

Ellingson Timber Co. To Dismantle Sawmill

Ellingson Timber Company, 404 South Fourth Street, announced Friday that it is closing out its operation here.

Officials of the firm indicated that they closed down the sawmill with the end of the July 3 working shift, and their plans call for dismantling the sawmill. R. P. Ellingson Sr. indicated that the closing of the operations here were symbolic of the changes that have been forced on the lumbering industry by a number of factors.

"When we came to Klamath Falls in 1925," he said, "the product of the sawmill went into box shooks for the California market with very limited amount of good shop and select shipped east. Today, competitive products are taking away a considerable portion of the market for lumber in the building and packaging industries. Due to these factors, we decided to reduce our lumber manufacturing facilities, and propose to put in equipment which will enable us to better utilize timber going through the several sawmills and other manufacturing plants in the area.

The Ellingson plant was formerly the Eldorado Lumber Company and prior to that the Big Lakes plant. It was built initially in 1918, and was purchased by the Ellingsons in 1954.

The mill site has been the scene of severe fires in the past several years which seriously damaged the planing mill and other portions. The last of these was on Oct. 14, 1962 and virtually destroyed the planing mill.

Ellingson indicated that the company has done considerable investigation of the possibility of a new type of operation which would provide better utilization of what is now waste product in the lumbering field.

However, as regards the present plant site, an option to purchase has been given to the Modoc Lumber Company. This firm has given no indication yet as to whether it is going to exercise that option.

Economical reasons were given for the closing of the operation, and it was pointed out that a great number of sawmill closures have been occurring in the Pacific Northwest.

This was attributed in a large part to the Canadian lumber situation which permits Canadian lumber to enjoy a price advantage in eastern markets because of freight differential.

The firm still owns and operates three sawmills in the Eastern Oregon areas, and indicated these would continue to operate for the time being.

How 'Gulpic' Bid Works

By OSWALD JACOBY

Newspeople Enterprise Assn.

Some years ago I invented the term "Gulpic" to cover the bid too good to be a psychic, but too weak to be a bid. The name derives from the fact that the player who makes such a bid usually gulps when he makes it. Psychics work occasionally. Gulpics almost never and it is always nice to see one properly punished.

West waited patiently for two rounds and then doubled when the opponents settled in two spades.

He opened the king of spades and continued with the deuce. South won in dummy and led a club to his king. West took his ace and played ace and another spade.

South had two tricks and led a diamond toward dummy. West played the jack and East led dummy's queen held the trick.

At this point South should have seen that the lights were about to go out and taken his ace of hearts, but down four doubled was an unpleasant prospect.

He led dummy's jack of hearts and let it ride. West took the queen and played his last diamond. East simply carved diamonds and clubs until the last trick. He could not take that one because his partner had to ruff. The final result was that South went down five tricks.

Q—The bidding has been:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♠	Pass
2 N.T.	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
3 N.T.	Pass	4 ♠	Pass

You, South, hold:

What do you do?

A—Pass. Your partner has taken full responsibility for playing four hearts and you have two reasonably good trumps for him.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of responding two hearts your partner responds two clubs. What do you do in this case?

Astronaut Glenn May Run For Senate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — Astronaut John H. Glenn may resign from the space program to run as a Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate from his native state next year, informed Democratic sources said Saturday.

The plan to put Glenn into the race was seen as a move to strengthen President Kennedy's hand in Ohio, which he lost in 1960, and to give the party a strong candidate against the Republican nominee expected to be U.S. Rep. Robert Taft Jr.

Informed sources said the plan depends in part upon whether Democratic Sen. Stephen M. Young, a surprise winner in 1958, decides to run for re-election.

Party leaders would be reluctant to put a candidate into the field against Young, who is in his 70's. Young has kept silent about his plans although he indicated regularly until recently that he would not seek re-election.

Glenn, a native of Cambridge, Ohio, spent most of his adult life in the Marines winning honors as a combat pilot until he joined the space program to orbit the earth.

As far as known, Glenn has not publicly indicated his politics. But he has been on good terms socially with prominent Democrats in Ohio and Washington.

The freckled-faced Marine colonel with the ready smile could be expected to give the Ohio Democrats who have been in the doldrums a shot in the arm.

President Kennedy lost the state by 270,000 votes in 1960 to then Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Ohio being the only big industrial state that stayed outside the Kennedy column. Two years later, in 1962, Republicans elected James A. Rhodes as governor, swept the state offices, and picked up strength in the congressional delegation and the legislature.

Democratic leaders Saturday night shied away from any discussion of Glenn as a candidate although one remarked, "John Glenn would make an excellent candidate for any office on any ticket."

The astronaut would easily be the most publicized candidate in the race if he decided to run. His military career has been star-studded and as an astronaut his name and smile have become familiar to everybody.

A Glenn-Taft race would attract worldwide attention as the space hero and Taft, grandson of former President William Howard Taft and son of the late Republican Senate Leader Robert A. Taft, campaigned up an down the midwestern state.

The astronaut, whose parents live in New Concord, Ohio, now lives in Houston, Texas. He would be eligible to run for office in Ohio, however, as the state is his permanent civilian address.

60 Owners To Share For Paving

About 60 property owners along Warden Street from Delta to Lytton streets will be assessed an estimated $12,000 for paving and the installation of curbs and gutters along those streets, City Manager Bob Kyle said Friday.

A portion of Warden Street, less than a block in length will be included in the project. Lot owners on that portion of the block to be improved will be assessed at the same rate as the other property owners, $12.60 per frontage foot.

The total cost of the project and the assessment per frontage foot will not become official until bids are received and the contract is let, Kyle said.

The program is referred to as the Warden Street Improvement Project. Contracts on two other street improvement projects have been let and include the paving and construction of curbs and gutters along Avalon Street between South Sixth Street and Shasta Way and similar work along Laguna Street between Old Fort Road and Huron Street.

YOUNG VET

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Kevin Corcoran, who five years ago at the age of eight was selected by Walt Disney to play a feature role in "Old Yeller," has since starred in more than forty television shows and twelve features for Disney.

His latest assignment is to recreate his role of ormy young Texan, Arliss Coats in the action-packed sequel to "Old Yeller," "Savage Sam."

Flippers, face mask and snorkel are required gear and oxygen tanks will be supplied by the recreation department. The fee for the 18 hours of lessons, which will be spread over three weeks is $15. Interested youngsters are asked to register at the Municipal Swimming Pool.

Don Oman, Tulalake, a qualified diver, will instruct the class.

VACATION TO WORK — Chuck Connors, who starred for five years in "The Rifleman" on television, has asked for a vacation from his new series, "Arrest and Trial," to appear with Doris Day in a new movie.

GOING STEADY — Sultry Suzanne Pleshette and Troy Donahue are steady dates off-screen and have been since they co-starred two years ago in "Romeo Adventure."

Now the pair will join forces on screen again in "A Distant Trumpet."
