Husband Qualifies For Canonization

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: Last Saturday night I had a date with Chuck. I've known him for a long time but it was only hello and good-bye. When he asked me to this dance I was quite surprised.

I'm not the greatest dancer in the world, but then neither is Chuck. When the band came out with the Bossa Nova I was stumped because I'm not up on that stuff. I stumbled a little and Chuck said, "Holy cow, will you please try to follow me." I tried but couldn't get the hang of it. It was pretty gruesome.

Then we passed a mirror and I saw Chuck signaling a guy in the stag line to take me off his hands. Chuck held up two fingers. In a few minutes Pete came over and cut in.

The next day I found out from Pete's sister that Chuck had paid Pete two bucks to "save his life." I'm so mad I can't see straight. What should I do?

—WENDY

Dear Wendy: Send Chuck one dollar in an envelope and tell him you don't think it's fair that he should stand the total cost of the cut-in—because you were just as happy to see Pete as he was.

Dear Ann Landers: My wife's sister telephoned us four months ago in the middle of the night—as usual. She was hysterical. Her husband had come home roaring drunk and was breaking up the furniture and smashing dishes. So my wife begged me to drive over and get her sister and the four children.

Elephant Birth Awaited At Zoo

PORTLAND (UPI)—The watch has resumed in the maternity ward of Portland Zoo's elephant house.

Zoo officials say the time is near for Tuy Hoa and Pet. They predicted the same thing months ago but insist they can't be too far off this time. Electrocardiogram tests above the baby elephants are alive and kicking, according to Zoo veterinarian Matthew Maherry.

Packy, the first elephant born in the United States in 43 years, was born in the zoo April 14, 1952. The second baby, Me-Tu, came along a few months later.

The boy was pronounced dead on arrival at Douglas Community Hospital in Roseburg. He was shot in the stomach.

The brother told authorities the boys had been shooting at hawks and he leaned the rifle against a barn wall. He said his back was turned when he heard the weapon discharge.

since, in our five-room bungalow. We have five children of our own so you can imagine what the place looks like. There are kids on the floor in sleeping bags, on the back porch in a hammock, and on Army cots in the living room. The grocery bill is out of this world and the milk bill is up there with it.

The father of these kids has not sent over one dime to help out and I am sick of it. Last night I learned my sister-in-law has been having "social dates" with her husband. When I asked her about it she said they were considering going back together. I want her out of our house immediately. My wife says it would not be charitable. What do you think?

Dear Wendy: I think you deserve to be canonized. Your brother-in-law is obligated by law to support his family and he should be made to do it. And your family should not have to live like sardines because you've got kooky relatives.

Dear Ann Landers: You are very good at solving other people's problems. How about taking a crack at this one?

① $x^2 + 2 - (4x - 2) = 0$

—MATH
Dear Math: My mathematics consultant, Michael F., tells me your problem is pretty dull and almost too easy to solve. Here is the answer:

② $x^2 + 2 - (4x - 2) = 0$
 $x^2 - 4x + 4 = 0$
 $(x - 2)^2 = 0$
 $x = 2$

MR. F. presented what he described as a far more interesting problem and claims it has no solution. It is known as Fermat's Last Theorem. Mathematicians have been breaking their heads over this one for over 300 years. All you geniuses who figured out how long it would take me to iron the bedsheets laid end to end from Ithaca, N.Y., to Chicago, should have a ball with this. Be my guest:

Find whole numbers x, y, and z so that for some whole number n (greater than 2)

③ $x^n + y^n = z^n$

To learn how to keep your boy friend in line without losing him, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Necking and Petting—And How Far To Go," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.
