

Yanks, Canucks In Down To Wire Fight For Title

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI)—U.S. Amateur championship, will end today after three three-ball matches and six singles matches, making 18 more points available to each team.

The U.S. held a narrow margin heading into the final round with 12 1/2 points compared with 11 for Canada and 3 1/2 for Mexico, but the Canadians showed no signs of faltering Thursday in earning the maximum possible two points in three of six singles matches.

Bert Ticehurst whipped Deane Beman, the 1960 U.S. Amateur champion, 3 and 2, and Tomas Lehman of Mexico, 6 and 5, for one sweep. Douglas Silverberg downed Jose Ortega of Mexico and Richard Davies for the U.S., both 4 and 2, for another. Bill Pidlaski trimmed Dr. Ed Updegraff of the U.S., 1 up, and Augustin Silveira of Mexico, 4 and 3, for the third.

The U.S. had only two who swept the board, Charlie Coe, twice the National Amateur champion, and Dick Sikes, the national collegiate titleholder and former national public champion.

Coe, who ran his Americas Cup record to 12 wins, one half and two losses, had the best medal score of the day, one over par for 17 holes, in tripping Gary Cowan of Canada, 4 and 2, and Juan Estrada of Mexico, 2 and 1. Estrada also beat Cowan, 1 up, for the first losses for Cowan in Americas Cup play in which he had 10 wins.

Sikes defeated Mauricio Urdaneta of Mexico, 5 and 3, and Keith Alexander of Canada, 5 and 4, for his double victory and Urdaneta downed Alexander 3 and 2.

Cards, Crow Is Lost

By United Press International

The St. Louis Cardinals have hot-handed young quarterback Charley Johnson and a sellout crowd tonight to welcome the surprising Minnesota Vikings, but the Big Red aren't crowing.

John David Crow, the Cardinals' leading ground gainer, is out for a month with a damaged ligament in his right knee, and St. Louis will have to put on its Cardinal Glennon Memorial Hospital Benefit Game without him. The Cardinals bring a 2-1 record into the pre-season finale and the Vikings boast a 3-1 exhibition mark.

The expected 32,000 in St. Louis should boost the NFL's pre-season attendance to nearly 950,000. Thus far in 26 dates the NFL has drawn 914,602, an average of 35,178, and should top the record 1,070,725 who witnessed 35 exhibition contests last summer. The rival American Football League averaged only 12,988 customers for its exhibition games, attracting 249,789 for 19 games.

New York fans fear old age may be catching with the Giants as Hugh McElhenney joined the brittle Giant's growing casualty list. The veteran halfback suffered a knee injury in Monday's game with Green Bay and it has steadily worsened. Alex Webster, Phil King and Frank Gifford, all regulars on the offensive team, are sidelined with injuries.

The AFL opens its regular season Saturday night with three-time Eastern Division champion Houston hosting Oakland and defending champ Kansas City (formerly Dallas) traveling to Denver. The four remaining teams see action Sunday in telev. 60 games.

Two more ex-Baltimore Colts joined Webb Ewbank's New York Jets, bringing the total of former Colts now employed by Ewbank to eight. Ken Gregory, an end, and defensive back Bill Baird are the latest additions from Ewbank's former team.

Fullback Cookie Gilchrist of Buffalo, the AFL's player-of-the-year, was expected to start against San Diego Sunday despite a severe rib bruise.

Owl Grid Prospects Due Sunday

The 1963 Oregon Tech football squad will assemble Sunday on the Mile High campus for the initial roll call.

Coach Ron Pheister and assistants Larry Bursleson and Howard Morris are expecting 50 boys to answer the first roll call. Sunday will be the first day and a press day with pictures being taken of the players to kick the season off.

The first day will include the publicity pictures, physical exams, and the issuing of equipment. The Owl roaches hope to put the new gridders through a light workout in the afternoon. The day will be climaxed with a spaghetti feed at the Winema Hotel and chalk talk. The public is invited to attend the feed with a $1 fee.

Coach Pheister expects only two returning lettermen. The Owls will be a team composed of junior college transfers and outstanding high school graduates. The two returning lettermen will be Ken Lohrhard, a guard, and tackle Bob Chard.

The squad will begin daily double workouts on Monday, the first to begin at 9 a.m. They will practice again at 5:30 p.m. The first scrimmage session is slated Saturday, Sept. 14.

Semi-Pro Grid Teams Battle

PORTLAND (UPI)—The semi-pro Portland Thunderbirds and the Seattle Ramblers meet here Saturday night in a charity football game for the Parry Center, an institution for emotionally-disturbed children.

The Thunderbird roster includes such former college players as Art Gilmore, Oregon state; Herm McKinney, Oregon; Tom Buckner, Linfield; and Bob Henderson and Bill Friauf of Washington State.

Former Washington stars Ray Jackson, Martin Wyatt and Nat Davis anchor the Seattle team.

The contest will be played at Multnomah Stadium.

Top Golfers Enter Tourney

EUGENE (UPI)—A field of 34 professionals is entered so far in the Eugene Women's Open golf tournament Sept. 12-15 at the Eugene Country Club.

The list includes defending champion Shirley Englehorn and the tour's leading money winner, Mickey Wright.

MALIN'S CHARGES READY FOR OPENER—The Malin Mustangs were rounding into shape for their opening game against the Henley Jayvee team Saturday, Sept. 14. Here are the 12 top prospects for the Mustangs. They are, in the line, Reggie LeQuieu, Sherm Kalina, Tom Brown, Bill Whitman, Charles Henderson, Warren Cacka and Phil Petrasek. The five backs are Jay and Dale Parrish, Jack Worthington, Ruben Aldinger and Bob Bauer.

Mustangs Stronger This Season, But Still Not Up To League's Par

By JERRY WAGGONER
Herald and News Sports Editor

The Malin Mustangs, stronger than last year's club but still sadly lacking in some size and depth, are prepping for their opener Sept. 14 against the Henley Jayvees with hopes of improving upon their record of last year.

Coach Andy Travis has another tough job on his hands this year. The Mustangs won only one game last year, that a 13-6 non-conference victory over Butte Valley. His troubles are not yet over, although they are not as big as last year.

He has virtually all his players back from a sophomore team of last season. "We have only 12 boys right now that I believe I would put on the field. We don't have much size, but we do have some speed. We will be all right if we don't get someone injured. Any loss will hurt us as it stands now. We just need more depth," he stated.

He has back one of the better line performers in the league in 205-pound senior three-year letterman Sherman Kalina. Tackle Kalina is the leader of the team and will do most of the kicking in addition to his line duties.

Another three-year letterman whom Travis expects big things from is the other tackle, Tom Brown. Brown is a 165-pound tackle on the left side. "He has been looking real good in workouts," said Travis.

He has one more experienced player in Charles Henderson, the third-year letterman, but he shadows the scales at only 125 pounds. There are nine other one-year lettermen who saw action last season.

Travis could have the fastest back in the league in Bob Bauer, a one-year letterman. He was one of the best sprinters in the county last year. He tips the scales at 150. There are five backs listed in the first 12 by Travis.

Two of the other backs include the Parrish brothers, Dale and Jay. Dale is a 145-pound scabbard who was the top gun for the Mustangs last year and should be improved this season. Brother Jay also weighs 145 and has some quick speed. The fullback is Jack Worthington, a 165-pound letterman. Another fullback is 140-pound Ruben Aldinger, an all-around athlete.

Other linemen include right end Reggie LeQuieu at 150 pounds and Bill Whitman at 150, and center Phil Petrasek at 135.

Travis has 28 players out for the varsity. Worthington, Brown and Kalina are the only three above 165 pounds. Travis will have to rely on speed in both the line and backfield.

The Malin coach picks Merrill as the champion again with all its power back from last year's state squad. "Merrill will be the strongest again. I think Chiloquin will be hurting some this season with the losses suffered there. Bonanza will be fairly strong, I believe," he stated.

Bad Shoulder Might Ruin Palmer's Brilliant Career

By OSCAR FRALEY
UPI Sports Writer

AKRON, Ohio (UPI)—It was a gray, gloomy day with the clouds scudding low in the Ohio skies, but to Arnold Palmer it could have been midnight.

A midnight in which the bell tolled slowly the end of a Cinderella career.

It has happened before. Alexander the Great died in his youth. Thomas Wolfe wrote brilliantly and left too early. Notre Dame had a gridiron immortal named George Gipp who skidded from the heights too quickly.

Not that this is an obituary for Arnold Palmer. He's a strong young man from Ligonier, Pa., who has whacked out a record $101,935 with his golf sticks this year. His hands are horn hard and he walks with the virility of an uncaged panther.

But "something that snaps" in his right shoulder when he reaches the top of his backswing today threatens the goling career of the man with the blacksmith shoulders and the dancer's waist. It could be bursitis. It could be something else. Neither he nor the doctors know.

But as Palmer faces a match Saturday and Sunday on the "World Series of Golf" TV spectacular against Masters and PGA champion Jack Nicklaus, U.S. Open champion Julius Boras and British Open champion Bob Charles, worry clouds his steady eyes and despair rides his shoulder.

It's something easy to understand when you figure that this is the son of a country club pro who came out of nowhere to don the mantle of the Joneses and the Hogans.

This was not a family of wealth. Nor one with social prestige. Golf took him to college and thence to the National Amateur championship. Turning pro, eight short years ago, he won a mere $7,000.

But this was a man strong in body and in desire. His winsome wife, Winnie, and the two little girls who came along, were added incentives.

Thus, in the years between, Palmer became the top man of his profession, accepted, idolized and extremely successful. Three years ago he pulled his way to the top with winnings of $75,000. The next year he won $61,000. Last year he banked another $61,000 in what are labeled "official money winnings," meaning that he more than doubled the sum this way and that.

But this year was the greatest. As of nine days ago he had won a record $101,935 and the golf world was his own personal oyster.

Then, 10 days ago, the shoulder grabbed him. The second day it was worse. X-rays revealed no calcium but the soreness increased until Thursday, in a practice round for that $75,000 television spectacular he "played terribly."

"I'll try to play, but if it's worse, I'm not know," he confessed. "I'm taking pills because a shot of cortisone would make my shoulder too sore to play for three or four days. All I know is this. I just hope it doesn't get any worse."

So do those who know him. He's one of the battlers from nowhere everybody admires and, to boot, a guy success didn't have a chance of spoiling. So you keep your fingers crossed.

Like Arnold Palmer is doing today.

Red-White Contest Saturday

The annual Chicken 'n' Beans game, an intrasquad tilt between the chosen squads of Klamath Union High School, will be played Saturday night at Modoc Field, kickoff time being 7 o'clock.

Coach Bob Williams had not yet announced the lineups of the two teams when the paper went to press. But he assured the Pelican Booster meeting Wednesday night that they would see a lot of good action and good football.

Williams also stressed the fact that the parents are urged to attend the game and come to the feed afterwards. The losers get beans and the winners get chicken. Coffee and cake will be served to the parents attending. Williams urged the parents to attend so that he might meet and talk with them about their boys and to discuss football in general with them.

Oregon Tech To Hold Feed

The Oregon Tech athletic staff will hold a spaghetti dinner at the Winema Hotel Sunday afternoon, beginning at 5 o'clock, in honor of the new 1963 Owl football squad.

The dinner will cost $1 and Coach Ron Pheister urges all Owl fans and anyone else interested, to attend. He said this meeting will give all the athletic boosters in the Klamath Basin an opportunity to hear grid plans for the '63 season.

All Owl fans are encouraged to attend the dinner.

West Coast Grid Teams Preparing For Initial Contests

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI)—Craig Morton, who shows continued improvement in each workout, was named the No. 2 quarterback today by University of California coach Mary Levy.

Morton directed the second team during Thursday's workout and, according to Levy, showed all the signs of a seasoned performer. First-string halfback Tom Blanchfield was another player who caught Levy's eye in Thursday's practice session.

The Golden Bears open their 1963 season in 15 days against Iowa State. They hold their first major scrimmage in Memorial Stadium Saturday.

one player to the first team at the University of Idaho.

He is veteran tackle Jim Moran. Two fifth string backs—Gary Peters and Bob Bartlett—also moved up. Peters to No. 2 quarterback and Bartlett to No. 3 wingback.

A full scale scrimmage on Saturday is expected to result in further changes.

Stanford

STANFORD, Calif. (UPI)—Coach John Ralston of Stanford is worried about the feet of his No. 1 fullback.

Ken Babajian, who has had foot trouble before, is on the sidelines once again. Because of some unusual bone structure, football shoes hurt Ken's feet. They have flared up again, causing Ralston to look elsewhere for a possible substitute.

San Jose

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI)—Coach Bob Titchenal is spending a lot of time working on San Jose State's defenses.

The Spartans, who meet Stanford in the season opener for both teams on Sept. 21, spent a lot of time Thursday working on various defensive alignments.

Titchenal said he was pleased with the work of his first and second units, but added that more improvement is needed.

U. of Pacific

STOCKTON, Calif. (UPI)—University of Pacific coach John Rohde, who rarely singles out individual players for praise, pulled a surprise Thursday.

He stood back after a long workout and praised the work of fullback John Bilecci and tackle Vern Garrison.

However, Rohde still hasn't made up his mind on a No. 1 quarterback. That position is up for grabs by Ernie Zermeno, Howie Campbell, Tom Strain and Don Stagnaro.

Washington

SEATTLE (UPI)—Coach Jim Owens of Washington still is looking for a fullback.

With regular fullback Junior Coffey on the sidelines with injuries, the battle continues for a replacement. Glenn Reece, senior non-letter returnee from Los Angeles, continues to show improvement and, as a result, has been moved up to the No. 2 spot behind Charlie Browning.

Idaho

MOSCOW, Idaho (UPI)—Coach Dee Andrews' grading system has resulted in the promotion of only

Oregon State

CORVALLIS, Ore. (UPI)—Fullback Bruce Williams of Auburn, Calif., who has the distinction of having lost only one yard in two years of varsity play, was rewarded by his teammates Thursday when they named him captain of the Oregon State squad.

Williams has carried the ball 146 times during the past two seasons and gained 533 yards.

Senior guard Joe Bonilla of Selma, Calif., was named alternate captain.

Oregon

EUGENE, Ore. (UPI)—Two workouts are scheduled for today and a full game scrimmage Saturday for the University of Oregon football team.

The squad concentrated on punting formation Thursday morning and held a running drill in the afternoon.

Quarterbacks Doug Post and Jack Sovereign and halfback Hal Hoffman handled the kicking chores, while halfbacks Mel Renslow and Larry Hill stood out in the running drills.
