

Police Disperse Angry Crowds During Rock-Throwing Violence

By United Press International
Negroes and whites stoned each other in High Point, N.C., Wednesday night and one shot was fired from ambush early today. Police used tear gas to disperse an angry crowd of 3,000 whites during the height of the violence.
A rifle bullet ripped into a truck carrying three white men in a Negro neighborhood. They were not injured.
The shot was fired about four hours after High Point police used tear gas to break up a crowd of whites who tossed stones, eggs and rotten tomatoes at Negroes during an anti-segregation march.
Later, Negro youths stoned whites on a street in the Negro section. Several persons were injured by rocks and flying glass.
At Chicago, thousands of white demonstrators failed in an attempt to prevent the city council from adopting an open occupancy law. The measure, passed by a 30-16 vote, bans racial discrimination in the sale or rental of property by real estate brokers.

A Negro registered for classes at Florence State College in Alabama, where Gov. George Wallace apparently has decided not to attempt to physically block any further court-ordered desegregation. Attendance was down in schools desegregated Tuesday in Birmingham, Tuskegee and Mobile.
White students staged protest demonstrations at two integrated Birmingham schools and one in Mobile.
New Orleans: Angry Negro leaders Wednesday night accused Mayor Victor Shiro of lying to them to get them to stop massive racial demonstrations and threatened to resume protest marches.
Boston: Negro leaders disclosed Wednesday that they will confront on court action and suspend demonstrations in their fight against alleged segregation in Boston schools.

Edisto Beach, S.C.: An overwhelming number of local residents proposed Wednesday that the long-closed Edisto State Park remain closed rather than be desegregated.
Beaufort, S.C.: Local businessmen proposed Wednesday that Hunting Island State Park, now closed to avoid integration, be given to Beaufort County. They said the deed provides that the property must revert to the county if the state fail to "satisfactorily maintain the island as a public beach."
New York: Former President Harry S. Truman said Wednesday he sympathizes with Southerners who "don't want to be pushed around by damn Yankees." He also said he hopes that integration progress in the United States does not lead to intermarriage between the races.
Jackson, Miss.: John Frazier, a 22-year-old Negro, said Wednesday he will continue efforts to enroll at the all-white University of Southern Mississippi. Frazier entered predominantly Negro Tougaloo College here this month, but he said this did not mean he was ending his fight to become a Mississippi Southern student.

Nikita Marks 10th Year As Top Red

MOSCOW (UPI) — Ten years ago today a former coal miner of peasant origin was elected to the most powerful job in the Communist world.
The man was Nikita S. Khrushchev and the job was first secretary of the Central Committee of the Soviet Communist party, which rules the Soviet Union.
Khrushchev, now 60, has been at the top of the Kremlin roost ever since, and is likely to stay there as long as he wishes. As he solidified his position during the decade, he added the premiership to his post of party chief.
The Kremlin boss is having his troubles with Communist China, farm deficiencies at home, soaring defense and space costs, and unrest among the country's intellectuals, but he apparently is unworried about his position after 10 years.

Back On Vacation
Wednesday he left Moscow to resume the Black Sea vacation he interrupted for his recent 15-day visit to Yugoslavia.
Two weeks ago in Yugoslavia, Khrushchev donned a miner's uniform at the coal town of Velenje and told his hosts:
"I am sure the doctors won't let me go down the mine again but I will continue to serve in the post I now hold through the will of the party and people."
This was his way of telling the world that he intends to stay on the job for the rest of his life and scotch earlier rumors of his impending resignation or dismissal.

Actually, Khrushchev became party chief about two weeks after Josef Stalin's death in March, 1953, when the late dictator's triumvirate of successors, Georgi Malenkov, Vyacheslav Molotov and Lavrenti Beria, apparently not trusting one another, decided to give the post to a relatively "harmless outsider."
The formal title of first secretary was conferred on him by a plenary session of the Central Committee on Sept. 12.
Overlooked By Others
Stalin's immediate successors had overlooked Khrushchev's extraordinary drive and political genius.
By midsummer of 1953, Beria, the police chief, was arrested and later executed as a spy.
A year later, Malenkov was ousted from the premiership. By June, 1957, he and Molotov, with half a dozen other old-guard Stalinists, were expelled from the Central Committee and discredited.
Khrushchev added the premiership in 1958 and for practical purposes became the "ruler of all the Russias."

CAB Rules On Airline Proposals

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Civil Aeronautics Board examiner recommended Wednesday that West Coast airlines be permitted to operate non-stop from Spokane to Seattle, and to Portland, Ore.
Thomas L. R. Wrenn, CAB associate chief examiner, made the recommendation to the full board in an initial decision.
Wrenn denied a request that West Coast be allowed to schedule non-stop service from Spokane to Boise and Salt Lake City. He also denied a request for such service to Salem, Medford, Sacramento and San Francisco-Oakland.

The examiner recommended the extension of two United Airlines routes from Boise to Spokane, and ended up with a gold medal and a new straight man, President Kennedy.
The Chief Executive presented Hope with a special gold medal authorized by Congress in recognition of his efforts over more than 20 years in staging shows for servicemen around the world.
The President signaled the start of the quip fest when he invited the more than 100 congressmen present to move in closer for a better look.
"After all," he said with a grin, "this is one of the only bills we've gotten by lately." This touched a responsive chord in Hope, who then began firing a rapid string of jokes.
Hope said the medal would not

Bad Company May Cost Sinatra Nevada License

CARSON CITY, Nev. (UPI) — Singer Frank Sinatra today faced loss of his 10-year-old Nevada gambling license on charges by the state gaming control board that he continually associated with a top national hoodlum.
A complaint filed with the state gaming commission Wednesday by board chairman Edward Olsen claimed that Sinatra and his staff at the Cal-Neva Lodge at Lake Tahoe gave "red carpet" treatment last July to Sam Giancana, 54, Chicago.
Giancana was identified in the complaint as one of the 12 overlords in Cosa Nostra, a group which allegedly runs the national crime syndicate.

He also is one of 11 persons listed in Nevada's "Black Book," which contains the names of those who are not welcome in the state's gambling halls. If an operator caters to any one of the 11 listed, he could lose his license for "an unsuitable method of operation."
The law which created the "Black Book" is aimed at keeping Nevada's legalized gambling industry free from the influence of known big-time racketeers.
Sinatra also was accused of threatening gaming board members with menacing language, laced with "obscene and vile" comments, in an attempt to get them to drop the investigation into the relationship between him and Giancana.

The complaint said Sinatra had "maintained a continued social association with Giancana for a number of years." Olsen added that the singer "openly stated he intends to continue his friendship in defiance of the Nevada gaming code."
Sinatra has been licensed at the Cal-Neva since 1960 and holds 30 per cent of the multi-million-dollar resort hotel. He is in the process of buying the interests of his partners, Henry Sanicola and Sanford Waterman.

The singer also was licensed in 1953 for nine per cent of the Sands Hotel in Las Vegas. If the complaint is proven true, Sinatra would be forced to sell both interests, estimated at $3.5 million.

Bob Hope Honored By Nation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Global traveler Bob Hope appeared on yet another stage Wednesday — the White House rose garden — and ended up with a gold medal and a new straight man, President Kennedy.
The Chief Executive presented Hope with a special gold medal authorized by Congress in recognition of his efforts over more than 20 years in staging shows for servicemen around the world.
The President signaled the start of the quip fest when he invited the more than 100 congressmen present to move in closer for a better look.
"After all," he said with a grin, "this is one of the only bills we've gotten by lately." This touched a responsive chord in Hope, who then began firing a rapid string of jokes.
Hope said the medal would not explain why he was not in military service during World War II "but at least it'll show them which side I was on."

Hope made Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., the fall guy for some of his gags. He said Symington had been seeing off the Hope troupe on its round-the-world trips to entertain servicemen for many years. "He's been sort of a den mother to us," he said.

The President said congressional action in voting Hope the medal demonstrated the nation's affection and appreciation for the comedian.
