Woman Assails City Council Over Condemnation Of Home

A 75-year-old woman Monday night bitterly denounced city councilmen for instituting condemnation proceedings against her home on Jefferson Street which the city building inspector says is substandard.

Mrs. Hattie Gay said she has "worked all my life," raised nine children and still supports herself. She said she has eventual plans for building a new house on the lot "if the wolves will leave me alone."

She and Mayor R. E. Veatch argued bitterly for several minutes. Veatch said the small frame house at 614 Jefferson is "dangerous" and called Mrs. Gay's attention to a fire two years ago in a similar house which killed an elderly woman.

"I think it would be protecting your life to do something about it," the mayor told Mrs. Gay.

Mrs. Gay shot back: "Maybe you want to drag me in the house and burn me with it. I'm sagging too."

Mrs. Gay spoke after Building Inspector Verne Schortgen made his report. The report said the house has no foundation and has deteriorated to a point where repair is economically unfeasible. The city council finally decided to recess the condemnation hearing until Sept. 3 to allow councilmen to inspect the house personally.

The council Monday night opened bids on three paving projects in the city totalling nearly $70,000.

Asphalt Paving Company of Klamath Falls was the only bidder on each of the projects and each bid was below the city engineer's estimate so councilmen approved them. The contracts are expected to be awarded at the next council meeting Sept. 3.

The largest job is the paving of five blocks of Worden Street from Delta Street to Lytton Street and the additional paving of Addison Street for 211 feet easterly from Worden Street.

Asphalt Paving bid $31,463.40 for the job. The engineer's estimate was $36,538.60.

The second job calls for the paving of seven blocks of street in the Mountain View addition. The job was estimated by the city engineer at $34,488.11 and Asphalt Paving bid $39,878.70.

To be paved are Van Ness from Eldorado through Tiffany; Birch from Van Ness through Park Row; Birch from Eldorado to Euclid; Euclid from Tiffany to Birch; and Benson from Tiffany to Arlington.

The third job would pave Calhoun Street in the Mountain View addition from Benson Street through Park Row, two blocks in

Plants Gear Toward Full Production

By United Press International
The Northwest lumber strike is over, with a few exceptions, but it will be at least two weeks before full production resumes at many plants.

The breakthrough in the strike-lockout that idled 29,000 workers in Oregon, Washington, Northern California and Montana 10 days ago when Georgia-Pacific Corp. agreed to give members of two unions a wage increase of 20 1/2 cents an hour over a three-year period.

The International Woodworkers of America and the Lumber and Sawmill Workers Union rapidly won similar agreements from other firms and employer groups.

However, union employees of the 196-member Timber Operators Council are not scheduled to announce their vote on ratification of the contract until Aug. 27.

Employees of the Big Six bargaining group—composed of Weyerhaeuser, Crown Zellerbach, U.S. Plywood, St. Regis Paper, International Paper and Rayonier—began returning to work last week. They ratified the contract last weekend.

Mena's a Plywood Corp. at North Bend, Ore., called back its maintenance crews Monday, but its other 430 employees took their annual vacation at the time of the strike and are not scheduled to return until Sept. 2.

A spokesman for the J. Neils Division of St. Regis Paper Co. in Montana said today it would be at least 10 days before lumber production returns to normal in that area.

County Street Projects Move Near Completion

Five of 13 street improvement projects to be completed at a cost of some $80,000 by the Klamath County Road Department this fiscal year are in the final stages of completion, Winston Kurth, assistant county engineer, reported Tuesday.

The street work to wind up soon is in the Stewart-Lenox Addition and includes the following projects: Emerald Street from Highway 66 south to a dead end; Cortez Street from Balsam Drive north to a dead end; Fawn Avenue from Cortez Street to Agate Street; Douglas Avenue between Emerald Street and Balsam Drive, and Cortez Street south from Highway 66 to Fawn Avenue.

Streets included in four other street improvement projects have been gravel surfaced and are to be paved later this summer or early in the fall, Kurth said. The projects are Cottage Avenue from Ward Street west to a dead end; Shasta Way to Frieda Avenue; Kane Street from Shasta Way to Bryant Avenue, and Belair Drive west of Madison Avenue.

Also included in the paving work are two streets which have yet to be gravel surfaced. They are Watson Street from Cannon Avenue north to a dead end and Anderson Street from Summers Lane to Gettle Street.

The other two of the 13 projects are scheduled for completion later this year in Pelican City at two points along Lindbergh Street, including, first, Quarry to Rickenbacker streets and, secondly, from Acosta to Coli streets.

The street improvement work was scheduled by the county engineer's office upon the petition of property owners in the areas involved and will be financed by them through Bancroft Bonding, Kurth said.

At the completion of the projects, the streets will be accepted by the county and maintained at its expense as part of the county road system.

Sacred Heart Lists Changes In Faculty

Sister Victorine, OSF, principal of Sacred Heart Academy, Klamath Falls, has announced the faculty changes for the school year. In order to care for the increased high school enrollment an additional teacher has been assigned to the staff. Sister Marie Antoinette, OSF, who taught at St. Leo High School, Tacoma, will serve in the English department.

Sister Emmamary Mary, OSF, will assume duties at St. Francis Academy, Baker, and will be replaced by Sister Agnes Cornelia, OSF, also of St. Leo School. She will teach social studies.

Marvin Delplanche, coach at the academy for three years, has been replaced by Ross Carriaga, graduate of the University of Oregon. Besides his coaching duties, Carriaga will teach boys' physical education and general science.

Three changes in the grade school faculty also have been announced. Sister Ruth Dolores, OSF, will teach at St. Joseph Academy, Pendleton. Sister Marie Philip, OSF, transferred from McMinnville, will be the new first grade teacher.

Sister Therese Marguerite, OSF, who will teach at McMinnville, will be replaced by Sister Rose Marietta, OSF, of St. Leo School.

Teaching fourth grade will be Sister Jamesita, OSF, who has been transferred from Portland. Sister Frances Lorraine, OSF, is now stationed at St. Andrew's Mission, Pendleton.

All other faculty positions will remain as last year.

Registration for students planning to attend Sacred Heart Academy will be held for the grade school on Wednesday, Aug. 28. High school registration will be Thursday, Aug. 29.

All incoming freshmen who did not attend the academy last year are required to take a Standard Placement Test at 10 a.m. on Aug. 29 in Room 201 of the high school building.
