Orrell-Nichols Vows Read In Baptist Rites

Sondra Shirline Nichols and the Rev. James B. Orrell exchanged wedding vows Aug. 3 at First Baptist Church at 8 p.m. Dr. E. M. Causey, former pastor of the church, came from Seattle to officiate at the double ring ceremony.

Decorations of ferns were background for the many melon-shaped tapers held by seven-branch candelabra at the altar and in smaller holders on the organ and piano. Each window recess also held one taper with ferns.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Nichols and was given in marriage by her father. She wore a sheath gown of hand clipped lace over faille taffeta with long tapered sleeves and train of georgette edged with scalloped appliques of the same lace as the dress. A pearl trimmed pill box held the elbow length net veil and she carried Stephanotis and ivy on a Bible.

Mrs. Gary Nichols, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Barbara Vinson, Sue Parisotto, Sheryl Wilson and Bonnie Lake.

The bride attendants were dressed alike in floor length dresses styled with bell skirts, fitted bodices in orange taffeta with contrasting lace jackets. Pill box hats, wrist length lace gloves and slippers were matching in color. Each carried an arm bouquet of five orange gladioli.

Dressed like the attendants was Shirley Mills, who, with Eric McCreedy, Eugene, lighted the candles before the ceremony.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Orrell, Eugene. His best man was James Wright, Springfield. Groomsman were Gary Nichols, brother of the bride, and Larry Mathews, Anaconda, Mont., cousin of the bridegroom. Ushers were Frank Orrell, Madras, the bridegroom's cousin, and Jerry Smith, Springfield.

Organist was Beulah Welch. The soloist, the Rev. Gordon Green, Roseville, Calif., cousin of the bridegroom, sang "Because," "O Perfect Love" and "Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee."

For the wedding, Mrs. Nichols selected an ice blue chiffon sheath with lace bodice, matching accessories and blue corsage. Mrs. Orrell wore a beige lace sheath with jacket, contrasting brown accessories and corsage of complementary chrysanthemums.

Immediately following the ceremony the newlyweds greeted their guests at a reception in the parish hall of the Episcopal Church which was decorated by Roger Cote with white wedding bells and orange gladioli in keeping with the wedding decor. A decorative bird bath held orange-tinted rice.

Mrs. Eldred Hogan, Springfield, decorated the four-tier colonnaded cake with white icing and orange flowers. It was served by Mrs. Jim McGown and Mrs. Bill Taylor. Alice Doster, Eugene, and Nancy Baker poured coffee and punch.

For their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Orrell drove to New Orleans where they will reside while he attends New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary. Reverend Orrell is a graduate of University of Oregon with a BA in sociology and has been recently serving as associate pastor at Trinity Baptist Church in Springfield. The new Mrs. Orrell is a graduate of Klamath Union High School and attended University of Oregon.

FUTURE BRIDE — Mr. and Mrs. Carroll W. ## July Rites Unite Couple

A nuptial mass performed July 19 by Father George Murphy united in marriage Margaret Ann Casey and Robert Leland Pastega. Setting for the 10 a.m. ceremony was St. Pius X Catholic Church which was decorated for the occasion with white gladioli and daisies.

Following the double ring service the bride and groom left the altar to receive the blessings of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Casey and Mr. and Mrs. Louie Pastega.

Mrs. Ronald Ormsby was the organist.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of imported silk organza appliqued with Chantilly lace. A Juliet cap trimmed in seed pearls secured the elbow length veil. A spray of white carnations and rosebuds was centered on a white prayer book, gift of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Ray Williams. She wore an heirloom white crystal wristlet belonging to the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. John Vogel.

Maid of honor was Mary Diane Brazil, dressed in a street length frock of peach taffeta matched by the ribbon rose and veil head-dress. She carried a nosegay of white carnations with peach trim. William Brown was best man and ushers were Steven McCulloch and John Durbin, cousin of the bridegroom.

Both Mrs. Casey and Mrs. Pastega were dressed in blue with matching accessories and corsages of white roses and carnations.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was given at Kingsley Restaurant where pink gladioli was predominant decor. The wedding cake, three tiers and trimmed with pink roses, was served by Joan Durach, a pink punch was poured by Evelyn Anderson and Mrs. Robert A. Mitchell served coffee. Deanne Durbin was in charge of the gifts and Sue Ann Owens attended the guest book.

After a honeymoon trip to the Oregon Coast, the newlyweds are at home at 433 North Seventh Street for the remainder of the summer. Both young people are graduates of Sacred Heart Academy, Redding, this fall.

A special wedding guest was Msgr. T. P. Casey.

First Baptist Church Scene Of July Nuptials

On July 5 at First Baptist Church, Betty Jo Ford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd B. Ford, became the bride of Richard Barry Ford in a double ring ceremony officiated by the Rev. L. W. Rowland.

Baskets of white gladioli and blue majestic daisies set the color theme for the 8 p.m. ceremony. Tapers in floor candelabra were lighted by the bride's brother, David Ford.

Dennis Coleman was the organist and accompanist for the soloist, Mrs. Larry Cook.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a short gown fashioned on Empire lines with bodice of French lace which was repeated in the flowing back panel of the bell shaped taffeta skirt. The shoulder veil was held in place by a velvet circlet studded with pearls. A bouquet of white roses and lily of the valley was centered with a corsage of white phalaenopsis orchids.

Kathy Bose was maid of honor, dressed in a short frock of blue sparkling organza over pale blue taffeta.

Bridesmaids Chandelle Horsley and Beverly Ford, sister of the bride, wore the same style dresses but of blue organza over sky blue taffeta.

The three attendants had veiled blue circlets on their heads and carried bouquets of white daisies.

Mike Stansell, Gold Beach, was the best man. Ushers were Lynn Trippett and Dale Himelwright Jr., both of this city.

Mrs. Ford chose for the occasion a bone lace jacket dress with beige accessories and corsage of yellow roses.

The reception was held in the church parlors. The wedding cake was served by Mrs. Robert Luse, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Ray Allen, Eugene. Pourers were Eugene and the bride, Kathy Luse, and Pat Luse.

Mrs. Ford's going away outfit was a three piece blue and white cotton knit. With it she wore accessories and the bridal corsage. The newlyweds honeymooned along the California Coast and have returned to reside at 505 North Ninth Street.

In addition to the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Luse, Eugene, other out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Luse, Portland, Jan Wasson, Roseburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Allen, Eugene.

Sue Ann Briggs Is July Bride

Sue Ann Biggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee Biggs, this city, became the bride of Robert J. Stearns on July 21 at 2 p.m. in Kingsley Field Chapel. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson Stearns, Carrizozo, N.M.

The church was decorated with white gladioli and aqua carnations for the candlelight double ring ceremony performed by Chaplain William A. Thorenson.

Glenn Fox was the organist and Robert Memering the soloist.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. Her gown was floor length with long pointed sleeves. Pearls accented the neckline. The Chantilly lace of the bodice extended in tiers over net to form the full skirt. The fingertip illusion veil was held by a crown of pearls and sequins. She carried an all-white bouquet of roses and carnations on a Bible.

Maid of honor for her sister was Sharon Biggs. Her frock was of aqua nylon brocade over matching taffeta. Her white chrysanthemum bouquet was trimmed with aqua ribbon.

Richard M. Crawford, Kingsley Field, was best man. Ushers were Chester Schmidt, Kingsley, and Robert Daulton, this city.

Mrs. Biggs wore a Nile green dress with lace hat and matching shoes. Mrs. Stearns chose a pale blue lace with matching accessories. Both mothers had corsages of white roses and carnations.

The reception took place in the NCO Club at Kingsley Field. Bessie Brown served cake and Sarajane Solis, coffee. At the gift table was Linda Jean Powell, and attending the guest book was the bride's sister, Mary Alice Biggs.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Stearns toured Colorado and New Mexico on their honeymoon. Mrs. Stearns traveled in a white cotton knit accented with red. She is a graduate of Klamath Union High School and attended Southern Oregon College. Until her marriage she was employed by State Farm Insurance.

The bridegroom attended New Mexico State University before entering the Air Force. Stationed at Kingsley as airman first class, he will be transferred to Fairbanks, Alaska, in September.

In addition to the bridegroom's parents, other out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. James Mreen, Portland; Kristine Thomas, San Francisco, and Pat Mohr, Roseburg.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Merritt wore a deep blue silk pongee sheath with white accessories and corsage of pink rosebuds.

The chapel annex was the setting for the reception. Pink and white bouquets of Esther Reed daisies, chiffon daisies, gladioli and larkspur were decorations. Tiny pink rosebuds caught in white net encircled the three-tiered wedding cake which was trimmed with white roses and swans and topped with ivory bells.

Serving the cake were Mrs. V. A. Mudd, St. Helena, Calif., and Mrs. P. L. Babcock, this city. Pouring punch and coffee were Martha McCollum, Mrs. Edna Book and Mrs. J. G. Kollias, Fall Creek, Ore. All are aunts of the bride.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was fashioned with lace bodice and skirt of white sheer over peau de soie with insets of matching lace. Tiny bows topped the brush train. The fingertip veil was held in place by a crown of pearls. She carried a cascade of white rosebuds, baby carnations and lily of the valley. A diamond-set heart pendant was a gift of the bridegroom. For sentiment she wore her paternal grandmother's wedding ring.

Mrs. Bryan Murray, Woodland, Calif., sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were a high school classmate, Mrs. Jon Murray, this city, and Julie August, Richland, Wash. Willamette University classmate.

The attendants were dressed alike in street length frocks of hibiscus pink chiffon over taffeta with matching slippers and taffeta bow headpieces. They wore white gloves and carried deep pink carnations.

Candlelighters were Kathy Hendrix, Sacramento, and Don Walker, Kingsley Field.

Melanie Young was flower girl and Mikel Dean Murray, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

Gary Moore was best man and groomsmen were Tobias Frazier and John Mestas. Guests were seated by Benjamin Caluya and Carl Katzman. All are from Kingsley Field.

Mrs. Ann Polivka will be the next hostess.

Sharon Adams Bride In San Francisco Rites

Swedenborgian Church in San Francisco was the attractive setting for the marriage of Sharon Lynne Adams, San Mateo, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. Martin Adams, this city, and Dr. Roderic E. Steele, Portola Valley, Calif. The double ring ceremony was performed at 2 p.m. on July 14 by Dr. Neal K. McGowan. Mrs. Lucille Barnard was the organist.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn L. Steele of Monrovia, Calif.

Adding to the garden-like setting of the church were the fan-shaped arrangements of magnolia leaves and arbutum lilies behind the altar and on side pedestals.

Dr. Adams escorted his daughter to the altar and gave her in marriage. Her gown was of imported rosebuds and lace with long sleeves and chapel train. The shaped bodice featured a scoop neckline bordered by matching lace. The elbow length veil of silk illusion was held in place by a double crown of sparkling borealis with pearl drops. A cascade of white roses, stephanotis and ivy formed the bridal bouquet.

The bride's only jewelry was a gold pendant set with the diamond which had been her grandmother's engagement stone.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Sandra Adams, Redwood City. She wore a short frock of blue silk shantung made with scoop neckline, cap sleeves and full skirt. She carried a crescent bouquet of white carnations and yellow baby roses.

Bridesmaids were Sharon McConnell, Redwood City, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Austin McThorn, San Mateo. They were dressed like the honor attendant and carried the same flowers in semi-crescent style.

The bride's gifts to her attendants were three - strand crystal necklaces.

Mrs. Adams chose for the occasion a blue embroidered silk sheath, matching shoes and hat of multi-shades of blue. Because of illness the bridegroom's mother was unable to attend the wedding.

Dr. Mitchell Weissbluth, Stanford, Calif., was best man. Ushers were the bride's cousin, Robert S. Adams Jr., Paul, Idaho, and Dr. David Burge, Santa Clara.

Many of us are unaware that our hair is different in the winter than in the summer and requires different care according to the season. In winter, with cold dry air, your hair is flat and less pliable. In summer, with the combination of heat and high humidity, your hair absorbs moisture from the air and becomes elastic, swells in width and shrinks in length. Curled hair can become slightly limp, and straight hair limp and less manageable. So keep the season in mind when you are caring for your hair.
