

MARKETS and FINANCE

Stocks WALL STREET

Table with columns for Stock Name, Bid, and Asked. Includes sections for NEW YORK STOCKS, AUCTION MARKET, LIVESTOCK, and MUTUAL FUNDS.

President's Race Rights Proposals Most Sweeping Since Civil War Days

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy's new civil rights proposals are the most sweeping submitted to Congress by any chief executive since the stormy reconstruction days following the Civil War.

The President sought power for his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, to file suits under certain conditions to desegregate hotels, motels, theaters, stadiums, restaurants and retail stores.

The President also asked limited authority from Congress so the attorney general could for the first time file suits to force integration of public schools which have lagged in carrying out the Supreme Court's 1954 desegregation edict.

The legislation also would give the President discretionary authority to make sure that not a dollar of federal funds was spent to aid any program or activity in which there is racial discrimination.

Kennedy also renewed previous requests for a four-year extension of the civil rights commission and for legislation to make it easier for Negroes to vote by limiting the use of literacy tests.

Kennedy based his most sweeping requests — legislation to bar discrimination in public facilities — on two constitutional doctrines.

He said the federal government has power to lower these racial barriers because they hamper the economy and the flow of interstate commerce. Secondly, he said, Congress has authority under the 14th Amendment to pass legislation that makes sure that state law guarantees equal protection to all its citizens.

The President, defending his request against arguments that the government should not interfere in a private property owner's decision on who to serve, said the law can require non-discrimination in public places just as it demands that railroads and airlines provide equal service to all.

Under Kennedy's proposal, anyone denied service because of race could seek a court order, probably an injunction, against the store or store owner. There would be no criminal penalty for discrimination but a federal judge might jail or fine the target of the action until he obeyed the directive.

Under Kennedy's proposal, anyone denied service because of race could seek a court order, probably an injunction, against the store or store owner. There would be no criminal penalty for discrimination but a federal judge might jail or fine the target of the action until he obeyed the directive.

Under Kennedy's proposal, anyone denied service because of race could seek a court order, probably an injunction, against the store or store owner. There would be no criminal penalty for discrimination but a federal judge might jail or fine the target of the action until he obeyed the directive.

Under Kennedy's proposal, anyone denied service because of race could seek a court order, probably an injunction, against the store or store owner. There would be no criminal penalty for discrimination but a federal judge might jail or fine the target of the action until he obeyed the directive.

Under Kennedy's proposal, anyone denied service because of race could seek a court order, probably an injunction, against the store or store owner. There would be no criminal penalty for discrimination but a federal judge might jail or fine the target of the action until he obeyed the directive.

Under Kennedy's proposal, anyone denied service because of race could seek a court order, probably an injunction, against the store or store owner. There would be no criminal penalty for discrimination but a federal judge might jail or fine the target of the action until he obeyed the directive.

Under Kennedy's proposal, anyone denied service because of race could seek a court order, probably an injunction, against the store or store owner. There would be no criminal penalty for discrimination but a federal judge might jail or fine the target of the action until he obeyed the directive.

Under Kennedy's proposal, anyone denied service because of race could seek a court order, probably an injunction, against the store or store owner. There would be no criminal penalty for discrimination but a federal judge might jail or fine the target of the action until he obeyed the directive.

Under Kennedy's proposal, anyone denied service because of race could seek a court order, probably an injunction, against the store or store owner. There would be no criminal penalty for discrimination but a federal judge might jail or fine the target of the action until he obeyed the directive.

Under Kennedy's proposal, anyone denied service because of race could seek a court order, probably an injunction, against the store or store owner. There would be no criminal penalty for discrimination but a federal judge might jail or fine the target of the action until he obeyed the directive.

Under Kennedy's proposal, anyone denied service because of race could seek a court order, probably an injunction, against the store or store owner. There would be no criminal penalty for discrimination but a federal judge might jail or fine the target of the action until he obeyed the directive.

Under Kennedy's proposal, anyone denied service because of race could seek a court order, probably an injunction, against the store or store owner. There would be no criminal penalty for discrimination but a federal judge might jail or fine the target of the action until he obeyed the directive.

Under Kennedy's proposal, anyone denied service because of race could seek a court order, probably an injunction, against the store or store owner. There would be no criminal penalty for discrimination but a federal judge might jail or fine the target of the action until he obeyed the directive.

Under Kennedy's proposal, anyone denied service because of race could seek a court order, probably an injunction, against the store or store owner. There would be no criminal penalty for discrimination but a federal judge might jail or fine the target of the action until he obeyed the directive.

Under Kennedy's proposal, anyone denied service because of race could seek a court order, probably an injunction, against the store or store owner. There would be no criminal penalty for discrimination but a federal judge might jail or fine the target of the action until he obeyed the directive.

Under Kennedy's proposal, anyone denied service because of race could seek a court order, probably an injunction, against the store or store owner. There would be no criminal penalty for discrimination but a federal judge might jail or fine the target of the action until he obeyed the directive.

Under Kennedy's proposal, anyone denied service because of race could seek a court order, probably an injunction, against the store or store owner. There would be no criminal penalty for discrimination but a federal judge might jail or fine the target of the action until he obeyed the directive.

Under Kennedy's proposal, anyone denied service because of race could seek a court order, probably an injunction, against the store or store owner. There would be no criminal penalty for discrimination but a federal judge might jail or fine the target of the action until he obeyed the directive.

Under Kennedy's proposal, anyone denied service because of race could seek a court order, probably an injunction, against the store or store owner. There would be no criminal penalty for discrimination but a federal judge might jail or fine the target of the action until he obeyed the directive.

Under Kennedy's proposal, anyone denied service because of race could seek a court order, probably an injunction, against the store or store owner. There would be no criminal penalty for discrimination but a federal judge might jail or fine the target of the action until he obeyed the directive.

Under Kennedy's proposal, anyone denied service because of race could seek a court order, probably an injunction, against the store or store owner. There would be no criminal penalty for discrimination but a federal judge might jail or fine the target of the action until he obeyed the directive.

UNFURLING WELCOMING BANNER — Chris Lampropoulos, left, Charlie Zumwalt, center, and Vince Carter, all members of the Class of '48 Reunion Committee, hold up the banner which is to be put up across Main Street at Moladore's Restaurant, place of registration for class members planning to attend the reunion. The reunion is to be held this weekend, Saturday and Sunday, at Reames Country Club. (See story on Page 5-B)

Young Men Set For Boys State

Thirty high school junior boys from Klamath County schools, sponsored by business firms and individuals, will leave Sunday morning by Klamath Union High School bus for Corvallis where they will attend Boys State sessions on the campus. They will be accompanied by Julian Abbott, American Legion Post No. 8, Boys State chairman.

They will join boys from all parts of Oregon in the educational program convening June 23 through June 29 sponsored annually by the American Legion.

Its purpose is to teach youth of today constructive attitudes toward the American form of government. The boys are selected for outstanding character and leadership in their communities.

Boys attending and their sponsors include: Henley, Ray Black, Kingsley Field Dependent Youth Organizations; John Riggs, Klamath Falls Rotary Club; Dick Johnson, Adair Furniture Company.

Chiloquin: Tony DiUlio, U.S. National Bank of Chiloquin; Rocky Evans, Simplot DeVoe Lumber Company, Chiloquin; Don Taylor, Kircher's Hardware, Chiloquin.

Sacred Heart Academy: Peter Krok, Knights of Columbus; Richard Owens, Sons of Italy; Richard Van Camp, American Legion Post No. 8.

Klamath Union High School: Charles Sanders, Forty and Eight; Mike McKibben, Swan Lake Moulding Company; Jim Beene, O. K. Puckett; Neil Johnson, Linkville Kiwanis Club; Charles Sweetland, Klamath Falls Kiwanis Club; John Enright, Klamath Falls Lodge, No. 1247 BPOE; Dean Geyer, Market Basket Stores; Mike Schlegel, George Proctor and Robert Puckett; David Wright, Payless Drug Store, Noel Flynn, manager.

Bonanza: Fred Dearborn, Klamath Animal Hospital and Albers Feed Store; Ben Brown, Klamath Ice and Storage Company; A. M. Collier, manager; Mike Clark, American Legion Post No. 8.

Malin: Tom Tofell, Tom Brown, Kingsley Field Dependent Youth Organizations; John Riggs, Klamath Falls Rotary Club; Dick Johnson, Adair Furniture Company.

Chiloquin: Tony DiUlio, U.S. National Bank of Chiloquin; Rocky Evans, Simplot DeVoe Lumber Company, Chiloquin; Don Taylor, Kircher's Hardware, Chiloquin.

Sacred Heart Academy: Peter Krok, Knights of Columbus; Richard Owens, Sons of Italy; Richard Van Camp, American Legion Post No. 8.

Klamath Union High School: Charles Sanders, Forty and Eight; Mike McKibben, Swan Lake Moulding Company; Jim Beene, O. K. Puckett; Neil Johnson, Linkville Kiwanis Club; Charles Sweetland, Klamath Falls Kiwanis Club; John Enright, Klamath Falls Lodge, No. 1247 BPOE; Dean Geyer, Market Basket Stores; Mike Schlegel, George Proctor and Robert Puckett; David Wright, Payless Drug Store, Noel Flynn, manager.

Bonanza: Fred Dearborn, Klamath Animal Hospital and Albers Feed Store; Ben Brown, Klamath Ice and Storage Company; A. M. Collier, manager; Mike Clark, American Legion Post No. 8.

Malin: Tom Tofell, Tom Brown, Kingsley Field Dependent Youth Organizations; John Riggs, Klamath Falls Rotary Club; Dick Johnson, Adair Furniture Company.

Chiloquin: Tony DiUlio, U.S. National Bank of Chiloquin; Rocky Evans, Simplot DeVoe Lumber Company, Chiloquin; Don Taylor, Kircher's Hardware, Chiloquin.

Sacred Heart Academy: Peter Krok, Knights of Columbus; Richard Owens, Sons of Italy; Richard Van Camp, American Legion Post No. 8.

Klamath Union High School: Charles Sanders, Forty and Eight; Mike McKibben, Swan Lake Moulding Company; Jim Beene, O. K. Puckett; Neil Johnson, Linkville Kiwanis Club; Charles Sweetland, Klamath Falls Kiwanis Club; John Enright, Klamath Falls Lodge, No. 1247 BPOE; Dean Geyer, Market Basket Stores; Mike Schlegel, George Proctor and Robert Puckett; David Wright, Payless Drug Store, Noel Flynn, manager.

Bonanza: Fred Dearborn, Klamath Animal Hospital and Albers Feed Store; Ben Brown, Klamath Ice and Storage Company; A. M. Collier, manager; Mike Clark, American Legion Post No. 8.

Malin: Tom Tofell, Tom Brown, Kingsley Field Dependent Youth Organizations; John Riggs, Klamath Falls Rotary Club; Dick Johnson, Adair Furniture Company.

Chiloquin: Tony DiUlio, U.S. National Bank of Chiloquin; Rocky Evans, Simplot DeVoe Lumber Company, Chiloquin; Don Taylor, Kircher's Hardware, Chiloquin.

Sacred Heart Academy: Peter Krok, Knights of Columbus; Richard Owens, Sons of Italy; Richard Van Camp, American Legion Post No. 8.

Klamath Union High School: Charles Sanders, Forty and Eight; Mike McKibben, Swan Lake Moulding Company; Jim Beene, O. K. Puckett; Neil Johnson, Linkville Kiwanis Club; Charles Sweetland, Klamath Falls Kiwanis Club; John Enright, Klamath Falls Lodge, No. 1247 BPOE; Dean Geyer, Market Basket Stores; Mike Schlegel, George Proctor and Robert Puckett; David Wright, Payless Drug Store, Noel Flynn, manager.

Bonanza: Fred Dearborn, Klamath Animal Hospital and Albers Feed Store; Ben Brown, Klamath Ice and Storage Company; A. M. Collier, manager; Mike Clark, American Legion Post No. 8.

Malin: Tom Tofell, Tom Brown, Kingsley Field Dependent Youth Organizations; John Riggs, Klamath Falls Rotary Club; Dick Johnson, Adair Furniture Company.

JFK Faces War Talks In Europe

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy's controversial European trip shaped up today as a sentimental pilgrimage to the Old Sod sandwiched between critical Cold War talks with troubled Allies.

New political uncertainties in Italy appeared to strengthen rather than diminish the President's determination to go through with the 12-day odyssey, despite advice at home and abroad that the trip was ill-starred and should be postponed.

Highlights of his tour of Germany, which begins Sunday, include visits to two points on the Communist-built wall dividing Berlin and an address to 15,000 American combat troops massed at a U.S. base 15 miles east of Frankfurt.

Kennedy's major address during four days in Germany will be made in Frankfurt at the Paulskirche (St. Paul's Church), where the first all-German parliament was convened in 1848.

He will talk with a number of German officials, including outgoing Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and Socialist Mayor Willy Brandt of Berlin.

After Germany, the President has scheduled three days in Ireland for trips to the ancestral home at Dunganstown and other points reputed to be connected with the Kennedys who came to America.

Kennedy is expected to address the Irish Parliament, an honor never before accorded a foreigner.

From Ireland Kennedy flies to England and a one-day visit with beleaguered Prime Minister Harold Macmillan at his private country home at Birch Grove, far from London's current sin and security scandal.

The next stop still is listed as Italy, where the White House says Kennedy will spend July 1 and 2 conferring with Italian President Antonio Segni, and "other Italian leaders."

The President further urged passage of a "comprehensive provision making it clear that the federal government is not required, under any statute, to furnish any kind of financial assistance... to any program or activity in which racial discrimination occurs."

The President further urged passage of a "comprehensive provision making it clear that the federal government is not required, under any statute, to furnish any kind of financial assistance... to any program or activity in which racial discrimination occurs."

The President further urged passage of a "comprehensive provision making it clear that the federal government is not required, under any statute, to furnish any kind of financial assistance... to any program or activity in which racial discrimination occurs."

The President further urged passage of a "comprehensive provision making it clear that the federal government is not required, under any statute, to furnish any kind of financial assistance... to any program or activity in which racial discrimination occurs."

The President further urged passage of a "comprehensive provision making it clear that the federal government is not required, under any statute, to furnish any kind of financial assistance... to any program or activity in which racial discrimination occurs."

The President further urged passage of a "comprehensive provision making it clear that the federal government is not required, under any statute, to furnish any kind of financial assistance... to any program or activity in which racial discrimination occurs."

The President further urged passage of a "comprehensive provision making it clear that the federal government is not required, under any statute, to furnish any kind of financial assistance... to any program or activity in which racial discrimination occurs."

The President further urged passage of a "comprehensive provision making it clear that the federal government is not required, under any statute, to furnish any kind of financial assistance... to any program or activity in which racial discrimination occurs."

The President further urged passage of a "comprehensive provision making it clear that the federal government is not required, under any statute, to furnish any kind of financial assistance... to any program or activity in which racial discrimination occurs."

The President further urged passage of a "comprehensive provision making it clear that the federal government is not required, under any statute, to furnish any kind of financial assistance... to any program or activity in which racial discrimination occurs."

The President further urged passage of a "comprehensive provision making it clear that the federal government is not required, under any statute, to furnish any kind of financial assistance... to any program or activity in which racial discrimination occurs."

The President further urged passage of a "comprehensive provision making it clear that the federal government is not required, under any statute, to furnish any kind of financial assistance... to any program or activity in which racial discrimination occurs."

The President further urged passage of a "comprehensive provision making it clear that the federal government is not required, under any statute, to furnish any kind of financial assistance... to any program or activity in which racial discrimination occurs."

The President further urged passage of a "comprehensive provision making it clear that the federal government is not required, under any statute, to furnish any kind of financial assistance... to any program or activity in which racial discrimination occurs."

The President further urged passage of a "comprehensive provision making it clear that the federal government is not required, under any statute, to furnish any kind of financial assistance... to any program or activity in which racial discrimination occurs."

The President further urged passage of a "comprehensive provision making it clear that the federal government is not required, under any statute, to furnish any kind of financial assistance... to any program or activity in which racial discrimination occurs."

The President further urged passage of a "comprehensive provision making it clear that the federal government is not required, under any statute, to furnish any kind of financial assistance... to any program or activity in which racial discrimination occurs."

The President further urged passage of a "comprehensive provision making it clear that the federal government is not required, under any statute, to furnish any kind of financial assistance... to any program or activity in which racial discrimination occurs."

The President further urged passage of a "comprehensive provision making it clear that the federal government is not required, under any statute, to furnish any kind of financial assistance... to any program or activity in which racial discrimination occurs."

Four Plead Innocent

Four people indicted for various crimes by the grand jury last week appeared in circuit court early yesterday and pleaded innocent to the charges. It has been reported to the Herald and News.

In one other case, Circuit Judge Donald A. W. Piper set today, Wednesday, as the time he would hear arguments for a demurrer on behalf of Clifford George Jr., accused of assault with a dangerous weapon and among the others who were recently indicted.

Judge Piper set these dates for the trials of those who entered pleas.

Edward Francis Marsh, larceny by baillee, Thursday, Aug. 22.

Theodore T. Furber, obtaining money and property by false pretenses, Monday, July 22.

Roy Weems, knowingly uttering and publishing a forged bank check, Tuesday, July 16.

Home Moran, knowingly uttering and publishing a forged bank check, Tuesday, July 30.

The city patrolman only wanted to give Rawson Pepper Jr., Kingsley Field, a citation for driving through a red light, but Pepper, who refused to accept the citation, ended up arrested for disorderly conduct for using obscene language.

The incident occurred at 9:30 p.m. Saturday when the patrolman observed Pepper drive through a red light at South Sixth and Broad streets. When Pepper was stopped the policeman wrote out a citation for going through the light, but Pepper said he didn't go through a red light and refused to take the citation.

When the patrolman told Pepper he'd have to appear in court and tell his story to the judge Pepper became abusive and was hauled away to the station, according to the police report.

Pepper posted bail and forfeited his fine on the disorderly conduct and traffic charges, according to police.

Five Day Weather: Western Oregon: Recurring showers, total more than seasonal; highs in 60s and 70s; lows in 40s.

Eastern Oregon: Highs in 70s and low 80s; lows in 40s and 50s; showery periods with total more than normal.

Among the sponsors was possible GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater, Ariz. He signed a proposal offered by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., which would override Monday's Supreme Court decision which outlawed devotional prayers or bible reading in public schools.

Among the sponsors was possible GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater, Ariz. He signed a proposal offered by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., which would override Monday's Supreme Court decision which outlawed devotional prayers or bible reading in public schools.

Among the sponsors was possible GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater, Ariz. He signed a proposal offered by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., which would override Monday's Supreme Court decision which outlawed devotional prayers or bible reading in public schools.

Among the sponsors was possible GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater, Ariz. He signed a proposal offered by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., which would override Monday's Supreme Court decision which outlawed devotional prayers or bible reading in public schools.

Among the sponsors was possible GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater, Ariz. He signed a proposal offered by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., which would override Monday's Supreme Court decision which outlawed devotional prayers or bible reading in public schools.

Among the sponsors was possible GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater, Ariz. He signed a proposal offered by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., which would override Monday's Supreme Court decision which outlawed devotional prayers or bible reading in public schools.

Among the sponsors was possible GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater, Ariz. He signed a proposal offered by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., which would override Monday's Supreme Court decision which outlawed devotional prayers or bible reading in public schools.

Among the sponsors was possible GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater, Ariz. He signed a proposal offered by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., which would override Monday's Supreme Court decision which outlawed devotional prayers or bible reading in public schools.

Among the sponsors was possible GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater, Ariz. He signed a proposal offered by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., which would override Monday's Supreme Court decision which outlawed devotional prayers or bible reading in public schools.

Among the sponsors was possible GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater, Ariz. He signed a proposal offered by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., which would override Monday's Supreme Court decision which outlawed devotional prayers or bible reading in public schools.

Among the sponsors was possible GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater, Ariz. He signed a proposal offered by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., which would override Monday's Supreme Court decision which outlawed devotional prayers or bible reading in public schools.

Among the sponsors was possible GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater, Ariz. He signed a proposal offered by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., which would override Monday's Supreme Court decision which outlawed devotional prayers or bible reading in public schools.

Among the sponsors was possible GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater, Ariz. He signed a proposal offered by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., which would override Monday's Supreme Court decision which outlawed devotional prayers or bible reading in public schools.

Among the sponsors was possible GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater, Ariz. He signed a proposal offered by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., which would override Monday's Supreme Court decision which outlawed devotional prayers or bible reading in public schools.

Among the sponsors was possible GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater, Ariz. He signed a proposal offered by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., which would override Monday's Supreme Court decision which outlawed devotional prayers or bible reading in public schools.

Weather Eye Now Orbiting

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — America's seventh "Tiro" "weather-eye" satellite rode into orbit aboard a three-stage rocket in a spectacular space shot today, and sent back its "good quality" pictures on its first try.

A 90-foot Delta rocket, scoring its 18th straight success, hurled the camera-carrying Tiro-7 into space at 5:50 a.m. EDT.

Less than two hours later, the 297-pound satellite swung back across the United States, snapped a series of weather photographs at an altitude of 300 miles, and relayed the pictures to a ground tracking station at Wallops Island, Va.

The federal space agency said the pictures "appeared to be of very good quality," indicating the complex Tiro-7 and its pair of television "eyes" were working properly.

It was the first training exercise for Tiro-7's major task — that of searching out and tracking giant storms, such as hurricanes and typhoons on earth.

Details of the initial photographs were not revealed immediately.

Scientists said the hatbox-shaped satellite was traveling once around the world every 97 minutes in a near-perfect orbit ranging from 386 miles to 40 miles up.

Farleigh said there were six new vehicles and 20 used customer vehicles in the building, and the collapse of the floor has made it impossible to remove the cars displayed on the top story. The intense heat resulted in the walls pulling away from the steel girders, with severe smoke damage throughout the structure.

Farleigh purchased the business from John Collins, Lakeview, and opened the agency about 14 months ago.

Farleigh said there were six new vehicles and 20 used customer vehicles in the building, and the collapse of the floor has made it impossible to remove the cars displayed on the top story. The intense heat resulted in the walls pulling away from the steel girders, with severe smoke damage throughout the structure.

Farleigh purchased the business from John Collins, Lakeview, and opened the agency about 14 months ago.

Farleigh said there were six new vehicles and 20 used customer vehicles in the building, and the collapse of the floor has made it impossible to remove the cars displayed on the top story. The intense heat resulted in the walls pulling away from the steel girders, with severe smoke damage throughout the structure.

Farleigh purchased the business from John Collins, Lakeview, and opened the agency about 14 months ago.

Farleigh said there were six new vehicles and 20 used customer vehicles in the building, and the collapse of the floor has made it impossible to remove the cars displayed on the top story. The intense heat resulted in the walls pulling away from the steel girders, with severe smoke damage throughout the structure.

Farleigh purchased the business from John Collins, Lakeview, and opened the agency about 14 months ago.

Farleigh said there were six new vehicles and 20 used customer vehicles in the building, and the collapse of the floor has made it impossible to remove the cars displayed on the top story. The intense heat resulted in the walls pulling away from the steel girders, with severe smoke damage throughout the structure.

Farleigh purchased the business from John Collins, Lakeview, and opened the agency about 14 months ago.

Farleigh said there were six new vehicles and 20 used customer vehicles in the building, and the collapse of the floor has made it impossible to remove the cars displayed on the top story. The intense heat resulted in the walls pulling away from the steel girders, with severe smoke damage throughout the structure.

Farleigh purchased the business from John Collins, Lakeview, and opened the agency about 14 months ago.

Farleigh said there were six new vehicles and 20 used customer vehicles in the building, and the collapse of the floor has made it impossible to remove the cars displayed on the top story. The intense heat resulted in the walls pulling away from the steel girders, with severe smoke damage throughout the structure.

Farleigh purchased the business from John Collins, Lakeview, and opened the agency about 14 months ago.

Farleigh said there were six new vehicles and 20 used customer vehicles in the building, and the collapse of the floor has made it impossible to remove the cars displayed on the top story. The intense heat resulted in the walls pulling away from the steel girders, with severe smoke damage throughout the structure.

Farleigh purchased the business from John Collins, Lakeview, and opened the agency about 14 months ago.

Farleigh said there were six new vehicles and 20 used customer vehicles in the building, and the collapse of the floor has made it impossible to remove the cars displayed on the top story. The intense heat resulted in the walls pulling away from the steel girders, with severe smoke damage throughout the structure.

Farleigh purchased the business from John Collins, Lakeview, and opened the agency about 14 months ago.

Farleigh said there were six new vehicles and 20 used customer vehicles in the building, and the collapse of the floor has made it impossible to remove the cars displayed on the top story. The intense heat resulted in the walls pulling away from the steel girders, with severe smoke damage throughout the structure.

Farleigh purchased the business from John Collins, Lakeview, and opened the agency about 14 months ago.

Farleigh said there were six new vehicles and 20 used customer vehicles in the building, and the collapse of the floor has made it impossible to remove the cars displayed on the top story. The intense heat resulted in the walls pulling away from the steel girders, with severe smoke damage throughout the structure.

'A Holiday' Set As Theme For Parade

The Klamath County Junior Chamber of Commerce again this year will present for the people of the Klamath Basin a parade marking Independence Day, the Fourth of July. The theme of this year's parade is "A Holiday in Klamath County."

Virgil Bigby, JC parade chairman, said the parade should be the finest ever viewed in this area and Bigby extends an invitation to clubs, businesses and organizations to participate in the float pageant.

Float judging will be divided into three categories this year: theme (following the idea of the theme), humor, and riding and marching units. First, second and third prizes will be offered in each category.

There will also be a Grand Sweepstakes Trophy presented to the best all-around entry. The award was won by the Parks and Recreation Department last year.

"We feel by using the three general categories and adding an opportunity for whimsy, we have made our requirements 100% enough that any group can easily enter," Bigby said.

Interested groups are urged to enter now to give the Jaycees ample time to place each entry in the parade line. Anyone wishing to enter can get applications at the First National Bank of Oregon; U.S. National Bank, Main Street branch; chamber of commerce, or by mailing all information concerning the entry, including name and address of the organization and a description of the entry to the Fourth of July Parade, c/o V. R. Bigby, P.O. Box 1611, Klamath Falls.

For further information contact Bigby at TU 2-3444 or at home, TU 4-7059, after 7 p.m., or parade co-chairman, Winston Kurth, TU 2-2501, or at home, TU 4-6237, after 7 p.m.

Fire Strikes Auto Firm

LAKEVIEW — A fire which started under a car ramp leading to the top story, adjacent to the lubrication department, ripped through Jim Farleigh's Ford Sales in Lakeview late Tuesday night.

The blaze was discovered at 11:30 p.m. by the local police. The cause of the fire and the extent of the damage have not been determined.

Farleigh said there were six new vehicles and 20 used customer vehicles in the building, and the collapse of the floor has made it impossible