

Bonds Get Approval

A bill passed by the legislature and signed by the governor earlier this month provides the machinery for counties to sell bonds for street improvements under the Bancroft Bonding act, which became law two years ago.

Although the Bancroft act became law under the previous legislature, it did not specify provisions for the selling of bonds and, therefore, did not become effective until this month when the new amendments (Senate Bill 421) to the law were passed, according to Klamath County Treasurer Eva Cook.

The amendments to the Bancroft bill was the idea of Mrs. Cook, who was assisted by the County Engineer's Department and received the endorsement of the Association of Oregon Counties. The measure was introduced to the legislature by Sen. Harry Bolvin and Rep. George Pflieger and was read to the legislators for the first time in April 17.

Under the law now in effect, the county is authorized to sell bonds for street improvement department may be reimbursed immediately after the work is completed, Mrs. Cook said.

Under the former plan, property owners paid for their street assessment work in monthly installments and it was sometimes years before the county road department was paid in full for one street project.

Property owners will continue to pay for this work in monthly installments, if they choose, but they will do so through a bonding company.

SAVINGS BOND QUOTA TOPPED
Klamath Falls has gone over its Savings Bonds quota. The sales at the end of the sixth week rose to a high of $67,350, which puts Klamath Falls well over its quota.

Klamath Falls thus becomes the 11th city in the state of Oregon to reach its assigned dollar quota. Local Savings Bonds leaders have been congratulated by State Chairman Thomas S. Pridoux of the Oregon Savings Bonds Committee of this accomplishment.

Klamath Falls City Chairman Myron Shannon, manager of the South Sixth Street Branch of the First National Bank of Oregon said, "We have a good chance to do something that will get Klamath Falls in the headlines. If our people continue to buy E and H Bonds the way they have been, there is a strong possibility that we can end up with the highest percentage of quota of any city in Oregon. That's a real challenge, and I hope we can meet it."
