

Girl, 19, Changes Plea To Guilty Of Assault

Wilma Williams, 19, who sought to thwart her brother's arrest by threatening an Oregon State Police officer with a loaded rifle, appeared in Circuit Court No. 2 for her trial Thursday morning and in an unexpected move changed her plea from not guilty to guilty.

Judge Donald A. W. Piper received the change of plea and deferred setting the date for passing sentence pending a review of the case by probation officers.

Miss Williams is charged with assault with a dangerous weapon which developed after she threatened a police officer with a loaded rifle at 1726 Crost Street, April 24. The threat occurred as the officer took into custody Archibald Emil Foster, 26, brother of Miss Williams, in connection with the gun slaying of Mrs. Richard Biss of Beatty.

The victim was found dead of a bullet wound through the head, in the back seat of her car, in Beatty, April 22.

Foster was linked to the slaying and soon after his arrest he was indicted by the grand jury for first degree murder. He later pleaded not guilty and is to stand trial on the murder charge July 29.

President Sets Virginia Speech

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy plans to speak at Charleston, W. Va., June 20 during "Statehood Day" ceremonies celebrating the 100th anniversary of the state.

The White House Thursday announced acceptance of the invitation which previously had been turned down because of a possible conflict with the President's forthcoming European trip. However, the European trip now has been scheduled to start after June 20.

WILL ATTEND — Gov. Mark O. Hatfield greeted Mrs. J. Edward Poitras and her small daughter, Suzie, of Portland in his office in official headquarters, when Mrs. Poitras, a Klamath, presented an invitation to attend opening ceremonies of the Indian Arts Festival in La Grande June 21. The governor will be present.

Klamath Indians Going To La Grande Festival

Prominent Indians of many tribes will gather June 21-24 at La Grande for the Fourth Annual Indian Arts Festival, which this year promises to outshine all others.

The festival will be officially opened at 10:30 a.m. on the first day with "Head Chief," Tah-Keis, Me-U Oh-Hut, Nez Perce title. Prelude to this year's festival will be a parade led by Jesse Redhart on an Appaloosa, the horse breed made famous by his tribe. The Appaloosa parade and "Omosee" (Indian games) will be sponsored by the La Grande Mavericks Riding Club.

Arthur S. Junaluska, Cherokee Indian writer, director, dramatist, and choreographer, has been loaned to the festival this year to produce the "Dance of the Twelve Moons" on the evening of June 24.

Indian artists from the West will compete in music, art, voice, drama and writing as well as in ethnic crafts generations old.

Junaluska is director of the American Indian Society of Creative Arts in New York City and one of the few American Indians to have become a Shakespearean actor. He has appeared with the television U.S. Steel Hour, in 75 other television productions, in motion pictures and on the Broadway stage.

He is a graduate of Maryville College, Tenn., and did graduate work in medical research at the Lister School in the London School of Medicine, where he was a member of a team which developed new methods in serology.

Miss Indian America, Ramona Soto of Klamath Falls will be present to represent all American Indians. Her appearance at the festival will follow a long engagement in New York City, and eastern and southern states. She will be accompanied to La Grande by her mother, Mrs. Floinda Soto of this city.

Participating from Klamath County will be Linn D. Pauahy, pastor of the Williamson River Mission, a Kiowa, teller of authentic Indian legends, Mrs. Pauahy, Lefty Wild Eagle Wilder and his family and others.

Although the reason for seizing the boat was not announced immediately, there were reports that it was being held on the same "pirate fishing" charge brought against the San Diego tuna boats White Star and Ranger when they were seized late last month.

The tuna boats were released this week after their owners paid fines and other penalties totaling more than $26,000.

Prowlers' Loot Slight In Two City Attempts

Two prowling incidents and a break-in, which city police said probably tied in with the prowling cases, have been reported to police.

Linda Reeves, 2643 Radcliffe.

FORT KLAMATH
MRS. LUCILLE DAVIS and three children, accompanied by a friend, Agnes Harris, are visiting from Tacoma with her maternal aunt, Mrs. Harry Engle, son, Weston, and his son, Wayne, at Mrs. Engle's home, they are also visiting with the Clifford Engles.

MRS. BLAINE BRATTAIN sustained injuries Monday morning, June 10, when she was thrown to the pavement of Highway 62, near her ranch home, by her horse. She was taken to Klamath Valley Hospital for a medical examination and care.

MRS. MARGARET WATSON is back at her home after spending the past several months at Hyampom, Calif., with her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Watson and daughter, Beverly.

The theft occurred at about 2:15 a.m. Tuesday while the woman was in an adjacent apartment which is occupied by a relative.

Earlier in the evening police were called to 2641 Radcliffe, the apartment occupied by Miss Reeves' sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Gillin, on a report that a prowler was bothering them by knocking at the door and running away.

About 2 a.m. the prowler apparently returned and started to enter the apartment, but was run off by Tom Reeves.

City police, about 2:45 a.m., spotted a suspect on Shasta Way, but the man fled on foot.

Another prowling incident was investigated by police the following evening at 2340 Home Street.

A young baby sitter called the station and reported that she heard someone at the back door. Police searched the neighborhood, but failed to find the prowler.
