18-Year-Old Girl Dies When Thrown From Car

An 18-year-old Chiloquin girl was killed when a tire blew out on the automobile in which she was a passenger, causing the car to go off the road and roll over several times, about 2:30 p.m., Thursday, approximately three miles from Sprague River, state police have reported. The victim was thrown from the automobile and apparently was struck by the car as it rolled over, police said.

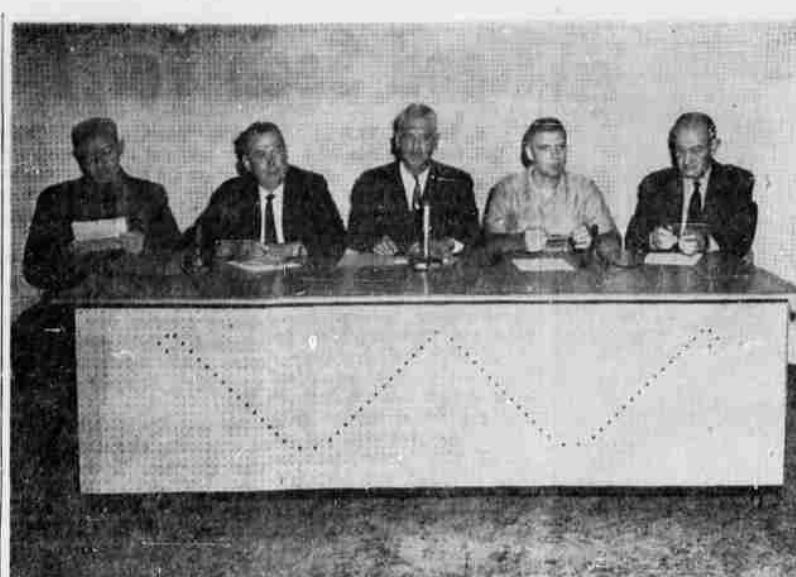

Killed was Sharon Lea Christiansen who was taken by Chiloquin Ambulance to the Klamath Valley Hospital where she was pronounced dead on arrival. Also admitted to the hospital was the driver of the automobile, Henry Luther Cole, 18, Box 52, Chiloquin, whose condition was listed as "good" early Monday.

The incident was one of five traffic accidents that occurred on Klamath County highways during Independence Day and early this morning, resulting in injury to one other person and moderate damage to the other vehicles involved, police reported.

Injured in a one-car accident about 2:30 p.m., south of Collier Park was Clayton Dumont, Madras, who received a dislocated hip when he lost control of his car while overtaking another vehicle and went over an embankment. The car rolled over several times before it stopped about 100 feet from the road.

Dumont was southbound when he passed a car in front of him and while doing so drove onto the soft shoulder on the east side of the highway. The car went out of control and down the embankment, a witness said.

IMPORTANCE OF CLEAN-UP WEEK — The importance of keeping a clean house, yard, garage and a "clean" forest to prevent fire was discussed this week by this panel of five men who have gotten behind the annual clean-up campaign which is slated to start next week, July 7, across the nation. Seated from the left are Alex Smith, Winema Forest supervisor; Judge Robert Walker, Klamath County Court; Joe Sawyer, Municipal Airport manager; Lt. Tom Hanlin, Kingsley Field public information officer, and George Wardell, KPFA supervisor.

Progress Made In Forest

LAKEVIEW—In the recently released brochure, Multiple Use Highlights of 1962, accomplishments on the Fremont National Forest during the past year are noted.

In addition to meeting the demands for more efficient multiple-use management, the administrators of the Fremont were faced during the year with a serious bug infestation in the mature and overmature yellow pine stands, plus the results of the Columbus Day storm and blowdown, according to Carl W. Simpson, supervisor. These called for adjustment of the regular sales program, and Simpson reports that excellent progress has been made in removing this timber.

With rapid transportation and more leisure time making the Fremont Forest one of the desirable playgrounds for the increasing populations of western Oregon and California, there is the need for more development of recreation areas in future years.

In recreational use of the forest, the statistics show 41,200 hunting, 33,400 fishing, 12,300 picnicking, 25,400 camping, and 5,100 skiing. The impoundment of 38 surface acres of water of Cottonwood Meadows last year made the area popular with fishermen and campers. Eventual development of this area will consist of two boating sites and an organization camp for youth groups.

As a result of excellent fishing throughout the year at Thompson Reservoir, camp and picnic facilities were fully used. Ten times more people used the area than ever before. To meet this demand, development of the East

Bay is planned; for 1963 a boat-launching site and four acres of camp and picnic space, with eventual development of 23 acres.

The Campbell-Deardorff lakes area is becoming increasingly more popular as a recreational area. Future development will consist of boating sites, swimming facilities, an improved five-mile hikers' trail between the lakes, and 55 acres of camp and picnic sites.

In range management progress, there were 61 grazing allotments managed under superior systems of management; 293 condition and trend plots installed by the end of 1962; 10,737 cattle permitted to graze a total of 33,133 cow months; 13,377 sheep permitted to graze a total of 43,648 sheep months; 4,209 cattle were permitted to graze under private land permit for a total of 3,205 cow months; 2,987 sheep grazed under private land permit for a total of 11,100 sheep months; and 101 grazing permits were issued to 83 cattlemen and 11 sheepmen.

Sixty seven miles of livestock fences were constructed; 13 cattle guards installed; 21 stock watering developments constructed; 746 acres of depleted range land reseeded, and 1,403 acres sprayed with herbicide to release desirable range plants.

Under timber management accomplishment, the volume of timber sold (million board feet) was 166.3; volume of timber cut, 91.3; Christmas trees sold, 16,400; area replanted, 1,258 acres; area seeded, 74 acres; area thinned, 1,638 acres; area pruned, 100 acres, and porcupines killed, 3,908.

Fireworks Cause Only 1 Fire During Celebration

Firemen were summoned to six fires during the Fourth of July, but only one of them was caused by fireworks which usually accompany Independence Day celebrations, the city, county and suburban fire departments have reported.

The blaze caused by fireworks was set off about 10 p.m. when sparks from a sparkler rotated by a youngster started a grass fire on a vacant lot near 2416 Shasta Way, the city subdivision reported.

Sparks were also blamed for

R. B. Grey Rites Set

Funeral services will be at 10:30 a.m. Saturday, July 6, in O'Hair's Memorial Chapel, for Robert B. Grey, 78, a lifelong railroad man and resident of Klamath Falls since 1921. Final rites and interment will be in Mt. Calvary Cemetery.

Mr. Grey died at the family home, 4036 Freida Street, July 4. He had been in failing health for some time.

He was a native of Rolla, Missouri, born March 9, 1885. He began his railroad career in Mexico and worked on several lines, retiring from the Southern Pacific as a conductor after 35 years of service. He retired from the Shasta Division in 1952. He was a member of Peace Memorial Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Grey was local chairman for the Order of Railway Conductors for a time. In his long years of work he was in only one serious train wreck. He was an ardent fisherman and hunter and ended his hunting career by bagging one of the largest deer ever killed here.

Survivors include the widow, Emma, a son, Norman L. Grey, two daughters, Mrs. Howard (Roberta) Dewey, Mrs. R. E. (Helen) Jeschke, all of Klamath Falls; two sisters, Mrs. Helen Thornton and Mrs. Ruby Ruffner, Los Angeles; also five grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

NOT WHAT MOTHER WOULD HAVE WANTED

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — "This represents a pretty twisted set of values," Juvenile Court Judge Daniel P. Marshall said recently as he sent a 16-year-old defendant the jail for holding up a bus driver. The crime occurred just prior to Mother's Day. The youth said he staged the holdup to get money to buy his mother a present.

Youths To Be Quizzed By Juvenile Officers

Four youths who were apprehended by Chiloquin police in connection with nine burglaries and the flooding of the new gym floor at the Chiloquin High School were to be interrogated sometime today by officers of the Klamath County Juvenile Office, according to Francis Mathews, county juvenile officer.

Mathews said the youths, accompanied by their parents, will appear at the juvenile home for interrogation which will precede action by the juvenile court.

Chiloquin Police Chief Max Smith, whose staff kept working on clues until they broke the case, said the youths admitted the vandalism and the burglaries of garages and homes. Most of the stolen items nearly filled a pickup truck and have been returned to their owners by police. Damage to the gym floor, which was replaced, has been estimated at $10,000.

One of the boys is from another county and had been an inmate of the MacLaren School for boys before he was released to the care of a Chiloquin family, Mathews stated.

One of the youths has been in trouble before; another comes from a broken home, the chief said.

The youths were arrested Thursday and held in the Chiloquin jail before being taken to juvenile home today.
