

Rickover Wins Academy Battle

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice adm. Hyman G. Rickover has won another victory in his battle to reform the faculty at the U.S. Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md. But the battle is two years old, and it doesn't appear that anything sudden or sensational will happen at the 118-year-old Academy. Rickover, builder of nuclear submarines who became interested in education, attacked the Academy in mid-1961. He asked for a civilian dean and civilian professors in all subjects except naval science. Then Navy Secretary John B. Connally, who later was elected governor of Texas, fully supported him. So did Connally's successor, Navy Secretary Fred Korth. But there is a lot of tradition involved and matters have moved slowly. The latest development was the naming of Dr. Arthur Bernard Drought of Marquette University to be "academic dean, pro temporary" at the Academy under a one-year contract.

Korth said Drought's appointment was "one of a series of steps being taken by the Academy to strengthen and improve its educational program." Rear Adm. Charles C. Kirkpatrick, superintendent at Annapolis, described Drought as a "distinguished educator," and said: "We feel that with his experience and background, he will materially assist and guide us to the correct decisions necessary to properly establish the permanent civilian academic dean at the Naval Academy."

INDIAN OIL

Oil first was discovered in the United States near Cuba, N.Y., in 1627. Seneca Indians led a Franciscan missionary to the site. The Indians used the crude petroleum that bubbled up in a spring for medicine and as a paint base.

Farm Credit Men Visitors

F. Vernon Wright, Farm Credit Administration, deputy governor and director, Short Term Credit Service, Washington, D.C., Robert Lister, director of the National Farm Credit Board and well-known livestock operator near Prineville, with Herbert Barker, president of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Berkeley, Calif., were Sunday visitors in Klamath Falls.

They visited the office of the Klamath Production Credit Association and were taken by secretary-treasurer Don Krider to see the agricultural area of the Basin. A stop was made at the ranch of Murel Long, president of PCA.

The visitors were greatly impressed with the entire Basin and the crops that this spring are later than usual due to cool weather. Following a dinner at the Winema Hotel on their return, the party left for a Berkeley conference. With them at dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Krider, Mr. and Mrs. Long, Randall Pope, vice president of PCA, and Mrs. Pope and Irven Patton, manager of the Medford PCA office.

FIRST AIR SERVICE

During the siege of Paris in 1870, the French employed balloons to transport mail and official personnel to points as far away as Norway. This was the first known instance of the successful use of aircraft for the carriage of passengers and mail to a predetermined destination, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

'AU-H2O' Not A Noise; Stands For Barry Goldwater

The Lighter Side
By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—At first glance, "AU-H2O" looks like the noise you make when you sneeze. Actually, however, it is a chemical symbol, and by this time next year it may be almost as familiar to the American public as I.S. MFT.

Police Close Two Cases

City police closed two of their recent cases when two runaway boys returned home Tuesday and a car that was reported stolen was found by the owner who remembered where he had parked it.

The two teen-age boys returned to their homes Tuesday after they were reported missing Sunday night. Bob H. Dickey, 710 North Eleventh Street, found his car Monday after he had reported it stolen Sunday night. Police said he apparently found it where he left it late Saturday night.

Volcano Erupts

JAKARTA, Indonesia (UPI)—Antara, the official Indonesian news agency, said today that Mount Buntu Karawa in the central Celebes erupted violently on June 6 and has been spewing lava ever since. Four people were killed and six injured in a lava-destroyed village six miles away. Earlier this year Gunung Agung erupted, killing more than 1,500 people.

In chemistry, AU-H2O stands for Goldwater. In politics, what it stands for depends on where you stand. And in the novelty business, it stands for money.

At the moment, AU-H2O is about the best selling item in the political campaign material line. In fact, it is about the only item that is selling at the moment.

Or so I was told by Earl Butler, a big button man from Chicago.

An Exhibitor Butler's firm, the Green Duck Co., is one of the exhibitors showing their wares at a specialty advertising guild display here this week.

I stopped by the exhibit after receiving a press release reporting that it would offer a preview of the buttons, badges and other political advertising novelties being created for the 1964 campaign. I must say, however, that in some respects it was more like a review than a preview. Butler's booth, for instance, displayed a number of "Dick and Pat" buttons.

"Good Heavens!" I said. "Don't tell me they haven't given up yet." Butler hastily assured me that he was not anticipating a heavy demand for Nixon buttons next year.

Goldwater Crowd Active Except for the Goldwater crowd, he said, the supporters of prospective presidential candidates thus far have ordered very little campaign material.

Therefore, in order to display a complete line of the types of material he has available, he was obliged to borrow a few samples from the archives.

Most of the campaign gimmicks displayed at the exhibit would be familiar to the average voter, but for lapel pins and auto bumper stickers there is a shiny new material called "refraction grating" that is guaranteed to attract attention.

One booth featured shopping bags imprinted with advertising and political slogans, one of which read "Be Happy, Go Rocky!" I am not certain, however, that it was intended for the '64 campaign.

Lodges Plan Card Party

LAKEVIEW — The Odd Fellow and Rebekah Lodges of Lakeview will sponsor a benefit pinochle and canasta card party in the 100F Hall on June 28 at 8 p.m. The cost will be 50 cents per person, with prizes awarded to the high scorers. The public is invited.

Following the evening of play, coffee and ice cream will be served by the Odd Fellows, and the Rebekah members will serve sandwiches. The proceeds will be donated to a sight-saving fund for the aged.

Another company displayed mally appear. The lettering on neckties with political labels in one tie read "A Solid Gold Decision as to which candidate the place where gravity spots nor-nosaur."
