State Department Seeks Help In Banning Air Travel To Cuba

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department said today it wants Britain, Spain, Canada and Mexico to help further "isolate" Cuba with respect to air travel.

Agriculture Need Cited

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI) — One of the strongest challenges facing leaders of agriculture in the 1960's is finding sufficient numbers of well-trained persons.

Lyman E. Jackson, dean of the College of Agriculture at Penn State, said there are 15,000 new jobs for college graduates in agriculture each year in the United States with only 7,000 men and women available to fill them. They include research, industry, business, education, communications, conservation, services and farming.

Lady Engineers

NEW YORK (UPI) — Only 5,000 of 800,000 engineers in the United States are women, but this situation will change drastically within the next decade, according to Electronics World magazine. The reason? There's an annual shortage of 40,000 engineering graduates on hundreds of top level industry and government projects and the only way to recruit enough qualified personnel, says the publication, is to woo more women into the profession.

Though some of these countries have quietly taken steps to check planes for movement of arms or subversive agents, they have continued to permit landing rights.

In making the statement at a news conference, State Department spokesman Richard A. Phillips stopped just short of a flat request for the four countries to deny landing rights to planes flying to or from Cuba.

But in reply to questions about these air routes, Phillips said the United States had long "made known" to the four countries involved "our interest in the isolation of Cuba." He said these representations went back even before the Cuban missile crisis last October.

Cuban and Czech airliners have used Canada as a stopover point on the way to Europe. Cuban Airlines operates flights to Mexico City. Spanish flights operate to and from Havana.

The state Department also released further information on Cuban flights through Britain's Grand Cayman Island in the Caribbean, south of Cuba. On May 29, Phillips said, a Soviet-built Cuban airliner out of Cuba landed at the Grand Cayman airport, discharging among its passengers three men and one woman, all carrying Salvadoran passports. They took another commercial flight later to San Jose, Costa Rica, he said.

The four were arrested by Costa Rican authorities and deported to El Salvador as Communist agents, and were arrested again on their arrival in El Salvador, Phillips said. Phillips said a second Cuba airliner arrived at Grand Cayman June 7, carrying two Costa Ricans, who also went on to San Jose, and two passengers carrying French passports from Guadeloupe who flew on to Antigua, Jamaica, and other points in the Caribbean, he said.

Oregon Civil Defense Cut Not Seen As Trend Start

SPOKANE, Wash. (UPI) — The underlying feeling which caused the reduction of the Oregon civil defense program may exist in other areas of the country, but it can be overcome by a program of educating the people, according to the Assistant Secretary of Defense for Civil Defense.

Walter F. Lineberger made the statement here Wednesday en route to the Region 8 Civil Defense Conference in Yakima Thursday and Friday.

Lineberger said he does not feel the move by Oregon in cutting its state civil defense program is the start of a trend.

"It is possible that people would rather not face the problem of having to resort to fallout shelters," he added, "but would prefer to feel that missiles and other defenses can solve the problem."

Blast Rocks Resort Town

HASTINGS, England (UPI) — A violent explosion rocked the seaside resort town of Hastings Thursday causing many casualties.

First reports said at least 50 persons were rushed to a hospital after the blast ripped through a hotel, restaurant, shops and cafes.

Heavy damage was caused by the explosion, believed to have been caused by gas. Furniture from the cafes was blown into the street on the eastern seafloor of this southern England resort town. Windows were shattered over a wide area.

Ambulances raced to the scene and police closed about a half mile of the seafloor because they feared further explosions. Vacationers and residents were removed from the area.

SOUND

Thunder ordinarily is heard only for distances of about 15 to 18 miles; gunfire can be heard, under favorable conditions, for much greater distances, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.
