Give Cards Win Chance

By OSWALD JACOBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Here is a hand from my good friend Gordon Keel of Vancouver. It is another illustration of the important principle that an alert declarer gives the cards every chance.

Gordon points out that North was in an overbidding mood and without his very doubtful jump raise in hearts the slam would not have been bid.

South won the spade opening with his ace and at first glance it appeared that success depended on the location of the king of clubs. Then he saw an extra chance and he took it. At trick two he led the jack of diamonds toward dummy. West should have clattered up with the ace and trusted that his king of clubs would provide the setting trick but West wasn't looking at all 52 cards and ducked.

South proceeded to draw trumps with three leads. He discarded his last two diamonds on the king and queen of spades and led the nine of clubs. He intended to let it ride, but East covered with the jack and South's queen lost to West's king.

West led the ace of diamonds. South ruffed, entered dummy with the last trump, discarded the five of clubs on the last diamond and made his slam by finessing successfully against West's ten of clubs.

Why did this play give South that extra chance? Because no matter how the defense went South always would make his contract if the king of clubs was in the East hand.

Learn how to give the cards a chance with a copy of "Win at Bridge." Just send your name, address, and 50 cents to: Oswald Jacoby Reader Service, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 489, Dept. York 19, N.Y.

Dropout Curb Plan Okayed By Minear

SALEM (UPI)—A national program to curb high school dropouts today had the endorsement of Leon P. Minear, state superintendent of public instruction.

"At the request of President Kennedy, I am urging parents to do everything possible to have their school-age youngsters in school this fall," Minear said.

"In Oregon about 5,900 students will not return to the classrooms this fall, estimates Glen Weaver, supervisor of occupational guidance in the state department of education.

"Nationally it is estimated that about 300,000 who were in school this past year and not yet graduated can be expected to drop out this fall.

Minear said "department of labor research studies show that changes in occupational requirements in our nation make it imperative that an individual complete high school or many employment doors will be closed to him."
