

RECEIVES GREETINGS — Mrs. Mary E. Plass, 95 years young, was congratulated by her many friends on her birthday, June 17. She is presently visiting at the home of her son, LeRoy Plass.

Birthday Is Feted

On June 17 friends called at the LeRoy Plass home to greet his mother, Mrs. Mary E. Plass, who on that day celebrated her 95th birthday. She has been a frequent visitor in Klamath Falls and this year plans to remain with her son's family during the summer months.

Mrs. Plass believes her many years and continues to occupy her days making quilts, braiding rugs and doing other needlework. She was born Mary E. Hudson in 1868 near Erie, Kan., the daughter of a Union cavalry officer.

For her 17 grandchildren and 47 great-grandchildren, she recalls large herds of longhorn cattle being driven by her home from Texas to the Kansas railroad. Other stories tell of not-so-pleasant encounters with Indians about 1892 after she married Giles Plass and they moved to the frontier town of Pasco, Wash.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. Plass moved to Union County in Oregon. There, two daughters and four sons were born. In 1910 the family went to Walla Walla County. Following her husband's death, Mrs. Plass has resided mostly in Hermiston with extended visits among her children.

Coming from a distance to greet their grandmother on her birthday were Mrs. Dale Cheyne of Orange, Calif., Robert Plass, West Covina, Calif., and Mrs. Jerry Hollingsworth, Eugene, and their families.

Attend Reunion

TULELAKE — Mrs. Merton (Vera) Brown of Tulelake, combined the thrill of returning to her alma mater, Central Washington State College, at Ellensburg, Wash., for a 50th year reunion of her class, with renewal of a friendship that has spanned the Atlantic.

The June 7-8 reunion brought together 17 members of the class of 1913 and Mrs. Brown's college roommate, Mrs. Kenneth Heany of London, England.

Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Heany had planned a visit this summer at the Brown home which came at the time of the reunion of the class that studied together half a century ago.

The Browns and the Heanys drove to Washington, to be feted in red carpet fashion. Returning alumni were headquartered at the same hotel and marched together at the head of this year's class of 330 graduates. It was the first reunion for the class of 1913 since 1948.

On the social agenda was a tea and a banquet to which husbands and wives of the reunion group were invited.

The alumni visited old haunts on the campus that has grown from three buildings then to 55 today.

Mr. and Mrs. Heany continued a tour of the U.S. after leaving Ellensburg.

Guests Visit Rebekah Lodge

Canton Crater No. 7 and the Ladies Auxiliary Patriarch Militant were guests of honor when they paid a fraternal visit to Prosperity Rebekah Lodge, Thursday, evening, June 6. They were received and welcomed by Noble Grand Charlotte Anderson.

The charter was draped in memory of two recently departed sisters, Alice Hall and Jane Nancarrow, in an impressive ceremony. Virginia Ward and June Young were elected to become members by initiation and Florence Felt by transfer at the June 16 meeting.

Assembly president will make her official visit.

Lina Motschenbacher and Anna Bean, who joined the local lodge in 1913, were escorted to the center of the floor to receive their 50-year Veteran Jewels.

They were greeted and congratulated by Department Commandeer Brig. Gen. Herbert Munsell.

This year there have been three 50-year pins awarded. Minnie Robinson received hers earlier in the year.

Prosperity Lodge received third place for community service at the state assembly held last month in The Dalles, Naomi Fay, last year's chairman, received the award and presented it to the lodge at the June 6 meeting.

A recess was called to invite guests in for a program. First on the program was a skit depicting how Canton Crater and Ladies Auxiliary "may" have come into existence. Participating were Louetta Schortgen, Retha Kirby, Ruth Lawrence and Naomi Fay, dressed as young men, and E'Vaughn Theleman and Pearl Jenkins as young girls.

Sylvia Jones, auxiliary president, assisted by Helen Blanas, presented a comedy skit.

Pearl Jenkins, Nellie Burnett, Vera Fritsch and Bernice McCracken were presented gifts by the noble grand in appreciation for their assistance in cleaning the hall and dining room. Lois Kandra was not present to receive her gift. Bernice McCracken was also given a token of appreciation for arranging decorations and programs for the past six months.

Plans for the district convention June 18 are being made and guests are expected from Medford, Yreka, Weed and Alturas. Lodges participating in the convention are Bonanza, Merrill, Lakeview, Paisley and Klamath Falls.

Refreshments were served by Juanita Lundsten and her committee. Baskets of lilacs and snowballs decorated the room for the social hour.

The next meeting on June 18 will be a special meeting. The last regular meeting before summer recess will be June 20 and members are asked to "come as you are" and bring a sack lunch.

When you wear long white gloves to a formal dinner, remove them before you eat. Nothing looks sillier than a woman trying to handle a knife and fork with her gloves on.

Marriage Ceremony Solemnized In Chile

Nina Jean White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry O. White of Klamath Falls, was married May 11 in El Salvador Church in Chuquicamata, Chile, home of the bridegroom, Martin Robert Petterson.

The young people met while both attended Oregon Technical Institute. He received his degree in electronics last year.

Pink and white gladioli, russet and yellow chrysanthemums were a pretty background for the ceremony officiated by the Rev. Gonzalo Larrain.

Mrs. German Fehlandt, sister of the bridegroom, played organ music, accompanied on the violin by A. T. Lavery. Buenaventura Mora was soloist.

The bride as given in marriage by L. E. Bolich, who with Mrs. Bolich served as her sponsors.

For her marriage the bride chose a gown of ivory satin and lace. The fitted long sleeve bodice was trimmed with rhinestones and pearls. The full skirt with long train was enhanced with an inset of lace in the front panel. The elbow length illusion veil fell from a rhinestone and pearl star and she carried a sheaf of white carnations and gladioli arranged with ivy leaves and fern.

Carol Stupar, maid of honor, wore a short frock of pale green taffeta, fashioned with fitted bodice and bouffant skirt. A bandeau of pale green flowers and elbow length gloves completed her ensemble. Her bouquet was of deep pink carnations.

Flower girls Karen Nelson and Lucile Taylor, dressed in yellow and pink organdy, lace trimmed, carried small baskets of flowers. Juliet caps matched their dresses.

Kenneth Grenier was the ring bearer.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Petterson of Chuquicamata. He was attended as best man by his brother-in-law, German Fehlandt. Ushers were W. Hudson, William Bashor, ception was held in the Chilex Club. The bride's table was centered by a wedding cake in the form of a bride, dressed in pale pink and white spun sugar, made by Mrs. Mimi Reyes.

The Los Profesores orchestra played for dancing.

The bridal couple left later for a honeymoon in Azapa. They will make their home in Chuquicamata.

Church Rites Unite Couple

BLY — Bonnie June McKinney became the bride of Donald Leslie Biles in a double ring ceremony on June 8 at the First Christian Church in Klamath Falls.

The church was decorated with white and blue gladioli and white tapers. The Rev. Robert John performed the rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alva McKinney. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Biles, Klamath Falls.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father.

She wore a ballerina length gown of white lace with a white satin sash. The shoulder veil of white net was attached to a crown of pearls. She carried a white Bible with satin streamers centered by a white orchid.

Mrs. Shirley Olson, matron of honor, wore a baby blue organdy gown with a corsage of pink roses. Small blue flowers decorated her blue net veil.

Best man for the occasion was the bride's brother, Mickey McKinney.

Cecil Nicholson and Gary Howton seated the wedding guests. Mrs. Perry was the organist and soloists Thomas Davis and Faith Perry sang "I Love You Truly," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

A reception was held in the church social hall immediately after the ceremony.

The three tier wedding cake was decorated with white roses and bells with the traditional bride and bridegroom on the top.

The newlyweds both attended Klamath Union High School. They will reside in Bly where he is employed by the Loveness Lumber Company.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Bart Elliot and sons, Marvin and Bill, John Dillavou, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Biles, Mr. and Mrs.
