Sign Campaign Ends Successfully

The Klamath County Chamber of Commerce has marked finish to one of its pet projects of the past few years, but it took action by Gov. Mark O. Hatfield and the California Department of Highways to complete the job.

For the past several years the local chamber has sought to have the message on the billboard at the junction of U.S. Highways 97 and 99 changed from "Klamath Falls via U.S. 97" to "Portland via Klamath Falls, U.S. 97." Another sign at the same location directed traffic to Portland via U.S. 99.

George Callison, manager of the chamber, remarked Friday that he had called a Weed establishment and learned that the billboard had been revised last week according to the chamber's request.

The message is printed in white letters on a green field, as is the sign which was replaced at the same tiime.

The chamber began its campaign for the sign change several years ago with a flurry of letters to the governor. There was little progress on the matter until this spring when a Chemult cafe proprietor discussed the project with the governor after he stopped at the establishment for a meal.

The governor then contacted the California Department of Highways and urged it to make the change in signing; completion of the project was apparently deferred until last week, Callison said.

Britons bought 260,800,000 pounds of tobacco products during 1958, compared with 256 million pounds the year previous.

Elementary Board Plans Redistricting Discussion

The Klamath Falls elementary school board will meet Monday night with a discussion of the controversial school district reorganization topping the agenda.

A short agenda lists only that item and the business of Riverside School heating, and a visitation of the Oregon School Study Council, plus the regular report of Superintendent Ray Hunsaker.

The elementary and high school boards are seeking a meeting with the county school board and the county court on the redistricting plans. The three school boards had agreed to divide the county into two districts using the Klamath Union High School boundary as the dividing line. But the county court adopted the Wiard Street dividing line plan.

Two Autos Collide With Deer

No one came out ahead early Saturday morning when two deer tangled almost simultaneously with two cars driven by Klamath Falls motorists on Highway 39.

The Oregon State Patrol said Gary Duane Say, 7655 Hilyard Avenue, was driving south on No. 39 in his 1950 Thunderbird at 1:50 a.m. when he struck a deer head-on. The collision caused the car to swerve back and forth, but the vehicle did not leave the road.

Leland Floyd DeLap, Route 2, Box 613B, was following Say in a 1953 Chevrolet, and he struck a second deer at almost the same time. DeLap's vehicle went onto the shoulder, but remained upright.

Neither driver was injured, the patrol said. Damage to both cars was reported as not too heavy, although the vehicles had to be towed away.

Both deer were killed by the impacts.

68 Young Drivers Cited For Violations In August

Sixty eight teen-agers were cited for traffic offenses in Klamath County during August and their violations resulted in five accidents, a report from the Klamath County Juvenile Department says.

The five accidents injured one person and caused property damage estimated at $1,494.

The 68 juveniles collected a total of 78 citations. Thirty nine of the citations were handed out by Oregon State Police, 34 by Klamath Falls Police and five by other agencies.

The 78 citations brought the year's total for juveniles to 452. Thirteen of the 78 tickets were issued for speeding and 13 were given for not having a proper operator's license. Loud mufflers resulted in 12 tickets.

Traffic violations by juveniles, the report says, have resulted in 18 auto accidents so far this year which caused a total of $3,423 in damages.

Twenty one of the 78 citations last month were to juveniles 17-17.6 years old. Twenty were to those 16-16.6 years old and 18 were to teen-agers 16.7-16.11 years old. Five citations were handed to youngsters under 15 years old.

The licenses of four juveniles were partially suspended and two were suspended for more than 60 days.

One case was transferred to district court and five were transferred to other courts.

SENATOR HOSPITALIZED

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Gale W. McGee, D-Wyo., has been hospitalized for a checkup and tests following an attack of stomach influenza, it was disclosed Friday.

An aide to the 48-year-old legislator said the mild stomach ailment upset the balance of McGee's insulin - sugar intake. McGee, a diabetic, had to enter the hospital for a checkup and tests to get it back in balance, he said.

City Council Will Open Bids Monday

The opening of bids and awarding of contracts for a sewer project and the new firemen's training center are featured on the agenda for Monday night's meeting of the Klamath Falls City Council.

In addition to these items, there will be a public hearing on the proposal to amend the zoning ordinance to permit mortuaries in a C-2 zone on a conditional basis. This stems from an application by O'Hair's Chapel to build a new mortuary on its present site. The zoning ordinance was adopted after the present chapel was built.

City Manager Robert Kyle is scheduled to report on an application for the Oregon Technical Institute Homecoming parade permit, a requested renewal of Klamath Cable TV's franchise, and an agreement between the city and South Suburban Sanitary District on connections.

The meeting is at 7:30 p.m. in city council chambers at city hall.

Cook Plans To Attend State Meet

County Treasurer Eva Cook will depart from Klamath Falls next Tuesday to attend the annual meeting of the State Association of County Treasurers at Albany, which begins that afternoon and ends the following Friday, the County Treasurer's Office has disclosed.

Featured speakers during the four-day session include Howard Hickem, president of the Albany Citizens Bank; State Representative Cornelius Basteson; George Annala, manager Oregon Tax Research; and Hull Dolson, Investment Department, First National Bank of Oregon.

Representative Bateson will discuss new legislation which will affect the duties of county treasurers.

Also included on the agenda will be tours of the Wahchang Corporation and the Oregon Metallurgical Company, two firms which produce highly resistant metal for the production of nuclear missiles.

Firemen Answer Pair Of Calls

Klamath Falls firemen were called out Saturday afternoon at 4:29 to Eighth and Prospect to extinguish a grass fire. There was no damage reported.

Firmen also answered a call Friday night at 9:37 to 435 High Street where a television set had shorted out. There was smoke damage at the residence, occupied by Teresa Doveri.

BRAZIL BUYS WHEAT

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Brazil has purchased $94.4 million worth of wheat and wheat flour under the Food for Peace program.

The Agriculture Department said Friday that Brazil would pay for the commodities in its own currency, 30 per cent of which will be set aside for U. S. uses, the remainder to be available for economic development loans and grants.

HOLE IN THE WALL — This hole was jackhammered into the foundation of the Klamath Falls Post Office below ground level as part of the remodeling work being done on the building. A deep cavity has been dug around the post office and this eventually will be a civil defense shelter. The post office is being expanded and the interior will be remodeled.

GARAGE TO POST OFFICE — These two men are members of a crew of workmen ripping out the interior of a garage at 734 Klamath Avenue and installing a new floor and walls so the garage may serve as the temporary Klamath Falls Post Office for a year beginning next month. The main post office building is being remodeled. The men are Ed Gonzales (left) and Herman Westlund, employes of Warren Parr. Parr holds the contract for the garage work. The garage is owned by the Park and Shop Corporation.

'Hit Deck' Scheduled April 9-10

"Hit the Deck," a nautical musical production to be cast and produced by local amateur talent, will be staged next April 9 and 10 at the OTI Little Theater, Bob Stevens, producer and stage manager, said.

Proceeds of the show will be donated to the fund that has been set up to defray construction costs of the proposed Intercommunity Hospital, Stevens said further.

Casting for the production will begin with a briefing and check out of materials Friday evening, Jan. 3, and will follow with tryouts the ensuing week. Rehearsals are to get underway immediately following announcement of the cast.

Flower Show Starts Monday

The Flower Show School scheduled for Klamath Auditorium on Monday, Sept. 16, will start with registration at 8 a.m.

Classes will begin promptly at 9 o'clock. An earlier article indicated only the start of classes and not the fact that registration begins an hour before the classes.

The flower shool is open to the public and is sponsored by the Klamath District Garden Club.

Hunting Outlook Bright Due To Improved Hatch

Tule Lake and Lower Klamath waterfowl populations are increasing rapidly as migrant ducks and geese arrive daily from the northern breeding grounds. Early migrant geese are mostly white-fronted geese, commonly known as "specks"; while early arriving ducks are predominately pintails and mallards.

Hunting prospects are considerably brighter this year with the improved waterfowl hatch on Basin refuges and on the northern breeding grounds. With waterfowl continuing to arrive daily in increasing numbers, it is expected that Basin refuge waterfowl populations will be at high levels for the hunting season opening at 1 p.m. Daylight Savings Time, Oct. 8.

While below normal temperatures in July and August prevented botulism from developing earlier, the recent warming trend has favored the production of the bacterium, clostridium botulinum, Type C, which produces material toxic to birds. Substantial losses began on Lower Klamath Refuge Sept. 2 and 3. While sick and dead birds have been found on Tule Lake, losses have not been heavy. Since the early September outbreak, three airboat crews have picked up approximately 5,000 dead and 2,000 sick birds. Sick birds picked up are moved to the refuge "duck hospital" where they are given an injection of botulism anti-toxin and provided with fresh water and food until they have recovered sufficiently to return to the wild. Approximately ninety per cent of the sick birds treated at the hospital recover.

Botulism generally begins in late July, sometimes becomes serious in mid to late August and subsides about mid-September, as summer temperatures decline. It is expected that losses will abate this year with the arrival of cooler weather.

Water levels on Tule Lake and Lower Klamath refuges are at or near desired levels. Tule Lake Sump is rising rapidly to the fall hunting season elevation.
