

Williams' Relief Work Gives Yankees 7-5 Win

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

Stan Williams has a new pitch, and it's no coincidence that the New York Yankees' America League rivals have that sinking feeling.

The erstwhile fireballer, acquired in a winter trade with the Los Angeles Dodgers, turned in 4 2-3 innings of brilliant one-hit relief pitching Monday night and then revealed that he has added a pitch and revamped his entire pitching style.

"I decided I needed a new pitch," said Williams, whose 3.49 earned run average before Monday night's game and qualified him as the Yankees' biggest disappointment of the season. "And so I developed a sinker by modifying my motion. Instead of throwing full overhand, I now come around three-quarter and the ball naturally comes in low and sinks."

The 6-foot, 4-inch, 230-pound right-hander's near-perfect relief job gave the Yankees a 7-5 victory over the Boston Red Sox and enabled them to open up a 2½-game lead in the AL. It means that the Yankees are edging slightly away from the field for the first time this season—and, if you're an American League fan, you're beginning to get a sinking feeling in your stomach.

Pacific Coast Leaders Fall To Second Place Monday

By CHARLES H. WILSON JR.
United Press International

In the world of baseball, Monday is traditionally an off-day reserved for rest or travel.

But Monday was anything but relaxing and uneventful in the Pacific Coast League. Eight teams played a total of five games and, when the dust had settled, the league's two division leaders found themselves in second place.

The crucial games were played at Dallas-Ft. Worth where the Spokane Indians swept a double-header from the Rangers by identical 4-2 scores.

The twin defeats, combined with Oklahoma City's 5-2 victory over Portland, dropped the Rangers behind the 69ers in the PCL's Southern Division.

And Spokane's two victories put

U.S. Matmen Must Rally In Tourney

HAELSINBORG, Sweden (UPI)—The United States today faced the grim task of climbing off the mat in the world Greco-Roman wrestling championships after getting off to a disastrous start in Monday's opening matches.

Three of America's 1963 Pan-American titleholders lost their first-round bouts. Flyweight Andy Fitch of New York, welterweight Dennis Fitzgerald, a halfback on the University of Michigan football team, and light heavyweight Jim Ferguson of San Francisco were out-pointed by European opponents.

Lightweight Ben Northrup managed a draw with H. Singel of Switzerland in his opening match, and was held to another draw by Denmark's Svend Skrydstrup in the second round.

Featherweight Bobby Douglas of West Liberty State provided the Yanks with their first glimpse of victory when he decisively defeated Michele Thoma of Italy, but this success was only momentary as Douglas later lost a second-round match to Russia's Gennady Sapunov.

Douglas suffered a rib injury against the Russian and was forced to drop out of the meet. Even more disheartening to America's hopes was the loss of heavyweight Dave Auble of Ithaca, N.Y. He was eliminated before the meet even started when he failed to make the 125-pound limit at the morning weigh-in.

manager Ralph Houk compared the big pitcher's new delivery with Don Drysdale's. Drysdale throws full overhand but his fast ball comes in low and sinks. Williams claims he is getting the same result with a slightly modified motion.

Williams made it a gala night for himself when he also delivered a 400-foot, fifth-inning triple that drove in the tie-breaking run and then scored the insurance run on Tony Kubek's third single of the game.

Kubek and Clete Boyer had three hits each. Phil Linz had four and Joe Pepitone had two to give the Yankee infield a total of 12 hits in the Yankees' 17-hit attack. Kubek and Boyer each made a brilliant play in the field and right-fielder Roger Maris made an eye-popping catch on Gary Geiger in the seventh inning as the world champions threw up a magnificent defense behind starter Jim Bouton and Williams.

The victory squared Williams' season record at 3-3 and, according to Houk, was "a terrific life for him." In addition to his troubles with AL opposition, Williams had turned in an utterly miserable performance in the Yankees' "prestige" exhibition game with the New York Mets June 20.

A's Beat Orioles

Reliever John Wyatt retired Jim Gentile and Boog Powell with the tying runs aboard in the last of the ninth inning to preserve the Kansas City Athletics' 6-4 victory over the Baltimore Orioles in the only other AL game of the day or night.

Norm Siebern's double was the key blow of a three-run Kansas City rally in the first inning. Jerry Lampe singled home a run in the third and Wayne Causey homered in the fourth. Bob Johnson had a single and a double for the Orioles.

In the National League, the Cincinnati Reds beat the San Francisco Giants, 4-3, the Philadelphia Phillies won, 8-1, after a 2-1 loss to the Pittsburgh Pirates, the Los Angeles Dodgers topped the Milwaukee Braves, 2-1, and the Houston Colts defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 4-3, in 11 innings.

the Indians atop the Northern Division, a half-game ahead of Tacoma which dropped a 2-0 decision to Hawaii.

In the only non-significant game played, Bill Cowan drove in all five Salt Lake City runs in the ninth and tenth innings to give the Bees a come-from-behind, extra-inning victory over San Diego. Seattle and Denver stuck to tradition and enjoyed an off-day.

Late-inning rallies played a role in both Spokane victories. The Indians put together a scratch hit, three walks and an error in the sixth inning of the opener for two runs and the winning margin.

Spokane entered the eighth inning of the nightcap trailing 2-1. But an error and a triple by Dick Berardino pulled the Indians even in the eighth and Al Ferrara's bases-empty home run sparked the winning two-run rally in the ninth.

Spokane's ace relief pitcher Ken Roe worked both games and preserved victories for starter Howie Red in the opener and for starter Phil Ortega in the nightcap. Carroll Hardy wielded the big bat for Oklahoma City as the surging 89ers picked up their fifth consecutive victory. Hardy had a home run, two singles and three RBIs in four trips.

Perfect Night

Right-hander Dave Giusti, meanwhile, was holding Portland to six hits and striking out 12 batters. Giusti also had a perfect night at the plate with three hits and one run batted in.

Hawaii put relief pitcher Hal Griggs in a starting role, and Griggs combined with Bob Duliba to blank Tacoma on just three hits. Duliba was called from the bullpen in the seventh with two outs when the Giants staged their only threat on a single by Tim Talton, a wild pitch and an error.

Griggs had given the Islanders a 1-0 lead with a run-producing double in the second inning. Hawaii picked up an insurance run in the ninth on an error, a sacrifice bunt and Ken Hunt's single.

Salt Lake City entered the ninth inning at San Diego trailing 5-2 when Cowan decided to go to work. He blasted a three-run homer to send the game into extra innings and then came through with a bases-loaded double in the tenth inning for the margin of victory.

ARNIE BLASTS OUT — Arnold Palmer blasts out of a sand trap on Hole 16 during the playoff of the $110,000 Cleveland Open Golf Tournament at Orange Village, Ohio. Palmer went on to win as he shot a four-under-par 67 and got a first prize check for $22,000. — UPI Telephoto

Palmer Defeats Pair For Crown

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)—Arnold Palmer, with a new money record of $85,545 in the bank, today planned a "vacation" during which he will shoot for his third straight British Open golf championship.

"I guess I've proved I could come back," said the guy who apparently had never been away from the manner in which he ripped Tony Lema and Tommy Aaron in a playoff for the $22,000 top money in the $110,000 Cleveland Open golf championship.

He was the Palmer of old as he fired a four-under-par 32-35-67, despite a nonchalant bogey on the final hole, to win by three unpressed shots and break his all-time money record of $81,448, which he set last year.

Whatever he wins in the British Open next week will not count in the "official" money winning records kept by the Professional Golfers Association.

But Palmer doesn't mind, for in the last three weeks, and all of them playoffs, he has picked up $54,000. That doesn't include the $1,500 bonus he received in the U.S. Open playoff or the approximately $3,000 he received as his share of the gate receipts in Monday's playoff over the sun-baked, hot and humid Beechmont Country Club course.

Best All Year

"From tee to green, I played the best I have all year," said Palmer, who had taken four weeks off the tour to rest after a sorry showing in the Colonial at Fort Worth.

That left some people wondering if perhaps Arnie's innumerable outside activities hadn't caught up with his game.

"I never was worried about my game—all I thought I needed was a little rest," Palmer said. "I took that rest—and well, you can see what has happened."

What happened was:

He tied with Paul Harney in the $100,000 Thunderbolt tourney three weeks ago and beat him on the first hole of a sudden death playoff for the $25,000 first money.

He tied Julius Boros and Jacky Cupit for the U.S. Open championship the following week, and lost to Boros in a playoff, picking up $7,000.

Then he tied Lema and Aaron and beat them in Monday's playoff for that big $22,000 payoff.

Plans More Tourneys

After the British Open Palmer plans to compete in 5 to 10 more tournaments, but he refused to speculate on his chances of topping the $100,000 money mark.

"I never go into a tournament without thinking I'm going to win it," Palmer said. "But when you have such fine young players as Lema and Aaron in there shooting against you, the going is tough."

"I had to be at my best to beat them—and I was. But I'll sure be disappointed if both Tony and Tommy don't keep going. I've been especially close to Lema. We roomed together when I won the Mobile Open in 1960 and you just can't believe how much he has improved since then."

Lema paid tribute to Palmer.

"All of us who play golf for a living owe an awful lot to Arnie," said Lema. "He has made the game what it is for us today. He brings out the crowds, and that means money. And in addition to being a great golfer, he's a great guy."

Lema wound up with a 35-35-70 and Aaron with a 37-33-70. They split the second and third place money and received $8,500 each—not counting their cut of the gate receipts.

Don Fullmer Tests Bob Horn

EUGENE (UPI)—Middleweight Don Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, tests unbeaten Bobby Horn of Eugene in a 10-round middleweight fight here Wednesday night.

The bout was postponed from last Friday because of a slight injury that slowed Horn's training.

Hawks Snap Losing Streak With 8-4 Win Over Bend

The Klamath Hawks broke a long losing streak at Bend Monday night by taking a non-conference 8-4 victory over the Bend American Legion nine behind the brilliant four-hit pitching job of Marv Cunningham.

The Hawks had a four-game losing skid going after beating rival Tri-City last week. Cunningham was marvelous for the Hawks in allowing only one hit in the first eight innings before giving up three runs and three hits in the ninth and final inning. He whiffed an amazing 14 in the process of winning.

The winners opened with a run in the first frame. With one out Rich Bath singled and moved to third on an error on Cunningham's hit ball which placed him on second. He scored on a passed ball.

With Cunningham mowing the Bend players down with virtual ease, the Hawks put the game on ice in the second inning. First baseman Bob Woldt led things off for the Hawks by racing to first on an error by the Bend pitcher, Steve Young, filling in at short while Cunningham was handling the pitching chores, singled to send Woldt scampering to third. He tallied when third sacker Mike Spiker singled and sent Young to third. Bath hit his second single and tallied Young. Cunningham walked and Al Kenyon singled to score both Spiker and Bath with the fourth and fifth tallies.

The Hawks tallied another single run in the fourth when, with one out, Bath reached first on a fielder's choice which chopped single and scored when Woldt sent a towering triple deep to the outfield. He died on third, however, as the next three Hawk batters went down in order on strikeouts and pop-ups.

The home team got its first run in the bottom of the sixth. Barnes reached first on an error and advanced on a ground out to third base. He scored on a fly ball.

The final run came in the seventh. Tom Schiff led off with a single and scored when Woldt sent a towering triple deep to the outfield. He died on third, however, as the next three Hawk batters went down in order on strikeouts and pop-ups.

fact the Colts don't score many runs and he's had to battle for his wins in extra innings. The Colts have won six of their last seven extra-inning games and Woodeshick has been the winning pitcher in every one of them.

Bill White doubled hom the tying run against Woodeshick in the ninth Monday night but then Hal stopped the Cardinals cold and Colts finally won out in the 11th on Rusty Staub's two-out single which scored Ernie Fazio. Fazio led off the 11th with a bunt single and a move to second on Johnny Temple's sacrifice.

The Dodgers moved to within a half-game of the Cardinals when they beat the Milwaukee Braves, 2-1, the Cincinnati Reds defeated the San Francisco Giants, 4-3, and the Philadelphia Phillies scored an 8-1 victory after losing to the Pittsburgh Pirates, 2-1, in other NL action.

In the American League, the New York Yankees widened their first-place lead to 2½ games with a 7-5 decision over the Boston Red Sox and the Kansas City

Athletics topped the Baltimore Orioles, 6-4.

Maury Wills singled, stole second for his 19th theft of the season and scored the winning run for the Dodgers on pinchhitter Wally Moon's double. Johnny Podres pitched a five-hitter and struck out 12 to register his fifth win of the season. Frank Howard homered for the Dodgers and Gene Oliver connected for the Braves.

Home runs by Tommy Harper and Ken Walters paved the way for Cincinnati's Jim Maloney to score his 12th victory against three defeats. Ed Bailey homered for the Giants, but Billy O'Dell suffered his fourth loss compared with 10 wins.

Don Cardwell pitched a four-hitter and struck out eight to win his fourth game for the Pirates when Bill Virdon singled home Ron Brand with two out in the ninth inning. The Phillies rebounded behind the four-hit pitching of Cal McLish (7-4) and an 11-hit attack paced by Johnny Callison and Tony Gonzalez, who stroked three hits apiece, to take the nightcap.
