

Unknown Dick Hart Tops PGA Field, Scores Ace

DALLAS (UPI)—Unknown Dick Hart held a three stroke lead but U.S. Open champion Julius Boros had what Arnold Palmer called "the position" today as they teed off in the second round of the PGA golf championship.

Hart, an assistant pro from Hinsdale, Ill., shot a five under par 66 to match the course record in the opening round and take a three shot lead over five of the big names — Boros, Masters champion Jack Nicklaus, British Open champion Bob Charles, husky Mason Rudolph and blond Shelley Mayfield.

But Palmer, who shot an opening 74 along with defending champion Gary Player, felt that the "rub of the green" favored Boros to gain the halfway lead when the field is cut to the low 75 and ties tonight for closing rounds Saturday and Sunday.

"Hart, Nicklaus and Charles all got off early in the traffic," Palmer explained, alluding to the bulky field of 167 which tramped over the drying greens in 100-degree heat at the Dac course. "When you go off late over these chopped up greens, like Boros did, you have to consider he played terrifically. Well, he goes off early today and Nicklaus and the others have to cope with those spike marks."

Palmer expected to improve, too, as he makes a run for his first PGA title, for the chewed up greens irritated him.

"I had four three-putt greens for a total of 36 putts," said Palmer, who started strong by being one of nine players to eagle the 521-yard par five first hole. "But when you have to take that many putts, what can you do?"

The 27-year-old Hart chalked up the second ace in the medal play history of the PGA when he holed his four iron tee shot on the 216-yard par three 16th hole. That helped greatly as he jumped into his three shot lead over the big five.

Another stroke away with one under par 70's came six others. They were Tony Lema, who was three under the card until he caught the barbed wire rough to double bogey the 18th hole; former champion Doug Ford, Earl Stewart of Dallas, Charles Congdon of Tacoma, Wash., Aussie Bruce Crampton and Bernie Haas of Pittsburgh, who collapsed after being five under par at one point.

Former U.S. Open champion Gene Littler was among those at even par 71 along with Sammy Snead, Stan Mosel, Manuel De La Torre, Bob McCallister, Wes Ellis and Bill Johnston.

Minnesota Blitzes Yanks, Terry, 9-3; Slice Lead

By United Press International

Babe Ruth summed it all up 35 years ago when after a tough night on the town he heard the boos of his fair-weather friends. "In this game," he said, "you are a hero today and a bum tomorrow."

Ralph Terry, the New York Yankees' World Series hero of 1962, knows today what the old Bambino meant.

Terry became the toast of the baseball world last October when he beat the San Francisco Giants, 1-0, in the seventh straight world title under manager Ralph Houk.

He was the all-American cover boy of the national mags, the former Boy Scout who made good in a tough, competitive field and a young man with a seemingly limitless future.

Today, he's a bewildered 27-year-old pitcher with an equally bewildering 9-10 season won-lost record.

Terry's 1963 record dipped below the .500 mark—compared with his resplendent 23-12 mark of 1962—when the Minnesota Twins blitzed him in five innings Thursday and went on to a 9-3 victory. The loss trimmed the Yankees' first-place lead over the idle Chicago White Sox to six games.

Rich Rollins drove in five runs with a homer and a double and Don Mincher had a double and two singles to lead the 12-hit Minnesota attack. Camilo Pascual, out of action with arm trouble since June 30, received credit for his 10th win against five defeats. Elston Howard homered for the Yankees.

The Baltimore Orioles defeated the Detroit Tigers, 8-6, in 11 innings and the Boston Red Sox beat the Kansas City Athletics, 10-6, in other American League games.

Joe Gaines' two-run 11th-inning double gave the Orioles an uphill victory and ace reliever Stu Miller his fourth win of the season. Miller, who now has been the close-out pitcher in the Orioles' last eight victories, stopped the Tigers on one run and four hits for the last four innings. Russ Snyder and Bob Johnson had three hits each to pace the Orioles' 15-hit attack.

Relief sensation Dick Radatz gained his 11th victory of the season against only one loss with two innings of shutout relief that preserved the Red Sox' victory over the Athletics. Doubles by Dick Stuart and Russ Nixon and a single by Dick Williams, who had four hits, were the big blows for the Red Sox while Norm Siebern hit two homers for the Athletics.

Emeralds Drop 10-Inning Game

By United Press International

The Eugene Emeralds aren't about to give up without a fight, but sometimes it seems like they might as well.

The Northwest League's cellar-dwelling Emeralds dropped their second consecutive 10-inning baseball decision to second-place Yakima Thursday night. The winners eked out their 5-4 victory margin on a hit by Tippy Johnson, a walk, and a bounce over the shortstop's head.

Lewiston scored six runs in the 10th inning to down Tri-City 8-2 in another extended game. Two 10th-inning relievers were unable to bail out Mike Lee, who suffered his seventh loss against five wins. Don Marrs drove in two for Lewiston with a homer in the fifth, and Tri-City's Terry Banderas soloed in the seventh.

Salem beat Wenatchee 5-3 behind the two-hit pitching of Gene Brabender, who is now 10-5 for the season. Brabender, who had retired the first 16 batters he faced, saw his no-hitter go out the window in the sixth inning when Spencer Davis got a broken-bat single.

YOU BE THE UMPIRE — This close action photo was taken during the Medford-Falcon game Thursday night at Gem Stadium. The Falcon runner is LeVoy Young, shortstop. The first baseman is Medford's Don Anderson. Anderson apparently already has the ball but Young also has touched the base. The umpire called him safe much to the dismay of the Medford fans. As the old saying goes, "He goes to the runner." The Falcons beat Medford, 4-0.

Dodgers Off And Running In National League Race

By United Press International

All this and Larry Sherry too! That's the feeling in the camp of the Los Angeles Dodgers today as their National League pennant bandwagon keeps rolling along.

The World Series hero of 1959 hasn't done too much this season but he suddenly seems to have "rejoined the team." And if there is anything the Dodgers' National League rivals can't stand it's an other proven star adding his weight to the Dodger drive.

Sherry, the sensation of the '59 Dodgers' closing NL spurt and World Series triumph over the Chicago White Sox, came out of the bullpen Thursday night to preserve Johnny Podres' ninth victory of the season and the Dodgers' 10-3 decision over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The win preserved the Dodgers' 6 1/2-game lead over the second-place Chicago Cubs, who beat the Milwaukee Braves, 3-2, in an afternoon game.

The San Francisco Giants shaded the New York Mets, 6-5, the Cincinnati Reds drubbed the St. Louis Cardinals, 6-3, and the Philadelphia Phillies downed the Houston Colts, 5-1, in other National League action.

Maury Wills drove in four runs with a double and a single and stole a base and Jim Gilliam, Wally Moon, Tommy Davis and Willie Davis had two hits each in the Dodgers' 14-hit attack. Earl Francis, tagged for three runs and five hits in 4 1/3 innings, suffered his fourth defeat.

Ron Santo's triple and Ken Hubbs' double each produced a run in a three-run sixth inning rally that enabled Larry Jackson to win his 11th game against seven losses. Joe Torre and Del Crandall had two hits each for the Braves, whose Tony Cloninger suffered his sixth loss.

Bob Purkey went 6 2/3 innings to win his fourth game for the Reds with the help of Gene Freese's first homer in almost two years. The Red slugger, who broke his ankle in the spring of 1962, drove in four runs to help deal Ray Sadecki his sixth defeat of the season.

Juan Marichal, appearing in relief for the first time this season, pitched two hitless innings to raise his season record to 15-5 when the Giants scored two runs in the eighth inning. Felipe Alou drove in the winning run with a pinch single that handed Galen Cisco his eighth loss against six wins. Ed Bailey homered for the Giants and Joe Hicks connected for the Mets.

John Bozzer who won his first major league game with a three-hitter behind a six-hit attack that included homers by Don Demeter and Don Hoak as the Phillies balanced their season record at 47-47. Ken Johnson suffered his 13th loss against five wins.

Owens Remains Critical

DENVER (UPI)—Baltimore Colt flankerback R. C. Owens, his wife, Tina, and their 1-month-old son, Darren, remained in serious condition at two Denver hospitals early today, suffering from injuries received in a car wreck Wednesday night.

Owens' daughter, Pamela, 4, died in the crash.

A doctor at Presbyterian Hospital said "I can assure you that Owens will not be in Baltimore Sunday" to begin training with the National Football League Colts.

Owens and his wife were reported seriously injured about the head. Owens also suffered a fractured rib and a partially collapsed lung. His wife had a fractured vertebra in her neck.

The son, taken to Children's Hospital, was in critical condition with head injuries.

The family makes its home at Belmont, Calif.

The three were hospitalized at Yuma, Colo., following the accident Wednesday, and brought to Denver Thursday.

Doctors said it "is impossible to estimate" when Owens will be released from the hospital. They said he and his wife, however, were "coming along well."
