

Children's Theater Brings Fun For All

One of the most rewarding uses of a basement playroom is to set up a children's theatre. This provides both an organized outlet for young energy and a confidence-builder developing poise.

A children's theatre is not a difficult or expensive project. Just follow these simple directions compiled by the Construction Research Bureau, the national clearing house for building information:

1. Mark off the stage area at one end of the playroom. It will be playroom wide but the depth can range from 5 to 12 feet, depending on the length of the playroom. There's no need for a higher level stage.

2. Hang the curtain which tells you immediately you are in a theatre. It can be simply set up by stringing a clothesline between the curtain from metal loops which can be easily pulled along the line.

3. Set up audience folding chairs. Constant restless moving of chair and furniture rough on the stage area could be rough on floors, so it is desirable to have a vinyl asbestos flooring which withstands traffic scuffing and stains and is easily cleaned. Such a floor is easily put down by the homeowner himself.

4. Performance materials are available at reasonable, non-royalty costs in the books "Dramatic Ballads" and "Dramatics and Ceremonies" obtainable from the National Office, Girl Scouts of America, #30 3rd Avenue, NYC. Other materials are in the local library. Children can also perform by singing songs or reciting poems.

5. A theatrical mood can be attained by putting photos of movie and television stars on the walls. A stage curtain of blank muslin can be decorated with the words Children's Theatre and such famous names as Shakespeare, Shaw and Ibsen. Smiling or weeping gargoyles can be added. Theatre programs can be tacked to a bulletin board which also can hold rehearsal calls.

6. Preliminary Meetings. Skits or readings to be put on should be discussed at a preliminary meeting and parts assigned. Rehearsals before a specific performance time are important and can be a lot of fun.

7. Not all the amusement is on-stage. Boys often love the roles of stage manager (two needed to pull curtains open and closed) prop man (for setting out chairs and sets) and publicity director (writing up announcements for neighborhood distribution).

A children's theatre gives you a chance to play at being a glamorous movie star onstage and allows boys to demonstrate strength and masculinity by pushing around seats and furniture. It's fun for everyone.

Diane Dennis Is Honored

Diane Dennis was honored at a farewell coffee in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Dennis, 5300 South Etna, on Thursday morning, Aug. 15. She has taught fifth grade at Shasta School for four years and will teach in the San Francisco Bay Area during the coming year.

Among the many people attending the affair were some of her former students and their mothers, fellow teachers, and many long-time friends.

The service in the Suburban Heights Baptist Church, was at 7 o'clock in the evening of July 5 with Rev. William E. Cross reading the service.

Pink gladioli, white daisies and fern in beauty baskets at the altar, were complemented by lighted white tapers in white candleabra.

Bridesmaids were Carla Tomlin, longtime high school and college friend and Renda Brummel, Portland, niece of the bride. Marje Baus of Santa Clara, Calif., was maid of honor. All wore pink

AFTER CEREMONY — Mr. and Mrs. James Harkenrider left pulpit of Suburban Heights Baptist Church following their midsummer wedding.

Pink And White Chosen For Summer Nuptials

For her exchange of wedding vows with James Harkenrider, Swan James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank James of Klamath Falls, chose for her wedding gown white organza over tulle, fashioned with full length skirt and a softly draped cowl neckline that also formed brief cap sleeves.

Her sheer veil was held by a above the elbow white gloves. Her bridal bouquet was of pink roses and stephanotis.

She was given in marriage by her father.

Bridesmaids were Carla Tomlin, longtime high school and college friend and Renda Brummel, Portland, niece of the bride. Marje Baus of Santa Clara, Calif., was maid of honor. All wore pink sheath dresses with tiny hats of white veiling and white slippers. They carried pink and white blossoms.

Kevin Brummel of Portland, nephew of the bride, lighted the tapers.

Victor Laslov, college friend of the bride and bridegroom, who introduced them, was best man. Ushers were Bud Alechma, Fresno, Calif., and Frank Albert, who served with the bridegroom in the Navy.

Mrs. Alice Williams, Chico, was at the organ for the wedding music. Marsha Griggs sang "Walk Hand in Hand," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mrs. James wore a sheath in a soft shade of pink. Mrs. Vavrina chose white, accented with white and silver accessories.

The reception was held in the Pine Grove Room of the Willard Hotel where Mrs. Alice Tomlin was in charge of the guest book. Mrs. O'Neal were at the punch bowl.

Mrs. Marcella Savage and Mrs. Mary Kidwell served the cake after the confection was first shared by the Mr. and Mrs. Harkenrider. Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Brummel officiated at the gift table.

Out-of-state guests were the bridegroom's mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Vavrina, his brother, Jerry Harkenrider, all of Ludington, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Millen, aunt and uncle of the bridegroom, from Chicago; John Harkenrider, bridegroom's father, Chicago.

Furniture Talk

By BOB CUSHMAN "HOME FURNISHING IS OUR BUSINESS"

There's a difference in home furnishings as in most things, between a trend and a fad. Fads are short-lived, usually "gimmicky" in nature, extreme changes that people tire of quickly. A trend is slower to catch on, longer lasting, and generally rooted in a wider change throughout society.

Decorators and furniture manufacturers recognize an important trend in today's home furnishing. It is a strong swing toward greater elegance, perhaps a reaction away from the stark simplicity of some modern styles.

It is this trend which has brought about the great popularity of French and Italian Provincial furniture. Contemporary styles have a greater richness of fabric and elegance of design. Good Danish Modern has a warmth and elegance of line, wood finish and fabric textures which has enabled it to hold its own. And America's own Early American furnishings continue to be popular.

The trend is toward elegance but it embraces many different styles of furniture. Helping you choose furniture and accessories wisely, regardless what is merely a fad but aware of trends which reflect good taste, is our business. We'll be glad to talk over your decorating problems at any time.

Idaho Falls, Idaho, Couple Weds In K.F.

Peace Memorial Presbyterian Church was chosen by Jo Ann White and Kenneth A. Detroit for their Aug. 20 wedding. Both bride and bridegroom are residents of Idaho Falls, Idaho.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Celestine White of Monroe, La. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Detroit of Klamath Falls.

The double ring ceremony was before a background of deep pink asters and white gladioli. Rev. Leung Sibbet officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Dave White of Leadville, Colo., chose white satin for her wedding gown. The flared skirt with brocade insets in a floral pattern swept from a softly molded bodice with rounded neckline and brief sleeves. Her seed pearl crown held her hip length veil of illusion. Her gown was designed by her future husband, who also designed and made her crown.

She carried an arrangement of pink and white gladioli and a bedroom handkerchief loaned by a sister-in-law, Mrs. Dave White of Leadville, Colo., who was matron of honor.

Her sky blue organza sheath frock was worn with a tiny matching ericet that held a brief veil. Her corsage was of white gladioli blossoms.

Janice De Grande was organist. Kenton Colohan, cousin of the bridegroom was soloist.

Richard Detroit, Eugene, was best man for his brother. The tall white tapers at the altar were lighted by Clinton Mills, who also ushered.

Parents of the bride were unable to attend. Mrs. Detroit wore an orchid lace sheath with white accessories and white flowers at the shoulder.

The reception was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Detroit where white wedding bells and pink bows were used about the room where the new Mr. and Mrs. Detroit received congratulations.

Kay Detroit, sister of the bridegroom served the wedding cake. Sandy Detroit, a sister, was at the punch bowl. Mrs. Maple McCollum, longtime friend of the family, assisted about the room.

Following a honeymoon along the Oregon Coast, Mr. and Mrs. Detroit will be at home at 888 Shoup Avenue in Idaho Falls, where both are employed.

Mrs. Detroit, who graduated from school in Albuquerque, N.M., is a mathematician at the Argonne National Laboratories in Idaho Falls.

He is a graduate of Klamath Union High School and Oregon Technical Institute, now is an electronics technician at Argonne National Laboratories.

Helping Hand Society Meets

MALIN — Mrs. Gerry Brown was hostess, Wednesday, Aug. 21, to 20 members of the Helping Hand Society, with a 12:30 luncheon. Mrs. Harold Kniskern, president, was in charge of the short business meeting.

It was voted to donate $15 to Malin Library for the purchase of 15 children's books. This is one of the society's yearly projects. They also voted to add a rule to the by-laws stating any new member must belong to the society six months before entertaining.

The Ways and Means committee displayed jewelry for sale as a money making project. The meeting adjourned to meet with Mrs. Halbert Wilson in September.

Those present were Mrs. Merle Lonsley, Mrs. Harold Kniskern, Mrs. Dick Derry, Mrs. Bill Hays, Mrs. Francis Street, Mrs. George Pappé, Mrs. Hubert Morelock, Mrs. Bob Brown, Mrs. Carlo Cornett, Mrs. Lester Schreiner, Mrs. James Lacy, Mrs. Norman Jacob, Mrs. Jim Bunnell, Mrs. Bess Ann Smith, Mrs. Emma Wilson, Mrs. Halbert Wilson, Mrs. Ben Bolin, Mrs. Alice Olsen, Mrs. Merle Evans, and Mrs. Clarence Kirkpatrick.

THEY COMPLIMENT YOU

Orange is complimentary to those of you with glowing sun-tans. Redheads, blondes, brunettes and brownettes can wear the orange shades if the correct foundation and lipstick shades are used with them. Foundation makeup with yellow tones will make you look jaundiced when combined with the orange.

Beige-rose tones are best because they give a look of warmth to the complexion and that goes well with the oranges. Pastel lipsticks such as candy or brandy orange complete the color co-ordinates.

"Ski look" sweaters of black and white will be equally suited for the ski slopes and country living.

MARRIED AUGUST 10 — Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth A. Detroit are shown following their wedding in Peace Memorial Presbyterian Church. They will make their home in Idaho Falls.

OVER THE GARDEN GATE

The August meeting of the Mt. Laki Garden Club was held at the home of Mrs. Bob Moore.

The small club show, to be held September 9, 1963 at the Everett Jones' home, was discussed by Crystal Cheyne.

Ola Houck talked on the Flowering Peach Tree for this locality.

Grace Fairclough read an interesting article on our friend, the robin.

Sylvia Jones gave some timely advice on pesticides and control of Botrytis in peonies. Spraying with copper sulphate after leaves are cut off in the fall and again in the spring helps prevent the virus.

SPACE SAVER

For the apartment dweller with limited space, entertaining becomes a problem. One way to solve it is with a drop leaf that attaches to the wall when not in use. But, as a rule, drop leaves, attaches to the wall when not in use, although unobtrusive, do not enhance a room's decor. Rather than simply attaching the drop leaf, plan a wall niche with shelving to show off prized accessories, then fit the drop leaf against it as a wall inset. By doing this, you can decorate the outer surface in an attractive design that harmonizes with furnishings. The inner section can be topped in laminate to serve as a durable, stain-resistant surface for care-free, spur-of-the-moment dining.
