

FUTURE BRIDE HONORED — Betty Kerns, right, who will be married Sept. 7 to James Maryott, received many lovely gifts at a shower this week given by Mrs. Elbert Stiles, Mrs. Fred Ehlers and Mrs. Murdo Morrison in the Round Table Room of the Winema Hotel. Assisting with the gifts were Betty's sisters, Judy, left, and Janet.

NEW YORK (NEA) — If you were to ask a college girl what she needed most for the fall semester, she might well say she would give anything for a "wardrobe stretcher." That's just what she'll get with the season's co-ordinates.

The jumper is back, prettier than ever in authentic tartans to be teamed with good-looking sweaters.

And there's a grand whirl of plaid skirts — four gore flared skirts, held by perky suspenders, skirts with hip-stitched pleats, snappy back wraps, and for the sporty lassie, a fringed kiltie and Bermuda shorts.

Sweaters sport new design and patterns. To wear with plaid, there are full-fashioned fur blends with mock turtle necks and wool Shetland cardigans and V-neck pull-overs.

Sweaters with Tyrolean and jacquard designs will top classic all-wool flannel skirts, culottes, slim pants and jumpers in schoolhouse red, green and royal.

The country cousins, corduroy and leather, make news. Back-wrap corduroy jumpers and pants are trimmed with leather and look chic with conversation print blouses.

There's a new fashion tale, too, in the sophisticated matching of full-fashion fur-blend sweaters with fully lined wool-fur blend skirts.

The coed who cuts campus capers in co-ordinates will find that even a limited wardrobe can carry her through until spring vacation.

A ring mold gives a new appearance to familiar meat loaf. Fill the center with rice or potatoes which have been cooked in tomato juice.

Reception Follows Temple Nuptial Rites

A recent reception at the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints honored Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Allred Bleak who were married at the Salt Lake City Temple. Joel L. Richards officiated.

The bride is the former Ellen Kay Horn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gus T. Youngren. Mr. and Mrs. Merlin W. Bleak are parents of the bridegroom.

Reception decorations were pink and white gladioli and pink roses. The four tiered cake was served by Mrs. David J. Davis and punch by Sue Phair and Jean Sterret.

Janice Humphrey was the organist. During the reception selections were sung by a quartet. Elmo and Doug Keck and Gary and Ronnie Phair. Sue Phair and Kurt Fiedler sang solos.

The bride's long sleeve gown featured a bodice of lace with Queen Anne scalloped collar. Seed pearls accented the diamond scroll effect on the front of the bodice. The skirt was net over peau de soie satin with a lace panel in back. A net shoulder length veil was held by a pearl crown.

White phalaenopsis orchids centered the bridal bouquet of white carnations. Phyllis Duncan, San Francisco, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Sherrie Simmons, Roseburg, cousin of the bride, and Jean Shephard and Karen Bleak, sister of the bridegroom, both of this city.

The attendants were dressed alike in frocks of pink crystalline over satin made with short bell shaped skirts. Their corsages were pink and white rosebuds.

Morgan Bleak, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Temple Rites Unite Couple

Carolyn Ruth Sargeant, this city, and Sanford Leroy King, Albany, were united in marriage Aug. 3 at Victory Temple in a ceremony performed by the Rev. Silas Jones.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Lloyd Sargeant of Portland. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel King, Albany, are parents of the bridegroom.

Gladioli in pink shades and white tapers decorated the church for the 8 p.m. service.

Sandy Ruconich was the organist and accompanist for Mrs. Silas Jones, the soloist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a long gown of white organza fashioned with scoop neckline, long tapered sleeves and bell skirt with chapel train. An elbow length illusion veil dotted with seed pearls was secured by a pearl crown. A bouquet of white rosebuds centered with three white orchids was carried atop a white prayer book.

Nancy Thompson, this city, was maid of honor, dressed in a short frock of willow green satin made with bell skirt and self bow at center back.

Joanne King and Marilyn King, both of Albany, sisters of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids and co-ordinators of the bride, Sherry Wheeler and Connie Wheeler, Valjejo, and Marcy Hayes, Rupert, Idaho, were junior bridesmaids. They were dressed in pale green frocks with bows accenting the slightly flared skirts. All attendants carried colonial bouquets of carnations in pink shades.

Jerry King, Albany, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ronald Sargeant, Portland, the bride's brother, was usher.

Mrs. Sargeant wore a lavender jacket dress and Mrs. King chose an outfit in pink and white. Both mothers had white orchid corsages.

The reception was held after the church ceremony in the garden at the bride's home. The wedding cake was four tiered with pink rose trim and topped with the traditional bridal pair. It was served by Mrs. Mel Hayes. Mrs. Arnold Wheeler poured coffee.

The new Mrs. King's going away outfit was a green suit on which she wore the orchids from her bridal bouquet. She is a graduate of Centennial High School in Portland. Her husband is a graduate of West Mennonite School, Albany, and Oregon Technical Institute. They will make their home in Bend where he is employed as a machinist.
