Transfer Bid Useful Tool

By OSWALD JACOBY
 Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

North's two heart response was a Jacoby Transfer Bid (JTB). It tells his partner, who has opened one no-trump, that North has at least five spades and will tell South more about his hand later. Meanwhile South must bid two spades and wait to hear further from North.

A two diamond response by North would have shown hearts in the same manner. A two club response or two spade response would also have been artificial, but not a transfer bid.

North's pass supplied the further information that he had a poor hand with no interest in game. East knew this, but was afraid to enter the bidding with his seven points. West would have liked to back in but he had already passed the two spade bid. He might have acted earlier, but until North passed West had no idea just where North was heading.

At two spades, South won the opening heart lead and led the queen of trumps. Eventually he had to lose two trumps, one heart and two clubs which left him with enough tricks for his contract.

If North and South had not been using the JTB, North would have responded two spades and probably played the hand at that contract. He might have made it, but the chances are that East would have opened the jack of clubs. The defense would start with two club tricks and a ruff and while North might still make two spades if he knew where all the cards were he would most likely have been set.

Q-The bidding has been:
 North East South West
 1 N.T. Pass ?
 You, South, hold:
 ♠ K 4 3 ♥ K 6 5 ♦ 3 2 ♣ 5 4
 What do you do?
 A-If you play the Jacoby transfer bid two hearts. This will get you to two spades, where you will pass. Otherwise, bid two spades yourself if partner can be expected to pass.

TODAY'S QUESTION
 You bid the Jacoby transfer of two hearts. West bids three diamonds and your partner bids three spades. East passes. What do you do now?
