Emilie Jo Pastega Weds Ronald Simpson

Emilie Jo Pastega returned today. Back of the bride's party table was a solid panel of greenery. Garlands of white, blue and yellow gladioli and daisies and Mr. and Mrs. Mario D. Pastega, who now make their home in Corvallis.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Simpson, Klamath Falls, are parents of the bridegroom.

The wedding took place in St. Pius X Catholic Church with the Rev. David J. Hazen officiating at the 2:30 afternoon double ring ceremony.

Altar floralabra held tall white tapers with blue, white and yellow daisies and gladioli. Ribbon and bows marked the white covered aisle.

Leona Ormsby was the organist. Soloists were Mrs. Elida Legget and Robert Gion.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. Her gown, imported from Switzerland, was fashioned of pure silk embroidered organza with short train. The skirt was modified bell shape with soft fullness at the sides and in back. The neckline and short sleeves were finished in scallops. A flower petal crown secured the waterfall veil of illusion. Her bouquet of roses was centered with white orchids.

Bianca Pastega, Mount Shasta, aunt of the bride, was maid of honor. Nancy Wise and Sharon Rathmacher, both of Klamath Falls, were bridesmaids.

The attendants wore long formal gowns of blue taffeta with three quarter sleeves and scoop necklines. Soft pleats in back gave fullness to the bell shape skirts. Matching headresses were daisies with brief veils.

Sterling Steele, this city, was best man. Ted Steiner was groomsmen. Ushers were the bride's brothers, Gary Pastega, Kenneth Pastega and Dennis Pastega, Corvallis.

Lisa Pastega, 2-year-old sister of the bride, was flower girl.

Vicky Shultz attended the guest book.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Pastega chose a frosted peach satin brocade sheath, white feathered hat and white accessories. Mrs. Simpson wore a blue taffeta brocade dress with matching accessories. Both mothers had white orchid corsages.

After the church ceremony, guests adjourned to the new National Guard Armory where the bride and groom were toasted with champagne punch before the buffet dinner and following dance.

Lavish hall decorations followed the color theme of the wedding.

The white wedding cake, topped with blue satin bells, was decorated with white swans and swirls of blue roses.

The dinner was served by Mrs. Matilda Sari. Music was played by Tony D'Aquila, Linda Gibson and Woodrow Murphy.

For their honeymoon, the newlyweds toured California stopping at numerous points of interest. For going away, the new Mrs. Simpson wore a three-piece avocado knit suit with matching hat and accessories. She is a graduate of Klamath Union High School and attended Oregon State University. Her husband, also a KUHS graduate, is employed by the Pepsi-Cola Company in Corvallis where they will make their home.

The wedding and reception served as a reunion for families of the bride's parents. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Romano Pastega, Mount Shasta, grandparents of the bride. Other special guests included Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Gregg, Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. John W. Snider, Medford; Mr. and Mrs. Sam J. Sposito and Phyllis, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Prasil, Mrs. Paul Prasil, Portland; Mr. and Mrs. Pat Scoville, McMinnville; Andy Borello, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Beauty Tips from ME TO YOU MARY MARTIN

Last week I promised you a few DON'TS FOR HEALTHY HAIR: DON'T skip daily brushing for healthy hair and scalp. DON'T have your hair retouched too often. If new growth is much darker, use a rinse in slightly darker shade than ends to blend new growth. DON'T try to make a drastic change at home. This is a job for a professional colorist.

Turner - Sather Rites June Event In Medford

The marriage of Christine Ann Sather, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Sather, Medford, and William Dale Turner, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Turner, Klamath Falls, was solemnized June 15 in St. Mark's Episcopal Church in Medford.

Altar decorations for the 8 p.m. ceremony, officiated by the Rev. George R. V. Bolster, were basket arrangements of white stock, gladioli and spider chrysanthemums. Pews were marked with white satin bows.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her floor length gown of silk organza and imported Chantilly lace over taffeta was designed with a fitted bodice. The skirt was bell-shaped in front with overskirt of lace in full shepherds back with chapel train. A cap of Chantilly lace and taffeta embroidered with pearls secured the bouffant veil with butterfly lace veil of silk illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis and sterling silver, roses.

The attendants wore identical floor length gowns of cherry pink nylon sheer over taffeta. They were fashioned with fitted bodices and skirts with controlled fullness and shepherds backs accented by self-material bows. Dior head bows made by Mrs. Sather, matched their dresses and they carried crescents of shattered white carnations with white gladioli.

Monica Setty was maid of honor. Sheryl Christian and Karen Hawley, Grants Pass, were bridesmaids. Sara Sather, sister of the bride, was a junior bridesmaid.

Best man was Earl Bradford, Klamath Falls, and ushers were Arnold Myers, Eugene, and David Patterson, Douglas Pyles and Gene Simons, all of Klamath Falls.

Mrs. Earnest Conrad was the organist and accompanist for the wedding. The wedding party sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "The Wedding Prayer."

Following the ceremony, the approximately 200 wedding guests attended the wedding reception at Rogue Valley Country Club. Tables were covered with Venetian lace cloths. Decorations followed the wedding theme with white roses, stock and spider chrysanthemums.

Mrs. David Patterson attended the guest book and Jenny Dickey and Marian Parsons were at the gift table.

Mrs. Sather wore for the occasion a pale green silk dress with matching accessories. Mrs. Turner was dressed in a bone silk sheath accented with turquoise accessories. Both mothers had orchid corsages.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Turner honeymooned in San Francisco and Carmel before returning to Klamath Falls to make their home. For traveling the bride changed to a cherry pink knit suit with white accessories and a white cymbidium orchid corsage.

Mrs. Turner, graduate of Medford High School, attended Southern Oregon College and was recently employed at the Medford Clinic. The bridegroom is a graduate of Klamath Union High School and attended SOC also. This fall he will enroll at Oregon Technical Institute.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. John Morton, Cora Sathers, Mrs. John H. Loomis, Bend; Mr. and Mrs. James Speeding and family, Sunnyvale, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. William Cogdill, grandparents of the bridegroom, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brosterhouse and family, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Beck and family, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cogdill and family, all of Klamath Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Zarosinski and family, Portland; Mrs. Frederick Loomis and son, Fred Loomis, Palo Alto; Mrs. Ellen Cronkite and family, Eugene.

The evening prior to the wedding the parents of the bridegroom hosted the rehearsal dinner in the Candle Room of the Medford Hotel.

JERRY THOMAS Answers Your Insurance Questions

QUESTION: When I read of the huge damages awarded to people injured in auto accidents I wonder if the basic limits of auto liability insurance are enough. What is your recommendation? ANSWER: The exact amounts to be carried are up to the individual but we can tell you that a slightly larger premium will cover the cost of raising ten and twenty thousand limits to fifty and one hundred thousand.
