Wally Butts Holds New One For Record Book As Jury Awards Him Multi-Million Verdict

ATLANTA (UPI) — Wallace Butts, the round little man of football whose teams at the University of Georgia earned him fame for 22 years, held a new one for the record books today — $3,060,000 libel suit judgment against the Saturday Evening Post.

It was the second highest award ever made in a libel suit and the highest ever involving a sports personality.

Butts, sometimes called "Weeping Wally" in football coaching circles, wept openly when the jury brought in its decision Tuesday in federal court. It came after seven hours and 18 minutes of deliberation and climaxed a suit that had run into its third week in testimony from more than 30 witnesses.

But Butts was chipper at a news conference an hour later.

"I feel like a champ," the former coach and then athletic director said.

Other Developments

There were these immediate developments:

—The Saturday Evening Post said it will appeal the award by the jury of 12 businessmen. It has 30 days in which to file briefs.

—Georgia defensive line coach John Gregory, the only member of the Georgia athletic staff to testify for Butts, was fired from his job by Georgia coach Johnny Griffith. Gregory immediately charged the firing came because of his stand in the controversy.

—Curtis Publishing Co., publisher of the Saturday Evening Post, said in New York that it has slashed its losses for the second quarter to $1,099,000 from a loss of $14,727,000 for the same period last year.

—Southern Conference Commissioner Bernie Moore said the verdict should help lift "the dark cloud" hanging over intercollegiate football and the Southeastern Conference.

—An Internal Revenue Service spokesman in Washington indicated that federal taxes may take a big chunk of any final settlement. The spokesman cited a Supreme Court decision holding that punitive damages paid to a person in a libel suit are taxable. He said also that compensatory damages also may be taxable, if the injury for which they were paid causes no loss of income.

Second Largest

The $3,060,000 award — $60,000 for actual damages and $3 million in punitive damages — was second only to the $3.5 million won by New York radio commentator John Henry Faulk against a publication, Avarie, Inc.

Faulk contended in article in Avarie connected him with a pro-Communist group and led to his dismissal by the Columbia Broadcasting System and to a subsequent blacklist in the broadcast industry.

Butts claimed that his character was smeared and his career ruined by an article, "The Story of a College Football Fix," appearing in the March 23 issue of the Post.

The Post, in the magazine article, reported that Butts, in an overheard telephone conversation, had given valuable secrets about the University of Georgia football team to Alabama coach Paul (Bear) Bryant prior to last fall's game between the two schools. Alabama won, 35-0.

Bryant also sued for $10 million and that suit is still pending in the federal court at Birmingham. The Post has asked for a change of venue.

Palmer Whips Pair To Get Series Spot

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — The last spot in the World Series of Golf was filled today by the first man you'd figure to do it — Arnold Palmer.

Palmer did it the hard way beating Phil Rodgers and Jack Cupit in a special 18-hole playoff Tuesday to win the fourth and final berth in the World Series of Golf coming up Sept. 7-9.

Palmer now has shot at winning $89,000 in the next three weeks.

Any part of those winnings — and the minimum is $5,000 — will add more luster to his golfing gold, which already is an all-time season's record of $96,955.

He'll start shooting Thursday in the $5,000 American Golf Classic over the same course he trounced Rodgers and Cupit. And he will be favored to defend the Classic championship he won last year. First place money is $9,000, with bonuses of $5,000 for a possible total of $14,000.

Next week he gets a crack at $25,000 first place money in an exhibition match against Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player at Waukegan, Ill., after which $50,000 in first place money will be on the line in the World Series of Golf.

"That sure is a lot of money I'm shooting for," smiled Palmer after he had shot his winning 34-35-49, one under par, over the long and tough Firestone Country Club course Tuesday.

He actually got in a shot at all that loot because Nicklaus won two of the four tournaments which decided the World Series of Golf participants. Nicklaus, who has won $81,355 thus far this year, won the Masters and PGA. That let him in with Julius Boros, the U. S. Open winner, and Bob Charles, who won the British Open.

When there are duplicate winners, the qualifying berths go to one of those who finished either in the runner-up spots or playoffs.

Van Brocklin's Vikings Look Different At All Positions

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another of a series of dispatches sizing up the prospects of professional football teams for the 1963 season.

By BOB MARTEL
United Press International
BEMIDJI, Minn. (UPI) — You might call the Minnesota Vikings "Van Brocklin's Kiddie Korps."

Gone are all except three of the original group of castoffs and old-timers the Vikings acquired in the National Football League's "grab-bag" prior to their maiden 1961 season. Those three are line-men Grady Alderman, Gerry Huth and Frank Youso.

Pass-catcher Jerry Reichow, starting his eighth NFL season at 29, is the granddaddy of the squad. He is one of only five Vikings with more than four seasons of pro experience.

Last year coach Norm Van Brocklin played 11 rookies and 8 second-year men on his two platoons. This year there will be a continued emphasis on rookies and youth.

Many of the boys we have in camp must learn a great deal," Van Brocklin said. "But there is more enthusiasm this year than ever before and I think we'll be vastly improved."

The Vikings finished sixth in the Western Conference last year with a 2-11-1 mark, beating out the last-place Los Angeles Rams. "I see that we're picked to finish last this season," Van Brocklin said. "That's all right with me. You're in trouble when they pick you to finish first."

The Vikings have an impressive group of rookies in camp led by free agent Ron VanderKelen of Wisconsin.

VanderKelen, who rose to national prominence in this year's Rose Bowl game, is counted on to back first-string quarterback

FIRST ANTELOPE — One of the first antelopes of the season was taken on opening day Saturday near Gerber Reservoir by Pat Miller, co-owner of the Northwest Gun Shop in Klamath Falls (shown here). The antelope sports 14 1/2-inch horns and was taken from about 600 yards with one shot from a custom .243. Miller is having the head mounted.

X-League office has ruled that Sunday's win by Portland over San Diego is not an official contest.

Salt Lake, 4-3 in 10 innings. Oklahoma City now leads the Rangers by three games. Seattle scored a workmanlike 5-1 decision over Portland in other action.

It was a bad night for Portland all-around. The league office ruled Sunday's rain-spattered 2-1 decision by Portland over San Diego in 6 innings was no contest and struck the game from the record books.

Tacoma grabbed a 5-0 lead over Hawaii after two innings with Matty Alou's two-run homer in the second inning.

But Bob Perry hit a grand slammer for the Islanders and Ed Kirkpatrick hit a 3-run homer in the sixth and Charlie Dees added a 3-run double. It was 12-5 after eight and Tacoma exploded for four runs in the ninth. But Tom Morgan finished up for winner Jim Meglithin and saved the win.

PCL Lists Leaders

By United Press International
The hottest team in the Pacific Coast League is the Hawaii Islanders, but the distance between the second place Hawaii and first-place Spokane is just too great to make up.

Hawaii made it 10 wins in a row and 15 out of their last 16 Tuesday night in Honolulu with a free-swinging 12-9 victory over Tacoma.

But Spokane shows little sign of folding. The Indians edged San Diego 4-3 behind Phil Ortega to stay 13 games ahead of the Islanders in the Northern Division chase.

Things staved about the same in the Southern Division. Oklahoma City and Denver split a twin bill with the hard-hitting Bears picking up an 8-7 win and then losing 6-4.

Dallas-Ft. Worth fell a half-game further back by losing to SAN MATEO, Calif. (UPI) — The Pacific Coast League has new leaders in both hitting and pitching, according to latest official statistics by league statistician William J. Weiss covering games through Sunday.

Among hitters with at least 425 at bats, Chico Salmon of Denver is hitting .329 and Billy Cowan of Salt Lake, the leader for several weeks, is second at .326.

Other leaders include Cesar Tovar of Dallas-Ft. Worth and Carlos Bernier of Hawaii, both of whom have scored 102 runs. San Diego's Deron Johnson has 30 homers, while Cowan has driven in 108 runs. Tovar had 37 doubles and Chico Ruiz of San Diego has stolen 43 bases.

Giants' Pitching Fails; Hope For Pennant Fades

By HAL WOOD
UPI Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The San Francisco Giants, in the throes of another losing streak, can just about be counted out of the 1963 National League pennant chase.

Take the word of Milwaukee manager Bobby Bragan, whose Braves handed the Giants their fourth consecutive loss, 6-1, Tuesday night.

"I would say that the Los Angeles Dodgers have a commanding position in the race," said Bragan, which was a conservative estimate. The Dodgers hold a 6-1-2 game lead over the second place St. Louis Cardinals and champions, the Giants.

"I don't think San Francisco will get back in the race because they don't seem to have the pitching. Billy Pierce and Jack Sanford, who won 40 games between them last year, are having an off-season."

That's putting it mildly. Pierce, who pitched beautiful ball for six innings Tuesday night and had a 1-0 lead, folded completely in the seventh when the first three men singled. Bob Bolin came in to hurl relief—and like all Giants' relievers lately, stossed a home run ball that clinched the contest for the Braves.

Pierce now has won only three games last season against nine defeats. Last year he won 16 and was unbeaten in Candlestick Park.

In the big seventh Tuesday night, the Braves scored five times with the major blow being Lee Maye's 10th homer of the season, good for three runs.

The lone Giant run came in the third inning on Harvey Kuenn's walk, an infield out, and Willie McCovey's single.

Bob Sadowski was the winner for the Braves, hurling six innings and allowing only three hits before going out for a pinch hitter during the seventh inning rally. Bob Shaw finished up for him.

San Francisco picked up another three hits off Shaw, but hit into three double plays during the night to kill potential rallies.

The two teams met again this afternoon with Bob Hendley slated to hurl for the Braves and Gaylord Perry, just back from Tacoma, set for mound duty with the Giants.

Rams Make Ollie Trade

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Ollie Matson, whom the Los Angeles Rams acquired in 1959 for three-quarters of a football team, today will report to the Detroit Lions after being traded in exchange for offensive lineman Harley Sewell.

Matson, trying to regain his old fullback position with the Rams this season, "became expendable" with the presence of fullbacks Ben Wilson, Glen Shaw and Art Perkins, said Elroy Hirsch, special assistant to Rams' president Dan Reeves, in making the announcement Tuesday night.

Hirsch said the two veteran players will report to their new clubs immediately.

Sewell, in pro football for 11 years and formerly with the University of Texas, was termed by Hirsch as "one of the outstanding guards of the Western Conference" of the National Football League.

Matson was traded to the Rams from the then Chicago Cardinals for eight players and a future draft choice. At the time it was believed to be one of the biggest deals in NFL history, second only in size to the Rams' 1952 swap of 11 men to the Dallas Texans for linebacker Les Richter.

As for the Matson-Sewell swap, Hirsch said, "we needed an offensive lineman and they (Detroit) needed a backfield man."

Matson, who starred for the University of San Francisco, was used sparingly in the 1962 season as a slotback or wingback and occasionally on defense.

Car-Truck Collision Kills Boxer

EUGENE (UPI) — Bobby Lee Horn, a fast-rising middleweight boxer from Springfield, was killed when his car slammed into the side of a heavy truck on State Highway 126 near here late Tuesday night.

The accident occurred only four days before the 22-year-old fighter was to have his 19th professional bout.

Horn, who compiled a sparkling 16-1 record in his short career as a pro, was killed instantly. He was alone in his car.

Car Hit Service Truck

State police said the fighter's vehicle collided with a Northwest Natural Gas Co. service truck at about 11:05 p.m. at an intersection about 500 feet east of the Eugene city limits. Three men in the truck were injured, one critically. The car was demolished and the truck heavily damaged.

It took two tow trucks to rip Horn's car apart to get his body out, police said.

Police said the truck, which was driven by Leland Robert Marsh, 35, Springfield, was attempting to make a left turn when the crash occurred.

Marsh was critically injured and was taken to Sacred Heart Hospital at Eugene. Taken to the hospital with noncritical injuries were Alvis Alsip, 30, and Haskell Black, 28, both of Eugene, the other occupants.

Fight Scheduled Saturday

Horn was scheduled to meet J. C. Johnson of Seattle in the 10-round main event of a boxing card at Woodburn Saturday night.

He lost his first fight in his last outing, a 10-round decision to Don Fulmer of West Jordan, Utah, at Eugene July 3.

Horn, a stocky man with short arms, was noted for his wide-in aggressive style of fighting and his punching ability.

He is survived by his widow.

Complaint Kills Game

NEW YORK (UPI) — Negro player complaints over "semi-integrated seating" in Mobile's Ladd Memorial Stadium has resulted in the cancellation of an American Football League game between Oakland and New York scheduled for the Alabama city Friday night.

The AFL office here announced the cancellation Tuesday night because the sponsors could not promise completely integrated seating the stadium, scene of the scheduled contest.

Four members of the Oakland Raiders complained Monday that the stadium was segregated, and refused to play as long as it remained segregated. The players were Art Powell, Clem Daniels, Bo Robertson and Fred Williams.

Milt Woodard, assistant commissioner of the AFL, said the decision to cancel was reached in amicable discussion with the sponsoring Mobile groups and owners Dave Werblin of New York and Wayne Valley of Oakland.

"Since the sponsors felt fully integrated seating was impossible, and Negro members of the competing teams were reluctant or refused to play in a semi-integrated stadium, it was incumbent upon the league office to request cancellation," Woodard said.

Coach Al Davis of Oakland supported his players' refusal to play and said they would not be penalized.

East Squad Holds Drill

PENDLETON (UPI) — The East squad held a game-style scrimmage Tuesday night in preparation for the 12th annual East-West Shrine high school football game here Saturday night.

East coach Bill Hargadine of Central said quarterback Greg Hartman, also of Central, still is out of action because of a tooth infection.

John McKern, 225-lb. guard from Brownsville, was singled out by East coaches for his work in the scrimmage.

The West squad worked out briefly Tuesday afternoon under the direction of coach Chet Bowser of Seaside.

Coast Clubs Knocked Out

PORTLAND (UPI) — Springfield and Camas, Wash., were eliminated from the state American Amateur Baseball Congress tournament here Tuesday night.

Grimm's of Vancouver, Wash., ousted Springfield 3-2 with three runs in the final inning, while Forest Grove defeated Camas 4-1.

In championship bracket games tonight, Cascade plays the City Beavers of Portland and Archer Blower meets A. B. Smith. Both are Portland teams.

USGA Meet Cuts To 8

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass. (UPI) — Former champions Jo Anne Gunderson and Mrs. Anne Welts were favored to be among the eight who survive today's third and fourth rounds of the 63rd U. S. Golf Association Women's Amateur championship.

Sentiment also aided with two West Coast teen-agers to avoid elimination as the remaining 32 girls tee up on the 6,195-yard Taconic Golf Club course in this scenic western Massachusetts community.

Miss Gunderson, a pretty 23-year-old blonde from Providence, R. I., is after her fourth title in seven years. Mrs. Welts, a Mt. Vernon, Wash., schoolteacher, is eyeing her third championship since 1958.

Janis Ferraris of San Francisco and Peggy Conley of Spokane, Wash., both 16, scored 3 and 1 victories over their opponents Tuesday on the haze-shrouded, par-72 layout.

These two girls have been battling each other for various titles all year. Miss Ferraris took the USGA Girls' Junior Amateur last week by beating Miss Conley, a repeat of her earlier victory over Miss Conley in the Western Junior Amateur.

Miss Conley, en route to her Pacific Northwest title this year, ousted Miss Ferraris in the semifinals.

Miss Gunderson, continuing her flawless sub-par golf, meets Mrs. Robert O'Connor of Wellesley Hills, Mass., in the third round. Mrs. Welts is matched against Nancy Roth of Elkhardt, Ind.

The two shotmakers had little trouble defeating their opponents Tuesday. Miss Gunderson won her match with Patricia Johnson of Spartanburg, S. C., 7 and 6, while Mrs. Welts carved a 5 and 4 victory over Julie Hull of Anderson, Ind.
