Burleson Sets New AAU Record In Beating Beatty In Mile Run

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Dyrol Burleson, running in the shadow of Jim Beatty ever since he upset America's premier mile runner in the National AAU track and field championships two years ago, was king once again Saturday night.

The 23-year-old insurance salesman of Cottage Grove, Ore., shattered the meet record in the 75th annual meet, coming from fourth place to lead four sub-four-minute milers to the tape in 3:56.7.

However, because of business commitments, Burleson said he was unable to compete against Russia next month.

Burleson's time topped the 3:57.9 established by Beatty of the Los Angeles Track Club last year. Beatty, who has been bothered by a bad left knee finished a disappointing fourth.

O'Hara Takes Second
Runnerup spot went to Tom O'Hara, 20-year-old junior from Loyola of Chicago, 3:56.9. Cary Weisger, Marine first lieutenant was third in 3:58.5. Beatty, who has been undergoing treatment on his knee, followed in 3:59.2.

There were several outstanding performances in the championship's diamond jubilee.

Ullis Williams of the Southern California Striders rallied in the final 10 yards to take his second straight 440-yard dash in 0:45.8 matching the record first set by Eddie Southern in 1958.

In winning last year, Williams, a sophomore at Arizona State University, tied the record for the first time.

Henry Carr of the Phoenix Olympic Club topped the listed world record of 20.5 in the 220, but it was disallowed because of too much wind.

Paul Drayton of the Philadelphia Pioneer Club, co-holder of the record on the books of 20.5, was runnerup with the same time as Carr, who has a pending world mark of 20.3.

Silverster Takes Discus
Other winners were: Pat Clohesy, an Australian from the Texas Olympic Club, in the three-mile run in 13:40.4; Kent Floerke, of the Kansas City Olympic Club, in the triple jump with a leap of 51-7 1/2; Jay Silverster, of Tremont, Utah, with a toss of 196-11 1/2 in the discus; Rex Cawley of the Pasadena A.A.

in the 440-yard hurdles in 0:50.4. Also, Pat Traynor of Villanova in the 3,000-meter steeplechase in 8:51.2; Al Hall of the New York A.C. retained his hammer throw crown at 214-11; and Gene Johnson of the Santa Clara Youth Village copped the high jump after a jump-off with Paul Stuber of the Emerald Empire A.A., both were tied, at 7-feet.

The California Striders, who lost the team title last year after a five-year reign, started a new streak winning with 83 points. Hall, representing the New York Athletic Club said: "I would have thrown a little harder if he (Connolly) was here."

Hall's toss was below his winning 219.11 last year.

Connolly, currently teaching in Finland, had planned to enter the two-day meet to qualify athletes for the team against Russia. His world mark is 231-10 which is also the American record, and he holds the meet mark of 225-4.

There was a possibility that Connolly will still be selected for the four-day meet tour in Moscow starting July 20. The AAU Track and Field Committee was on record that outstanding athletes may still be chosen on the basis of past performances.

Hall's nearest opponent was George Frenn of the Pasadena Athletic Club at 198-10, followed by Ed Burke of the Santa Clara Youth Village, 194-2.

Bill Crothers of Canada equaled the American record of 1:46.8 in winning the 880-yard finals. Since Crothers is ineligible for the trip to Europe, Morgan Groth of Oregon State, third in 1:47.5 will get the nod for the second spot on the trip to Moscow. Crothers finished three yards ahead of Jim Dupree of Los Angeles striders.

Speedy Bo Hayes, Florida A&M sprinter showed the way in last night's seven finals events with a 0:09.1 world record in the 100-yard dash, and Brian Sternberg of the University of Washington cleared 16 feet, 4 inches to win the pole vault finals.

Other trial winners in preparation for the eight-man 440-yard hurdle race included Jim Miller, University of Colorado, 51.8; Jim Allen, Washington State, 51.4; Chris Stauffer, District of Columbia AAU, 51.3; Jorg Neumann of Germany, 51.6 and Russ Rogers, Grand Street (N.E.) Boys Club, 51.7.

PALMER TEES OFF — Arnold Palmer of Ligonier, Pa., tees off in the third round of the U.S. Open at The Country Club in Brookline, Mass. He finished the grueling 36-hole final round in a three-way tie with Julius Boros and young Jacky Cupit. The three were in a playoff today for the title.

Old Pros Arnie, Julius In Rally

BROOKLINE, Mass. (UPI) — Arnold Palmer and Julius Boros, making a late charge with tournament-toughened nerves, collared young Jacky Cupit on the last two holes Saturday for a three-way tie in the U.S. Open golf championship.

The 23-year-old Cupit started the final 18-holes at wind-swept Country Club of Brookline with a one shot lead over Palmer and three strokes on Boros.

But nerves steadied by the grind of years of competition made the difference as Boros, the Open champion in 1952, and Palmer, the winner in 1960, collared him in the final few holes to send it into a three-way tie and a playoff at 2 p.m. EDT Sunday.

Boros waded through this windy day, with gusts up to 45 miles per hour, with closing rounds of 76-72 for a nine over par total of 293. But he sat helplessly in the clubhouse as Cupit seemed headed for victory.

Tied Momentarily

Palmer went eight over par on the 16th hole with a 30 foot birdie putt that for 30 seconds tied him with Cupit, who was eight over playing the 15th. But young Jacky, on the heels of a gigantic roar from "Arnie's army," stepped up and chipped into the cup for a birdie three.

It looked like it was all over when Palmer missed a three-foot putt on the 17th hole to fall two shots back of Cupit. But then young Jacky took the pipe.

On the 17th he drove his tee shot to the edge of a trap, was short of the green with his second, knocked his third over the green and had to settle for a double bogey six.

Boros was happy now, his poker face splitting into a grin. For now both Palmer and Cupit had to par the tough 18th to tie him.

Palmer had it rough. He needed a five footer. And they could hear the gallery in downtown Boston when he knocked it home for closing rounds of 77-74 which tied him with Boros.

That's when Cupit met the test, too. He had all but thrown it away when he sprayed his drive into the rough on the 18th. But the Texas kid went for it and rapped his approach straight to the green and only 15 feet from the pin.

Now he still could pull it out but it wasn't in the golfing cards. His putt missed by three inches — and the Open had its first three-man playoff since 1950 at Merion among George Fazio, Lloyd Mangrum and Ben Hogan.

Cupit, one of five pro golfing brothers, had that $16,000 in his pocket until that heart-breaking double bogey on the 17th and finished the day with a 76-75 for the 293 that swept him into the tie with Boros and Palmer.

Wind Took Its Toll

The wind was sheer murder when coupled with the ruggedness of the course, Jay Hebert shot an 83 in the morning round and called it "The worst round I've ever played, including when I was a kid." Big George Bayer clouted out an 81-80 in his two rounds. Veteran Bob Gajda, first round leader with a 69, skied to 84-80 down the stretch. Big Mike Souchak hammered out a morning 82 and Tommy Aaron breathed fire with a 42-49-91 in the morning.

So actually, while not sensational, those triple- tie scores of 293 were highly satisfactory — at least to Boros and Palmer.

Just one shot back of them came gray-haired Paul Hareney, disappointed once again with a 73-73 for 294. Because the native New Englander finished second when he lost a playoff to Palmer on the first extra hole in last week's Thunderbird and had come home from his club job in California with extremely high hopes.

Dan Kern Top Hitter

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI)—Dan Kern, Yakima, is the muscle man of the Northwest League according to the latest statistics.

Kern leads the loop in hitting with a .361 average in games through June 18 and has also powered the most homers, 19. Kern also leads the loop in total bases with 147.

Hoss Bowlin of Lewiston also leads in three departments. He has scored the most runs, 54, has the most doubles, 17, and leads in walks with 43.

Ernie Folt, Tri-City, leads in hits with 81 and a teammate, Charlie Strange, leads in runs batted in with 57. Vic Pagel, Salem, leads in stolen bases with 17 and his teammate, Roy Gleason, has fanned the most times, 67.

Three hurlers, Dave Eilers, Yakima, Ron Tompkins, Lewiston, and Gary Sanossian, Lewiston, are tied for victories with seven each and Tompkins leads in strikeouts with 106. He has also pitched the most innings, 83, and is tied with two others for the most complete games at six.

Bill Ballou of Wenatchee has the best earned run average at 1.89 and Andy Rubiotta, Eugene, has walked a high of 53 men.

Medo-Bels, Dunsmuir Meet Today

The Klamath Falls Medo-Bels will be at Dunsmuir today to take part in the Railroad Days fete and play the Dunsmuir team in an exhibition game at 2 p.m. The same two clubs met Saturday night in a Northern League game which counted in the standings.

Playing Manager Ron Owings had a lineup Saturday which is the probable lineup today. He will go with Dean Dunsmuir at first, Dave Sigard at second, Sherm Allen or Bob Yunk at short, Don Dexter at third, John Blanchi, Blake Griggs and Ray Taylor in the outfield. Owings will be behind the plate himself if Dave Saks isn't available.

He used Jim Keller in Saturday's game so it is likely that Griggs may open on the mound today with Keller in the outfield. Bill Mansfield could be ready for duty. Other players who could see action are Don Gredel and Marv Edwards.

Chances Slim For Snell

EUGENE (UPI)—Chance of the two New Zealand distance aces, Peter Snell and Murray Halberg, appearing in the Oregon AAU Track and Field Championships July 3-4 are slim.

Oregon Athletic Director Leo Harris announced Friday he had received no news from the New Zealanders regarding their appeal of a New Zealand AAU decision not to allow Snell to run out of the country again this year.

Meanwhile, meet director Bob Newland announced the entries of two AAU and two NCAA champions.

Dave Davis, AAU shot put winner, and AAU broad jump champion Ralph Boston told Newland Friday in St. Louis that they will be at Eugene. NCAA high jump champion Lew Hoyt and distance king Julio Marin of Southern California also have submitted entries.

Cary Weisger, Dyrol Burleson, Morgan Groth and Jim Grelle will compete in the mile.

Preliminaries will be the evening of July 3 with all main events scheduled for July 4.

Navigation season of the St. Lawrence Seaway in 1961 was from April 15 to Dec. 2, according to the Britannica Book of the Year.

NEW WORLD RECORD — Bob Hayes does the 100-yard dash in 9.1 seconds for a new world record in the 75th annual National AAU Track and Field Championships in St. Louis Friday night. Hayes, from Florida A&M, performed the feat twice in the semifinal and the finals, but the wind was too much in the finals and the second time does not count.

Hawks To Host Medford Today

The Klamath Falcons, leading the Southern Division American Legion with a 4-1 record, will get a rugged test today when they travel to Grants Pass to take on that team, twice conqueror of Medford, in a league game while the Klamath Hawks, trying to get back into contention, will host the Medford team at Gem Stadium at 1 p.m.

The Hawks met Grants Pass at Grants Pass Saturday night.

Coach John Paxton will go with his usual lineup against the pesky Grants Pass team. The Falcons will carry a slight favorite's role into this game. Rich Jackson is the probable starter on the mound for the Falcons. Jay Paxton will be behind the plate. John Gray at first, Marv Yunk at second, LeVoy Young at shortstop, John Parisotto at third, Larry Binney, Mike Kitching and Dave Johnson in the outfield. Lanny Guyer, at second, and Larry Smith, in the outfield, are probable reserves which will see action for the Falcons.

The Falcons probably will face the offerings of Jerry McCormick who whipped the Medford team, 10-2. The Klamath Union Pelicans, virtually the same team as the Falcons, whipped McCormick and Grants Pass in the high school season, 6-2. Others who may see action are Rich Wolney, Don Summers, Pete Hardin, Lyman Kraisacker and others. Gary Reddick, the Grants Pass outfielder, recently signed a contract with the Los Angeles Dodgers and will be missing.

Coach Irv Whitt has been having trouble finding the winning combination with his Hawks against the rugged competition. Medford can come with one of the finest pitchers in the state against the Hawks, St. Young, one of the State All-Stars. Bill Enyart also may get the starting nod.

Coach Whitt probably will go with either Tom Pilgrim or Steve Young. He will have either Roger Bartlett or Vern Petrick behind the plate, Bob Woldt at first, Jon Cuming at second, Curt Coleman at short or third with Max Cunningham. Outfielders could include Tom Schiff, Rich Bath and Pilgrim if he doesn't pitch or Alan Kenyon.

The Klamath Hawks rally in the seventh inning fell one run shy at Gem Stadium Saturday night as the Hawks dropped a 4-3 defeat to the Grants Pass team from Grants Pass, 6-3.

The victory gave the Grants Pass team a 4-1 record and a temporary tie with the Klamath Falcons for first place. The two teams meet today in Grants Pass, however, and the lead will be on the line. The loss left the Hawks with a 2-3 record in the Southern Division of the American Legion.

It was a heartbreaking loss for the Hawks because they outthrew the visitors and had two less errors. It was the very timely hitting of the Mack Ford players which brought about the victory.

Winning pitcher Jerry McCormick whiffed 10 Hawk players while loser Steve Young, a youngster getting experience the tough way, struck out six of the opponents.

Each team went down in order in the first inning. Grants Pass broke out of the tie with a big four-run outburst in the second frame. Catcher Bob Peters led off with a walk. Mack Ford first-sacker Don Summers then laced a triple to score Peters. Summers came in later after McCormick had been put on first by being hit by a pitch. McCormick moved to second on a wild pitch which scored Summers. Young whiffed John Blanchard but gave up another triple to centerfielder

Larry Forsgren to plate McCormick. Pete Hardin ground out to Young and Forsgren was held at third, but to no avail because shortstop Rich Wolney singled through the box to score Forsgren with the fourth run. After walking Lyman Kraisacker, Young struck out third baseman Bill Standley for the third out.

The Hawks got two runners on base in the second in the persons of Al Kenyon and catcher Vern Petrick, but they didn't score. Mike Spiker reached second in the third but died there.

The Klamath team finally put together a run-producing rally in the bottom of the fourth. With one out, Kenyon drew a walk. He moved to second on Bob Woldt's hit ball which was error on by Wolney. Petrick's grounder put Kenyon out at third. With Woldt and Petrick on base, Young aided his own cause by slamming a double to score the Hawk catcher and first baseman with the first two runs.

The rally apparently left the Hawks somewhat flat because the Mack Fords stormed right back to tally their final two runs. After one was out, Kraisacker singled and Standley singled right behind him. Peters' ground - out to Young moved the runners to second and third and they scored on Summers' single.

The Hawks couldn't push any

Big Sky Loop Interested In Post-Season Bowl Games

BOZEMAN (UPI)—The Big Sky Conference is interested in post-season bowl games for its football champion. League Commissioner Jack Friel said Saturday at the conclusion of a two-day conference meeting.

"It would be presumptuous of us to approach other conferences for a possible bowl tie-up at the present time," said Friel. "However, if any possibilities look good to us, we'll be interested."

The new commissioner, basketball coach at Washington State for 20 years, also discussed the possibility of a pre-season basketball tournament for league members. It would be necessary to invite two guest teams to make up an eight-team field.

"It's possible that something can be organized after the conference gets on its feet," Friel said.

"Tournaments of this type have been highly successful."

Friel says he is pleased by the operating code adopted by conference officials Saturday. "It places the primary responsibility for the enforcement of the code upon individual institutions and I think that's where it belongs," he said.

Friel predicted the conference would have excellent competitive balance and believes it now needs only time to establish itself.

Friel said he was "pleased by the cooperative spirit of the people at the meeting and by their sincere efforts to get the league underway."

They also adopted conference football and basketball schedules through 1970 and approved a North-South baseball playoff beginning next spring.

Constituting the Northern Baseball Division will be Idaho, Gonzaga and Montana. The Southern Division will consist of Montana State, Idaho State and Weber. Divisional winners will meet at Missoula in a best 2-of-3 series for the league championship.

All policies relative to grant-in-aid scholarships were finalized Saturday.

These dates and sites for championship events during the 1963-64 school year were announced: Cross-Country, Nov. 9, Moscow, skiing, March 1-2, Bozeman; wrestling, March 14, Bozeman; swimming, March 21, Ogden; track and field, golf, tennis and baseball, May 15-18, Missoula.

Doug Olson Cops Junior Golf

Junior Golf

EUGENE (UPI)—Doug Olson of Medford overwhelmed Dave Hamaker of Eugene 10 and 9 to win the junior division title in the Oregon Golf Association junior tournament Friday.

Olson, a 16-year-old taking his first crack at the junior crown, took a 7 up lead by firing a six-under-par 66 in the first 18 holes of the 36-hole finals.

Eddie Morris of San Diego won the boys' division championship and Peggy Conley of Spokane captured the girls' division title.

Morris defeated David Glenz of Coos Bay 1 up and Miss Conley topped Mary Wolfe of Portland 6 and 5 in the finals.

In the pee wee and the pee wee girls' finals, Wayne Laurila of Coos Bay won over Reid Morrison of Klamath Falls 5 and 4 and Patty Jensen of Portland got past Stacey Young of Lake Oswego 3 and 2.
