WALL STREET NEW YORK (UPI)—The Dow Jones industrial average came close to a new all-time high today as stocks scored their fourth consecutive advance. The senior average came within a little more than two points away from its high 734.91 set Dec. 13, 1961, but then backed down again as strong overhead resistance blocked the way for a new record. Trading remained heavy on the upswing and brokers felt that it would just be a matter of days before the old closing high was broken. By United Press International Stocks higher in active trading. Tavern Burglarized Of Nearly $2,000

Cash, checks and merchandise valued at nearly $2,000 were taken from the Mecca Tavern, 531 Main Street, early Sunday morning by burglars who carted off the bar's 400-pound safe. Inside the safe were $950 in cash, $615 in checks, a $250 electric wristwatch, a set of bits and insurance papers. The bar's juke box coin box was broken open and seven cartons of cigarettes and two boxes of cigars were also taken. The burglary was discovered at 6:45 a.m. Sunday by Mike Reilly, part-owner of the tavern. He found the rear door of the building open when he arrived to open up for business. Police found pry bar marks to indicate the burglars entered the tavern by forcing open the front door transom. The 22x22x32-inch safe was wheeled out the rear door on a hand truck and the burglars apparently used a pickup truck to haul it away. The break-in occurred sometime after the bar was closed at 2 a.m. Sunday.

Officers Seek Woman Missing From Custody

A Klamath Falls woman who should be in custody at the county jail is being sought by sheriff deputies due to a "mixup" which resulted during her arraignment in the circuit court of Judge David R. Vandenberg early last month, the Herald and News learned today. At large is Katherine Agnes Baldwin, 23, indicted by the grand jury for threatening the commission of a felony which developed after she allegedly pointed a rifle at a Klamath Falls service station attendant and threatened to shoot him, Aug. 4. The report of Miss Baldwin's absence from the county jail was related to Judge Vandenberg by Sheriff Murray "Red" Britton today, as the jurist prepared to receive entries of plea from the missing woman and five other persons also indicted last month by the grand jury. Before her arraignment Aug. 16, Miss Baldwin had been at large on $2,000 bond she had posted following a preliminary hearing in district court. Sheriff Britton explained to the court that during Miss Baldwin's arraignment he understood that the bail which had been set in district court was continued by Circuit Judge Vandenberg. Actually, it had not. The sheriff reported that he learned of the misunderstanding last week when he received word that Miss Baldwin's bail had been returned to her bondsman by the district court. Britton said that later last week he obtained a bench warrant from Judge Donald A. W. Piper for Miss Baldwin's arrest and has been seeking her since that time. Judge Vandenberg then received pleas of not guilty from four others indicted last month by the grand jury and set the dates of their trials. Those charged and the times for their trials are: Marie Barkley, 23, assault with a dangerous weapon, trial Nov. 4; John Debranski, 35, larceny of a car, trial Oct. 7; Louis Harvey Gibbons, 31, assault with a dangerous weapon, trial Oct. 14, and Donald Switlik, 23, assault with a dangerous weapon, trial Sept. 27. The latter two are charged with complicity in the same crime. On another matter, Judge Vandenberg continued until 2 p.m. today the time he would receive an entry of plea from Clayton Spencer Schultz, 21, also accused of assault with a dangerous weapon. Brasher's doubleton, issued by Ephraim Brasher, goldsmith, and dated 1787, was the only gold coin struck in New York state during the Confederation.

Seven New Ordinances On City Council Agenda

The Klamath Falls City Council will meet tonight in regular session postponed from Monday night because of the Labor Day holiday. Topping the agenda are the final readings of seven ordinances dealing with contracts, condemnation and vacating and conveying of city property. Two of the ordinances will deal with the condemnation of several buildings on Alameda Avenue owned by Frank Weaver. Three ordinances authorizing three contracts with Asphalt Paving Company for street improvement jobs will be read for the last time. Up for council approval is a resolution setting a hearing for a proposal to amend the zoning ordinance. This variance would allow the construction of a mortuary in a C-2 commercial zone as a conditional use and stems from the application of O'Hair's Memorial Chapel for a permit to build a new chapel. Tonight's meeting will be held at 7:30 in council chambers at city hall.

Storms Set 29 Small County Fires

The severe lightning storm Friday and Saturday started 29 fires in the county, but all of them were quickly extinguished by personnel from the Klamath Forest Protective Association and the U.S. Forest Service. KPFA firefighters battled 15 lightning fires over the weekend. After the first lightning assault Friday afternoon, two fires in the King's Cabin area and one each near Louise Lake and Camp 6 were discovered. Saturday, KPFA men fought nine fires. Three of them were near the Swan Lake rim, two were near Calimus Butte and others were located near the Chicken Hills, Buck Peak, Sprague River and Buck Mountain. Sunday, two additional fires were discovered. They were north-west of Sprague River near Swan Lake. All of the Forest Service's 14 fires broke out late Friday or early Saturday. Twelve of them were in the Chiloquin District north of Klamath Falls. One was in the Klamath District and one was in the Chemult District. None of the lightning fires burned more than an acre. KPFA and Forest Service officials said the rain that accompanied the lightning kept the fires from becoming more serious.

His assailant was identified as Charles Byrd, who was arrested an hour after the fight. From the stories of witnesses and the victim, police pieced together this story: Ford and Byrd were playing cards in the kitchen of the residence at 608 Broad Street and began arguing over money. They struggled and Byrd pulled out a pocket knife with a three-inch blade. Ford was slashed and Byrd ran out of the house. Another person in the house called police and a description of Byrd's car was obtained. An hour later, at 1 a.m., he was stopped by a city policeman on Commercial Street and taken into custody.
