Father-in-Law Entitled To Spree

By ANN LANDERS
Dear Ann Landers: Last October my mother-in-law died of cancer. She was sick for five years and there were heavy medical expenses. When she died my father-in-law announced that he didn't have enough money to pay for the funeral.

Some of the things she laughs at aren't the least bit funny. When she talks, she laughs at the end of almost every sentence. Why does she do this? I mentioned it to my mother and she says one of her friends does the same thing. She can't figure it out either. Can you?—THE QUESTIONER

The four children felt it was their responsibility to help so we all took out loans and have been paying on those loans ever since. Three months after his wife was buried my father-in-law bought a new car (there was nothing wrong with the car he had). Last month he took a pleasure trip.

In the case of your friend, and probably your mother's friend, too, the laughter may not have anything to do with humor. Once you understand this it makes "senseless" laughter easier to tolerate.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a girl 18 who graduated from high school last spring. My father will send me to the local teacher's college if I want to go. I can't make up my mind. Please help me. I started to go with this fellow five months ago. He is 26 and has three small children. His wife died last year. He's a very nice person and we get along well together, but I don't know if I am able to be a mother to his three children. They are all spoiled because their grandparents have catered to their every whim since their mother died. To be honest, I think I'd have my hands full.

My parents have not tried to influence me one way or the other. I think I am writing to you because I want you to tell me, "Don't marry him." What does this sound like to you?—DON'T KNOW MY OWN MIND

Dear Ann Landers: Maybe you will figure this letter is too foolish to print but it is important to us kids, so please give it a second look.

Your lack of enthusiasm is pretty obvious and the questions you raise are valid ones. If you wish to continue to see this man, along with others, I see no reason why you should not. But marriage at this time—no.

Five years of cancer can be mighty expensive. It may well be that since your father-in-law is free of those terrible medical bills he has a little extra money around for the first time in ages. In my book you're way out of line.

FORT KLAMATH MR. AND MRS. DON COLLINS of Medford visited last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hesseck and son, Lynn. They were accompanied by the Hessecks' daughter, Mrs. Don Eklund, who had been a patient at Medford's Rogue Valley Memorial Hospital for two weeks. Eklund came here the same evening to take his wife to their home in Klamath Falls.

MR. AND MRS. HAROLD WIMMER had a Labor Day weekend guests, her nephew and family. Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Darrough and daughter, Lorie, and son, Glen, of Vancouver, B.C. They were on a two-week vacation south, with plans to visit the Grand Canyon, Yosemite National Park and Disneyland in Los Angeles.

MR. AND MRS. ANDREW POPSON left Aug. 30 for their home in Covina to enroll their children, Pat and Jim, for the fall school term. They spent the last several months of school vacation at their summer residence here and will return again next spring.

LEO PETERS of San Jose visited here for a week at the home of his daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Van Wormer. Accompanying him were his son and wife, with two of their sons, C.M. Sgt. Allen Peters and Mrs. Peters of the Reno air base.

MRS. JOSEPH HALFORD and daughter, Patsy, former residents now of Roseburg, were guests for several days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Van Wormer. They visited friends here during their stay and on Sept. 1 were taken home by the Van Wormers and son, Douglas.

MR. AND MRS. DON TAYLOR and their five children of Eugene were recent visitors at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Joanna Taylor.
