Women's Activities

By Helen Bechen

IN A FESTIVE MOOD — Food was delicious at the recent Elks luau and among the many who obviously are enjoying it are these four, left to right, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Molschenbacher and Mr. and Mrs. R. D. McGeheey.

ENTERTAINMENT — Guests at the Elks luau enjoyed native island dances well executed by students of Mills School who were pupils of Mrs. Bob Craig, wife of the exalted ruler of the lodge.

LUAU GUESTS — Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Lemire were guests at the recent Elks luau, one of many social activities under the term of Exalted Ruler Bob Craig. It was a family affair designed for the pleasure of the young ones as well as their parents. Originally planned for out-of-doors, festivities were moved inside due to uncooperative weather with no less fun for the large number of gayly garbed members who attended. — Photos by Bob Anderson

ROORBACK

The "roorback" may be defined as a special form of political lie, one circulated so late in an election campaign that refutation is difficult, expensive or impossible.
