Nurses Slate State Meet At Medford

Mrs. Helen Dwyer, Klamath Falls, state president of Oregon Licensed Practical Nurses, will preside and speak during the 13th annual convention to be held in Medford Sept. 17, 18 and 19. Headquarters will be in the Medford Hotel.

Theme of this year's meeting will be "Service Is Love."

Medford Mayor James Dunlevy will welcome the delegates and greetings will be by William J. Williams, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Thelma Marty, vice president of Area 4, and the Jackson County Medical Society.

The program will also include a state board meeting, president's council, a memorial service, business reports, luncheons, Hawaiian luau, election and installation of officers and other features.

Dr. Mario Campagna, well-known neurosurgeon, will speak on the convention theme.

Roger Ellis, H. A. Meredith, and Tom Flanagan head the committee which will serve as an advisory body to the council. The committee held its first meeting Monday night and holds tentative authority until council confirmation. At the initial meeting, it was felt that no time should be lost in maintaining the best possible landing and service facilities.

Margaret Olsen was appointed

sen. county airport coordinator, as county adviser. Councilmen Claude Slade and Floyd Cresson will serve as ex-officio members of the committee.
