Jack, Arnie, Gary Top Choices In U.S. Open

BROOKLINE, Mass. (UPI) — Golf's "big three" of Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and Gary Player rated 1-2-3 in the betting as they teed off with 147 little ones — who hope to become big ones — in the U.S. Open championship today.

The star-studded field of 150 faced a treacherous course in the first of four rounds which will decide America's premier golf title when the sun sets over this Massachusetts scene Saturday evening.

It's 4-1 that the 23-year-old Nicklaus, the defending champion and only in his second year as a professional golfer, will be at the top of the heap when they have played 72 holes over the 6,870-yard course of the Country Club of Brookline, labeled by most of the competitors as "impossible."

They not only did not like the course, but they didn't like the weather forecast for this afternoon. It called for scattered thunderstorms.

"But we'll have to take it as it is," said Palmer, the second choice in the betting to Nicklaus. "I think that when you keep complaining about a course, it gets on your mind, so I'm not going to have any feelings about it."

"Here my basic aim is to play well and win," he said.

Nicklaus, completely recovered from the neck ailment which hampered him in the Thunderbird last week, was undoubtedly the man to beat.

"Well, all I can say is that I'm a better player now than I was when I won it last year," Nicklaus shrugged.

Right behind Nicklaus in the list of favorites came Palmer at 6-1 while Player, Julius Boros and Gene Littler were listed at 8-1.

Next in line were Dow Finsterwald, Tony Lema and Phil Rodgers at 10-1 while Paul Harney, Jay Hebert and Bobby Nichols were in the 12-1 bracket.

Besides those 11 players, there were 139 others in the field, but the Country Club course did not appear to be one that could produce a dark horse.

They will play the second round on Friday — if weather doesn't interfere — and then the low 50 and ties will qualify for the final two rounds — a grueling day of 36 holes — on Saturday.

Red Sox Extend Detroit's Losing Streak To Nine

By United Press International

Charley Dressen promises to think of something soon and it had better be real soon, like right now, before Carl Yastrzemski drives the Detroit Tigers clear out of the American League.

Yaz is running the 'Tigers' single-handedly, a fact Dressen has become painfully aware of even though he has managed them in only two games.

"The tail-spinning Tigers have dropped both those games, extending their losing streak to nine games, and you can bet all the beans in Boston that Charley is going to have a heart-to-heart talk with his pitchers before they face the Red Sox again today."

Most of the conversation will center around Yastrzemski, who ruined Dressen's debut by driving in two runs on his Tuesday night and really went to town Wednesday night with two homers, three hits and four RBIs in Boston's 9-2 victory over Detroit.

Both of Yaz' homers traveled nearly 400 feet, his first coming in the fifth inning with the bases empty and his second with two on in the seventh. Frank Malzone also homered for the Red Sox, who remained within three games of first place on a five-game winning streak by a 6-2 nightcap victory after the Indians won the opener 5-4, and Los Angeles split a two-nighter with Kansas City, the Angels taking the opener 4-2, and the A's the nightcap 4-3.

Roger Maris' third homer in two games, a three-run blast off lower Claude Osteen in the sixth inning, was the Yankees' margin of victory over the Senators.

Rookie Tom McCraw and Floyd Robinson each had a pair of homers to drive in nine runs for the White Sox in a 19-hit barrage against the Twins.

Joe Accie's ninth inning homer off Stu Miller gave the Indians their first game victory after the Orioles had tied the score at 4-4 in the top of the ninth on Bob Saverine's squeeze bunt.

Milt Pappas withstood a two-run homer by Tito Francona to gain his fifth victory with a five-hit effort in the nightcap.

Jim Fregosi's three-run homer in the ninth inning of the opener extended the Angels' winning streak to five games but the Athletics snapped it in the nightcap although they collected only five hits.

The New York Yankees stayed a game ahead of the pack with a 3-2 squeaker over the Washington Senators for their sixth straight victory while the second-place Chicago White Sox swamped the Minnesota Twins 12-4. Baltimore ended Cleveland's seven-game winning streak with a 6-2 nightcap victory after the Indians won the opener 5-4, and Los Angeles split a two-nighter with Kansas City, the Angels taking the opener 4-2, and the A's the nightcap 4-3.

WINNERS AND PRIZE — Two 12-year-old wet, bedraggled, and almost incoherent lads checked in at the Stanley Burgess home in Mount Shasta this week with a rainbow trout that weighed 5 pounds, 4 ounces. The boys, Ronnie Burgess and Freddy Benson, stated that Ronnie was holding the rod when the battle opened, but each took turns before the end came. Also the battleground included both shores of Wagon Creek, and for 50 yards of the stream's channel. Their condition bore out this observation. The two are members of Strawberry Valley 4-H Club and join in most club projects. They had to join in this effort as that trout fouled the line, and one had to hold while the other pulled brush free. They didn't appreciate the full significance of the size until older fishermen began to state they never caught one that big. Wagon Creek is one of the main upper tributaries of the Sacramento River.

Giants Rip Dodgers Again, Cards Win To Retain Pace

By United Press International

Every night just before he goes to sleep, Willie McCovey says a prayer that nothing happens to Don Drysdale.

If it ever does, McCovey will automatically lose his No. 1 meal ticket in the National League.

The big San Francisco first baseman owns a fantastic 468 lifetime batting average against Drysdale and while most rival batters shudder when they see the Los Angeles right-hander warming up, McCovey can't wait to grab a bat.

That's how it was Wednesday, too, when Willie teed off for a two-run homer in the first inning against Drysdale to start the Giants to an 8-3 victory over the Dodgers before a day-time crowd of 41,304 at San Francisco.

It was the 14th homer of the reason for McCovey, who has hit nine during his career off Drysdale.

Juan Marichal, making his first start since his no-hitter against Houston last Saturday night, got his 11th victory in 14 decisions although Billy Pierce took over for him in the eighth after Ron Fairly's homer cut the Giants' lead to 6-3. Chuck Hiller had a two-run homer for the Giants in the bottom of the eighth, Willie Davis also hit a two-run homer for the Dodgers in the fourth.

The victory kept the second-place Giants within a half-game of the pace-setting St. Louis Cardinals, who downed the New York Mets for the 10th time in 13 meetings this season, 9-4.

In other National League contests, the Chicago Cubs drubbed the Houston Colts 9-1, the Pittsburgh Pirates mauled the Milwaukee Braves 6-2, and the Cincinnati Reds beat the Philadelphia Phillies 6-5 in 10 innings.

Bill White ruined the Mets by driving in five runs for the Cards with a grand slam homer and a double. White's 12th homer of the season off loser Tracy Stallard in the fourth overcame a 3-2 Cardinal deficit. Reliever Ed Bauta scored his third victory.

Ernie Banks raised his career total of runs batted in to 1,003 when he connected for his 13th homer of the season and two singles in the Cubs' victory over the Colts.

Earl Francis of the Pirates helped himself to his third victory by driving in three runs against the Braves with a double and two singles. Hank Aaron's 20th homer and Mack Jones' second accounted for Milwaukee's two runs.

Leo Cardenas' single with two out and the bases full in the 10th broke up a tie between the Reds and Phils that had existed since the sixth inning when Don Demeter hit his second solo homer of the game.

TEE TALK

There will be a mixed two-ball cross-country golf tournament at Reames Golf and Country Club next Wednesday. Members are asked to grab a partner and come join the day's fun.

This is the annual cross-country tournament according to Pro Jim Warner. The course is all mixed up in the cross country. "Everyone had such a good time last year, we decided to have another," he said.

The affair will begin at 5 p.m. and there will be a buffet available for those wishing it afterwards. The public also is invited to attend the buffet.

Reames also is having a twilight league every Thursday night and it started last week. The ten teams entered are the Ex-Belters, the Slicers, the Fun-Lovers, the Challengers, the Putters, the Low-Downs, the Nothing-Balls, the Great Shots, the Rough Riders and the Also Runs.

There has been a four-point maximum in this league but it will be increased to five next week because a sixth member will be added to the teams.

The standings after one round are as follows:

Slicers 3
Fun-Lovers 3
Nothing-Balls 3
Low-Downs 2 1/2
Also-Runs 2
Rough Riders 2
Putters 1 1/2
Ex-Belters 1
Great Shots 1
Challengers 1

Youth Tops Tournament

PEBBLE BEACH (UPI) — Although little Joseph Lopez, a slight 17-year old from Sorocco, N.M., was the nominal leader going into today's third round of the 28th National Left-Handed Amateur golf championship, the two-time New Mexico high school champion won't have a chance to win the national title.

Tournament rules call for the younger set to play in a flight of their own and but off the ladies' tees the final two rounds.

However, the 5-foot, 7-inch, 130-pounder didn't need any help in posting his "leading" 75-73-148 for the first two days of play. He played the Monterey Peninsula Club's shore and dunes courses in order, just like the men did.

Actually husky Bob Wilson, a Lyle, Wash., lumberjack who was runner-up for the title in 1960, held a two-stroke edge on the field after 36 holes of play. He shot a 75-73-150 for the two rounds.

In the second place was the first day leader Harvey Rascoe, Inglewood, Calif. The Southern California Champ had 74-78-152.

Clay Prefers Philly Site

NEW YORK (UPI) — Cassius Clay prefers Philadelphia as the site of his proposed bout with heavyweight champion Sonny Liston, who used to live there.

"Then the hometown people can watch the annihilation of the hometown boy," the undefeated Louisville slugger said Wednesday upon his return from London, where he stopped British Empire champion Henry Cooper in five rounds Tuesday night.

Clay wants to challenge Liston before mid-December because he has dreams of becoming the youngest boxer ever to wear the heavyweight crown. Floyd Patterson, who meets Liston in a return bout at Las Vegas July 22, won the crown first at the age of 21 years and 11 months.

PUGILISTIC RECORD

Of all the heavyweight boxing champions in history, Rocky Marciano had the best knockout record, scoring 43 knockouts in 49 bouts.

Local Legionnaires Win Counter, 9-3

By JERRY WAGGONER
Herald and News Sports Editor

The Klamath Falcons, led by the erratic but effective pitching performance of submarining Gary Benson, knocked off the Ashland American Legion team at Gem Stadium Wednesday night, 9-3.

The victory gave the Falcons a 4-1 Southern Division record and put them on top of the league. Medford dropped the Cheney Studs of Central Point in another game Wednesday, 3-0, behind the three-hit pitching of Stu Young. The loss put Central Point at 4-2. It gave Medford a 3-1 mark and a second place tie with Grants Pass, also at 3-1.

The Klamath Hawks will entertain Grants Pass Saturday night in a league contest.

The Falcons wasted no time in jumping on the Ashland nine and getting their runs early for Benson. Benson, spotty and erratic, came through in the clutch and struck out 14 Ashland batters during the game. He gave up seven walks which gave him the trouble. He finally gave up five hits during the contest, one a bad bounce single at short.

Benson had some masterful fielding behind him as the Falcons once again went errorless. Benson himself contributed to that record with a fine bare-handed stop in the first inning of a one-hop shot right back at him.

The Falcons grabbed two runs in the bottom of the first. LeVoy Young was hit by a pitch and stole second base. He took third on a passed ball and scored on Mike Kitching's line single after two were out. Kitching stole second and scored on catcher Jay Paxton's line shot through the box.

The third run came in the second when, with one out, Dave Johnson singled, stole second and scored on Benson's long single to left field.

Ashland stirred to life in the top of the third with two runs to chop the margin to 3-2. Jim Thompson led off with a single, the first hit for the Ashlanders. Dennis Kindel struck out and Jim Voth ground out. But Jerry Dickinson singled to chase Thompson home. Dickinson got to third on a wild pitch and scored on a double by losing pitcher John Rhoads. He stole third, but died there.

Klamath increased its margin in the bottom of that frame with a single tally. After John Paristol had fled out, Kitching rapped a triple to centerfield. He scored when Paxton was walked and stole second. The throw to second was a cutoff by the pitcher but the peg was wild.

The Falcons tallied three runs in the fourth. Johnson led off with a walk and again stole second. Benson ground out but LeVoy Young then tied into a pitch and sent a line drive screaming toward centerfield who was in right center. The fielder took one step in, realized his mistake and it was then too late. The ball already was sailing over his head and on the line. Young easily circled the base for the inside-the-park homer. Larry Binney singled, stole second and came in on a pair of errors.

Ashland came back with a singleton in the sixth when Rhoads, a master in the losing cause, walked. He took second on a passed ball and advanced to third on a single by Jan Susee. Dave Barger walked to load the bases. Benson then whiffed Bob DeBoer and pinchhitter Jim Caldwell and was en route to whiffing Thompson when he had a short nap on the mound which allowed Rhoads to steal home without a play being made.

The Falcons tallied their final two runs in the sixth. With one out Paristol singled. He scored when Kitching doubled to deep left center. He took third on an infield out and scored on an error.

Kingsley Defeats Oilers, 2-0

Kingsley Field leaped back into the South Suburban Little League heat of things Wednesday night with a 2-0 win over Western Oil, but Eccles slipped again as Big Y Market downed the Ramblers, 7-4. Western Oil nipped Hal's, 5-4, and Big Y stopped DARCO, 4-1, in Tuesday games.

Kingsley's Chris Carlson and Cecil Davis combined to one-hit the Oilers, but loser Bobby Kuhn was brilliant in relief with a three-hit effort. Davis got credit for the win.

Davis and Mike Negrevaki doubled for the winners. Both the runs came in the fifth frame.

Allen Pranghofer got the victory for Big Y over Eccles although he got help from Rod Allred in the fourth. David Hummel was the loser and he was lifted for Mike Schoeller in the fifth.

Pranghofer aided his own cause with a home run and David Dalton also hit one. Buck Dickson and Pranghofer doubled for the winners also. Schoeller had a double for the losers.

Big Y topped DARCO although being outlived by 11-6. Chris Tapoleski was the winning hurler and Doug Hasskamp was the loser. Rod Allred belted a home run for the Marketers. His homer won the game in the sixth. The game was tied at 4-4 when he belted the three-run shot.

Western stopped Hal's despite a four-run uprising in the final frame by the losers. Bobby Ernst got the win and Terry Herbert the loss. Western had only four hits and Hal's three. Bob Kuhn and Don Blacksmith had all the winners each, including a double each. Bernie Miller and Rick Dosssett each doubled for the losers. Miller got the other hit.
