Rites Held In Portland

LAKEVIEW — A lovely June bride was Jolene Ann Banasco of Beaverton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Banasco of Lakeview. She was united in marriage at four in the afternoon of the 29th with Daniel R. Segel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Segel, at the First Unitarian Church in Portland, and was given in marriage by her father, Dr. Richard M. Steiner performed the ceremony. Two standing floral bouquets of yellow gladioli and delphinium featured the church decorations, with white bows marking the pews of the processional aisle.

The bride's dress of embroidered tulle over satin was styled with fitted bodice. The Sabrina neckline was formed with scallops of embroidered flowers and the sleeves were full length. The bouffant skirt was made with two side-front panels of embroidered tulle alternating in tiers with plain tulle and extending into a chapel train with all-around ruffles. The fingertip veil of illusion was held by a Juliet cap adorned with satin roses outlined in pearls. Her bouquet was of stephanotis and white roses. The traditional something blue was the garter given by her aunt, Mrs. C. H. Langslet. Something new was her illusion veil, and something old was the watch given by her father to her mother on the latter's 21st birthday. Something borrowed was the wedding dress owned by Mrs. Ronald E. Brown, the former Judy Laird. The penny in her shoe was from her aunt, Mrs. Bessie Roberts. Attendants for the bride were Mrs. Ronald E. Brown, Salem, her cousin; Molly Burke, Coos Bay, and Barbara Jo Waller, Clatskanie. Mrs. Brown's brooch was of white embroidered organza with accents of blue, and the bridesmaids wore identical dresses with accents of yellow. All wore headpieces matching their dresses and carried nosegays of carnations, roses, delphiniums and caryophylls.

The bridegroom's attendant was Gilbert Harvey McKelvey, Portland. Ushers were Warren Cook Laird, Lakeview, cousin of the bride; Richard Ochuto, Portland; Richard Miller, Portland; James Grelle, Los Angeles, and Paul Messer, San Francisco.

The bride's mother was dressed in a mint green silk sheath with matching accessories, and hat of green organza. Her corsage was of white orchids. The bridegroom's mother wore a coffee doppelion sheath with matching accessories and a corsage of green orchids.

For traveling the bride changed to a bone sheath dress with Italian cut lace jacket. Accessories of coral accented the ensemble.

The reception was held in the Channing Room of the church. An item of interest was the wedding cake top layer which was the same one used for the 50th wedding anniversary of the late Mr. and Mrs. Warren Cook Laird, the bride's grandparents. It was also used at weddings and anniversaries of other members of the bride's family. The wedding cake was in the form of a Maltese cross with accents of green and yellow.

Mrs. Ella Prior and Mrs. Bessie Roberts, aunts of the bride, served the cake; Mrs. Madge Langslet, another aunt, and Mrs. Carl L. Peterson, a cousin, poured; Mrs. Paul Ochuto supervised the guest book signing and gifts.

The bride is a graduate of Abraham Lincoln High School, San Jose, Calif., and of the University of Oregon. She is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta social sorority; Kwama, sophomore women's honorary, and Phi Theta Upsilon, junior women's honorary; a member of the Senate and business manager of the Oregoniana. She has been a teacher of world history for three years at Sunset High School in Beaverton.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Lincoln High School, Portland; a graduate of the University of Oregon where he majored in business, and is a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. He is employed in the real estate business in Beaverton. The couple is at home at 51 S. E. 12th Street, Beaverton.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Robert Olsen and daughters, Robin and Jennifer, Spokane; Mendie Segel, Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. James Van Keulen, Karen and John, Salem; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Laird, Cook Laird, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest E. Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Langslet, Mrs. Bessie Roberts, Mrs. Mabel Van Keulen, all of Lakeview; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Burk, Coos Bay; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Battles and daughter, Judy, Cottage Grove; Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Peterson, Seattle; and Mrs. Ella Prior, Napa, Calif.

Over The Garden Gate

Northside Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. George Lasalle on Lakeshore Drive on Tuesday, June 18, for a potluck luncheon, followed by a business meeting and program.

A report on Heather, the flower chosen by the club for its year's study, was given by Mrs. Ray Keller and a talk on native wild flowers was made by Mrs. George Deen. The hillside setting of the Lasalle patio was an ideal setting for such a study.

Answers Your Insurance Questions

QUESTION: A neighbor kept a horse in his yard over night and it got out and into our yard where it did a lot of damage. The neighbor says his insurance will take care of everything. What kind of insurance is this?

ANSWER: There are several forms of insurance which would handle that situation but he probably refers to comprehensive personal liability which covers him for acts of any animals in his care and control.

Sprague River Church Scene Of July Rites

Friends Church in Sprague River was the setting July 6 for the marriage of Kathryn Mary Arnold and Clifford R. Longacre. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Everett Tuning.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Arnold, Sprague River. Mrs. Iva Jordan, Dos Palos, Calif., is the bridegroom's mother.

Background for the service was a heart shaped lattice covered with cedar boughs and flanked with baskets of gladioli and stock in lilac and white colors.

Mrs. Nina Ringer was the organist. Soloist was Mrs. Claudette Barkley.

The bridal gown was fashioned of white lace and nylon with scalloped neckline and long diamond-tipped sleeves. The graceful full skirt was formed of tiers of nylon edged with wide bands of the lace. Nylon roses on a lace headpiece held the fingertip illusion veil. She carried a cascade of pink roses and carnations. Matron of honor, Mrs. Mary Arnold, Ramona, Calif., wore a floor length gown of pink taffeta and organza and carried a nosegay of pink carnations. Similarly
