlists Tuesday in a series of matches to determine Japanese travelers in 10 weight divisions.

Winners will remain over Wednesday to complete final arrangements for the trip, including passport and visa applications. They will gather again early in July for a week of intensive training in Portland under coaches John Duncan of Marshfield and Delance Duncan of Klamath Falls before a July 9 Pan-Am jet plane flight to Japan.

Money Goading Golfers Claims Tommy Bolt

By OSCAR FRALEY
UPI Sports Writer

RYE, N.Y. (UPI)—Tommy Bolt stroked the ball wearily on the practice putting green at Westchester Country Club and let out a long, plaintive groan.

"The trouble," he said grimly, "is money. I'm so tired I can't hardly hold onto the club but they lantailize you with $100,000 and a man just don't dare go home."

Bolt complained that he was so exhausted after eight straight weeks on the pro golf tour that "I couldn't beat a plumber" and then turned his attention to the case of Arnold Palmer.

"The man did the smartest thing in the world when he knocked off for four weeks and came back just in time to get his game in shape for the Open," Bolt acknowledged. "I should have too, but with all this money at stake I wouldn't be surprised to see Walter Hagen make a comeback."

Money Goads Golfers
The huge sums of money for which the pros are contesting is, of course, the goad and the spur to all of them. Those that are just cutting the expense mustard, as is Bolt with only $11,000 in money winnings so far this year, can't pass up a stretch in which there are seven tournaments in a row worth $50,000 or more. Palmer is in a vastly different situation than most, along with the likes of Gary Player and Jack Nicklaus. He has earned $31,500 already this year but this is pumpkin seeds compared to his vast extracurricular interests. So, bothered by a bad back and utter weariness, he knocked off for four weeks.

Player and Nicklaus, riding in the same gilded monetary boat, each took two weeks off and all three returned to action Thursday in the $100,000 Thunderbird Classic in search of its $25,000 first prize. It also is a fine tuneup for next week's U.S. Open.

Fired A 67
Palmer shot a three under par 67.

Player and Nicklaus each hammered out 69's.

Bolt, by way of unrested comparison, had a 74.

"When I left the tour four weeks ago," Palmer said after his round, "I was tired all over and completely done in, both physically and mentally. The vacation proved to me that all I needed was some time off because I felt fine today. I enjoyed my round and it was fun instead of work."

Palmer had been bothered by a cyst on his back, as well as being tired from the strain of constant competition and the added drain of unending business conferences.

No Operation Needed
"I had a checkup and the doctor said the cyst probably wouldn't need an operation," he explained. "The first week I didn't play a lick. I played a little the second week and the third I played three matches on the West Coast for my new TV show. Then I practiced and played a little last week just to get my touch back."

But being at home, with regular hours and regular food, makes the difference.

"It's not getting the proper food and the proper rest that murders you," Bolt moaned. "Man, when I think of that final 36 holes on Saturday in the Open, if I even make it, I'd just like to cut my throat."

Kiwanis Wins Minor Game

Kiwanis, Motor Investment and Weyerhaeuser-Gene's copped victories Thursday night in the Minor League of the City Little League action.

Kiwanis stopped Coca Cola, 8-7. Motor Investment nudged Crater Lake, 11-9, and Weyerhaeuser-Gene's dropped Thomas Dodge, 11-3.

Tillery got the win for Kiwanis on a four-hitter. Canada lost the game and also pitched a four-hit contest. Knowles tripled for Coca Cola in the sixth and Tillery added his own cause with a homer in the third. Morgan also doubled for the winners.

Motor Investment stopped Crater Lake on the pitching of Ramirez. It was Crater Lake's third straight loss by a total of four runs. McLeary was the losing pitcher.

Weyerhaeuser-Gene's rapped 10 hits while winning pitcher Williams was holding Thomas Dodge to five. Cunha was the loser. Bennett had three hits in five at bats and J. Hill socked two hits for the losers.

Michigan has more than 11,000 inland lakes and 36,000 miles of streams.

UO Gets Seven In Meet

ALBUQUERQUE (UPI)—Defending champion Oregon managed to fill seven qualifying spaces in the National Collegiate Track and Field Championships Thursday night despite an injury to Mel Renfro. Oregon State picked up four spots.

Renfro, who scored 14 points in Oregon's victory a year ago, re-injured a sore knee and failed to qualify in either the broad jump or the high hurdles.

Dave Blunt ran a 9:4 100, the fastest of his career and qualified in both that event and the 220.

Paul Stuber and Terry Llewellyn cleared 6-7 to qualify in the high jump. Ray Van Asten and Lewis Powell both made it through the 800 preliminaries and Bob Watson qualified at 15-4 1/2 in the pole vault.

Oregon State hurdler Tom Wyatt led the Beavers with qualifying performances in both the high and intermediate hurdles. Norm Hoffman and Jan Underwood joined Van Asten and Powell in the 800 field.

The six-mile event also was a disappointment for the Oregon schools. Clayton Steinke of Oregon finished fifth behind winner Julio Marin of Southern California, but teammates Dan Tonn and Mike Lehner and Oregon State's Rich Cuddihy did not place.

Oregon got two points from Steinke's fifth place while Southern Cal. now the meet favorite, racked up 10.

INK LINEBACKING TRIO
NEW YORK (UPI)—Jerry Fields, an experienced linebacker and two rookies who play the same position were signed today by the New York Jets of the American Football League.

The newcomers signed as free agents were Robert Smith and Jim McKinstry.

Fields played for Ohio State. Smith played at Toledo and McKinstry starred at the New York State Agricultural College.

JETS SIGN THREE
NEW YORK (UPI)—Veteran halfbacks Dick Christy and Bill Shockley today signed New York Jets contracts for the 1963 American Football League season. The Jets also corralled rookie back Ernie Velten of Gettysburg College.

Palmer Back On Links, Takes First Thunderbird Round Lead

RYE, N.Y. (UPI)—Arnold Palmer is back in business but so are the other two in golf's "big three" — Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player.

Arnie bounced out of a four week lay-off he took to cure his nerves and weary muscles by firing a three-under par 67 for a share of the first round lead in the $100,000 Thunderbird Classic Thursday, and he looked like the Palmer of old.

Jack Rule of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, a pro for only 18 months, matched Palmer's score for a piece of the lead and three others were in at 68.

But jammed in with 12 others at 69 were Nicklaus and Player, the two Palmer fears the most.

Both Nicklaus, the U.S. Open and Masters titleholder, and PGA champion Player also were back in business after a two week lay-off from the tournament circuit.

Like Palmer, they were refreshed and geared for a big drive toward the $25,000 Thunderbird jackpot in the windup Sunday.

"It was fun instead of work," said Palmer of his 67 in which he required only 28 putts and only twice missed the fairways with his tee shots.

"I felt fine, though I wasn't completely satisfied with my game. Anyway, it proved I needed some time off."

The Thunderbird, rich "tuneup" for next week's U.S. Open championship at Brookline, Mass., is Palmer's first competitive venture since the Colonial Invitational at Port Worth, Tex., a month ago in which he wound up at 299 in his worst 72-hole showing since 1956.

Gay Brewer of Dallas, the Thunderbird's first round leader a year ago, had 68 for a second place tie with Bob Duden of Portland and Bill Eggers of Henderson, Nev.

Player had 34-35-69 and Nicklaus 36-33-69 for a traffic jam tie two shots back of the leaders.

Defending champ Gene Littler of Rancho Bernardo, Calif., had a 71 and that put him in a bunch with 50-year-old Ben Hogan, in his first tournament in nearly a year.

Billy Daniels, Doug Jones Meet Tonight In Big Bout

TEANECK, N.J. (UPI)—Heavyweight contenders Doug Jones of New York and Billy Daniels of Brooklyn, who share the dissatisfaction of having lost to Cassius Clay, meet tonight in an "I-want-Clay-again" fight at the Teaneck Armory.

Jones, ranked third among contenders, is favored at 11-5 to whip tall Daniels, rated sixth, in their non-televized 10-rounder.

Jones, 26, is favored because of his combined boxing skill, punch and ruggedness. Also because he went the 10-round distance with second-ranking Clay of Louisville before a sell-out crowd of 18,732 at Madison Square Garden on March 13, although he lost the decision.

"Clay ran like a deer that night," said the mustachioed Jones today. "I'll knock him out next time because I'll stop his running and make him fight."

Daniels, who is also 26, told reporters: "A win over Jones tonight should get me another fight with Clay. Remember I had Clay practically out on his feet last year at St. Nick's before I was stopped on a cut eye in the seventh round."

Jones, who never was stopped, has a 21-4-1 record that includes 13 knockouts.

Fishing at Four Mile Lake is reported very good as well as the little lakes above Four Mile, says Tex Rush, operator of the lake resort.

"We have been catching some nice kokanee, rainbow, and some excellent eastern brook. The weather has improved and is now old Four Mile Lake weather with cloud, fishing or cruising."

Rush reports that he has a "se-cret" lure at his establishment for catching the big easterns in the little lakes above Four Mile.
