

Forest District Notes Changes In Personnel

LAKEVIEW — Several personnel changes on the Drews Valley district of the Fremont National Forest are reported by Don Allen, district ranger.

Robert J. Duncan was recently transferred to the district to be in charge of range and wildlife management and land uses. He came to the Fremont from the Umpqua National Forest, where he was the timber management assistant on the North Umpqua district. Mr. and Mrs. Duncan and their three children reside on North 12th Street in Lakeview.

John M. Richardson Jr. was also recently transferred to the Drews Valley district to be in charge of timber management work on the district. He came to the Fremont from the Malheur National Forest, where he was employed in the office of the supervisor on land exchange work. Mr. and Mrs. Richardson and their young son are now living on Goldmoor Terrace.

With the addition of a portion of the former Thomas Creek ranger district to Drews Valley, there have been several other changes in personnel assignments. Richard C. Haney, who had been assistant district ranger, is in charge of fire control and timber stand improvement work.

Maynard E. Nuss, formerly timber management assistant on the Thomas Creek district, has been assigned as forester on the Drews Valley district.

James Bracker, forestry technician formerly assigned to the Warner district, has also been assigned to Drews Valley and is employed on timber sale administration work.

Glen F. Turner, scaler at the Fremont Sawmill Company plant, has been reassigned to the Drews Valley district from the former Thomas Creek district.

Building, Bus Problems Eyed By Dunsmuir Board

DUNSMUIR — In response to inquiries made to the Siskiyou County 1963 Grand Jury about the obsolescence of elementary and high school buildings, the Dunsmuir Elementary School board at its monthly meeting Tuesday night instructed Albert Kempton, superintendent, to cooperate with members of the grand jury in every way possible.

H. A. Meredith, veteran member of the school board, commented after the meeting that Dunsmuir's school facilities are subject to unfavorable comparison with some school plants elsewhere in the county, but the solution of this problem depends on the willingness of the people of the district to bond themselves for new buildings. Such a bond issue placed before the elementary school district in 1957 was defeated.

Kempton reported that there are now 601 pupils in 21 classes and that some grades are being combined to keep the ratio of pupils per teacher as low as possible. Kempton is teaching some classes in the 7th and 8th grade elective courses to keep these classes small.

Bus schedules are being revised in order to best serve the greatest concentration of pupils. Kempton reported, because most families having school children live in the outlying areas of the town, creating a transportation problem for the centrally located school.

CAPITAL CRIME RISES

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Police Chief Robert V. Murray says Washington's crime rate has reached an all-time high and will continue to climb unless Congress acts.

Murray said Thursday that Congress must remove restrictions on the police department, including the ban against so-called investigative arrests.

Solon Says GOP Tag Won't Pass

WASHINGTON (UPI) — One of the South's most conservative Democrats predicted today that Republicans would lose their House fight to tie budgetary strings to an $11 billion tax cut.

This forecast from Rep. A. S. Herlong Jr., D-Fla., jibed with private appraisals of Kennedy aides who have been sounding out southern Democrats in preparation for the impending battle.

These aides were confident that the GOP amendment would fail to gain enough support from southern Democrats to win House approval, even if all Republicans vote for it.

The administration-backed bill, scheduled for House action the week after next, would provide two reductions in individual and corporation income taxes. It would cut taxes by $7 billion on 1964 incomes. The full $11 billion in relief would take effect in 1965.

The Republican amendment would provide for automatic cancellation of the second tax cut, unless (1) President Kennedy's budget message next January estimated spending of no more than $98 billion for the fiscal year starting next July 1 and (2) deficit spending were held to $3 billion during the current fiscal year.

Other congressional news:

IDEOLOGY: A House subcommittee will hear from four experts today in its investigation of the nation's "ideological offensive." Several "people-to-people" efforts aimed at winning the free world's battle for men's minds were outlined to the foreign affairs subcommittee on international organizations and movements.

It Worked

ATLANTA (UPI) — Smelling gas in a vacant house he owned Thursday, Charles A. Wigley, 68, struck a match to see if a small gas heater was working.

The resulting explosion wrecked the six-room house, broke windows in neighboring homes and hospitalized Wigley with burns from the waist up.

Firemen said the explosion was escaping from an open gas pipe in the kitchen where a stove had been removed Wednesday.

Poor Growing Weather Hurts Some Basin Crops

Some Klamath Basin producers of oats, potatoes and grain on widely separated farms in the Basin, he said. Most fields of spuds hurt by frost on June 28 and July 6 are recovering very well due to excellent care by the producers, and unless serious damage occurs before the middle of September, a normal crop may be harvested.

Winn assisted in a training session at Ontario last week where potato grading procedures were reviewed by State-Federal Inspection Service personnel for the benefit of FCIC adjusters. The school was attended by Dan House of Dairy, local corporation fieldman, who will take further instruction under the direction of Leonard Kinney, Klamath Basin inspection service supervisor.

This cooperative assistance by the inspection service is much appreciated by FCIC people. Winn said, and will result in a much better understanding of the insurance program by all concerned as digging of the Basin potato crop begins. Early planted fields that escaped frost injury are nearly ready to harvest with some excellent yields expected in warmer parts of the Basin.

Western Democrats Concerned Over John Birch Society

Democratic Gains

But even though he only won three Western states, Kennedy did better than Adlai Stevenson, the Democrats' presidential nominee in 1952 and 1956. He didn't capture a single Western state either time.

"Certainly we have a rough row to hoe," said Miss Redd. "But we're not counted out by any means—despite what news media say about it."

Roger Kent, California's party vice chairman and head of the Western Conference, said in an interview that the Democrats need the West.

"In order to carry these states we must be aware of particular Western problems and get at the solutions," he said.

That's what the 1,000 or more Democrats expected to attend the Salt Lake City meeting plan to do—hear the problems and suggest solutions.

Miss Redd and Kent left no doubt that the JBS and Civil Rights—they combine the two—will be one of the major topics of the conference, the largest such political get-together in the nation this year.

Political sources feel that the JBS and other right wing groups are making strong pitches for the formation of the strategy to fight the Birch Society.

One of the panel participants will be California Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk, who once said the JBS was largely "little old ladies in tennis shoes." Another will be California Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Others on the panel will be Sen. Gale W. McGee of Wyoming, Sen. Daniel Inouye of Hawaii, Rep. Joseph Montoya of New Mexico.

A major talk will be delivered by U.S. Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota. He'll speak at a $100 a plate fund-raising dinner Friday night.

But both Miss Redd and Kent appear to believe the major interest at the conference would be centered around a panel discussion titled "Civil Liberties and the Right Wing." This panel will
