KF Reception Follows Rites

On July 6 at the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, Mr. and Mrs. Loyd S. Perry were honored by family and friends at an afternoon reception.

The two were married June 11 at the Los Angeles Temple of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. Elder Benjamin Bowring officiated. Mrs. Perry is the former Lee Ella Elderkin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hazard, Klamath Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil C. Perry, Concord, Calif., are parents of the bridegroom. Decorations for the reception were lavender and white gladioli, the same colors used to decorate the four tiered wedding cake.

Serving refreshments were June Peterson, Susie Reyes, LaVerna Stratton, Ora Smith, Marie Osterburg, Renee Bleak and Mildred Pippin. The bride wore a wedding gown of white bridal satin with brocade taffeta jacket and train. The nylon illusion veil trimmed with lace was held by a crystal tiara. The cascade of white carnations was centered with a white orchid to form the bridal bouquet.

Gloria Smith, this city, maid of honor, wore a brocade taffeta jacket and held a bouquet of white carnations.

Larry C. Elderkin, twin of the bride, was best man. The bridal couple toured the California Coast on their honeymoon. For traveling the bride chose a pink boucle suit and white accessories. She is a graduate of Klamath Union High School and her husband of Henley High School. He is employed by the Bureau of Land Management and they will reside at 1334 Sargent Street in this city.

Mary Oakley Is June Bride

LAKEVIEW—Mary Janet Oakley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Oakley of Lakeview, became the bride of James A. Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nelson, Route 6, Lakeview, at rites on June 29. The double ring ceremony was performed by Dr. Alfred Russell at two o'clock in the afternoon against a background of baskets of white stocks and red carnations. She was given in marriage by her father.

The organist was Mrs. William Sullivan who played the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin and the "Wedding March" by Mendelssohn. "Oh Perfect Love" and "The Wedding Prayer" were sung by Mrs. Lester Boulden.

The bride's gown was of floor length rose patterned lace over tulle with fitted bodice and long sleeves which were pointed at the wrists. Rhinestones trimmed the bateau neckline which was outlined with lace scallops. The lace formed a pannier effect over the bouffant tulle skirt. She wore a pearl necklace loaned by the bridegroom's mother, and the traditional blue garter. A short bluish veil of tulle was sprinkled with seed pearls and was held by a seed pearl tiara. Her bouquet was of white carnations with white satin streamers.

Attendant for the bride was Gloria Chandler of Salem. Her street length red chiffon dress, her bouffant skirt and fitted bodice with spaghetti straps. Her red ribbon hat was touched with red veiling and her shoes corresponded in color. Her gloves were white and she carried a hand bouquet of red and white carnations.

Donald Shullanberger served as best man and ushers were Tim Sullivan and Tom Oakley, brother of the bride. Mrs. Oakley wore a light blue embroidered linen with white jacket and accessories. Mrs. Nelson's costume was a two-piece suit of ruffled weave linen in the bone shade, with accessories to match. Both had white carnation corsages.

Families and guests gathered for the reception in the church hall where bouquets of white peonies,

Betas Honor Bob Thompson

Gamma Mu Chapter of Beta Theta Pi on the Oregon State University campus honored Bob Thompson by dedicating this year's Beta Diamond publication to him. His pictures and story appears on the last page of the magazine which is traditionally reserved for the "List of Members."

In writing the dedication, the editor spoke with pride of the chapter members whose accomplishments in many fields have been publicly acclaimed. He continued, "However, there are those few who never become All-Americans or who never receive any rewards for their efforts—mainly because the work they do is offered without expecting anything in return. Bob Thompson is one of those select few who has given more to Beta Theta Pi than practically all the rest put together."

Bob's dedication to his fraternity mainly took the form of the house intramural program. He has been the leader in efforts to retire the All-School Trophy for

The time of the year and the weather should influence the type of hair style you wear. Remember that the carefree style you enjoy in the summer, when your activities are more strenuous, will not necessarily do for winter. At all times have a good permanent to provide the necessary body to keep your hair shapely whether it be a smooth bouffant designed to hold its shape in wet, rough weather or a pert and pretty brush up to fluff into place after a day at the beach.

Both attended Lakeview High School where he was graduated in 1939 and she in 1940.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Ann Kirkland, Corvallis, grandmother of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. Everett Haney, Sue and Jim, Orofino, Idaho; Mrs. Richard Schluter and Phyllis, Alturas, Calif.; Mrs. Robert Schluter and Elaine, Alturas; Arlene Clark Ventura, Calif.; and Mrs. Raabe, Molalla.

Klamath Falls Couple Pledges Vows On July 4

On July 4 at 2 p.m. the Rev. John Fenderson officiated at a double ring ceremony which united in marriage Gayle Jurgensen and Dawson R. South.

Parents of the bridal pair, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Jurgensen and Mr. and Mrs. Rayburn South, are all Klamath Falls residents.

Bible Baptist Church was decorated for the occasion with white gladioli and lighted tapers. White bows marked the pews and the aisle was covered with a white runner.

Mrs. John Fenderson played traditional wedding marches.

The bride was given in marriage by her mother and father. She wore a white organza gown with three quarter sleeves and scoop neckline. A small flowered crown held the bluish veil. A single strand of pearls was her only jewelry. The bridal bouquet was a spray of stephanotis which she carried with a family heirloom lace handkerchief.

Maid of honor, Linda Gunn, this city, was dressed in a copper-toner organza frock. Her bouquet was of copper carnations.

Johnny Zigler was best man and ushers were James P. Smith and Edwin Zahler, all of Klamath Falls.

Mrs. Jurgensen was dressed in a green brocade sheath with jacket and contrasting accessories. She wore a pink rose corsage. Mrs. South chose a beige dress and corsage of yellow chrysanthemums.

The newlyweds greeted their guests in Fields Hall after the ceremony. The bride's table was placed under a canopy of yellow and white streamers hung with wedding bells and flowers. On the table was the three tiered white and yellow trimmed cake.

Mrs. George Spencer and Mrs. Rayburn South decorated for the reception.

Sandra Nixon served the wedding cake. Aunts of the bridegroom, Mrs. Emmett Chidester and Mrs. Louis Mandros, served coffee and punch.

The couple's honeymoon was a trip to Grass Valley, Reno and Lake Tahoe. For traveling, the new Mrs. South wore a turquoise blue suit with white hat and accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. South will make their home at 536 Pine Street in this city.

Among the wedding guests were Guy Plunkett and his son, Gail Plunkett of Grass Valley.

PTARMIGAN COLORATION

Summertime plumage of the Ptarmigan is black, brown and white, but, with the approach of winter, they molt into a snow-white garb.

BRIDGE CLUB MEETS

MALIN — Mrs. Robert Holl entertained recently at a dessert bridge for members of the Happy Hour Bridge Club. Mrs. Charles Hamilton was high scorer and Mrs. A. E. Street, second. Others present were Mrs. W. C. Dalton Sr., Mrs. Lester Schreiner, Mrs. Charles Johnson, Mrs. G. C. Blohm, Mrs. J. Perry Haley and Mrs. Con Johnson.

YEAR-ROUND IS EASIER

The trend is away from the regular spring cleaning, when the house is turned upside-down. Some women still insist upon cleaning once in the fall. However, if you clean one room a month, your house will always be in enviable shape and you will feel the wear-and-tear less.
