

Dodgers Win 'Big One' In Beating Cardinals In Ninth, 3-1

Shantz Tagged With Loss; Musial Slams Homer For Run

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — It's beginning to look like the hated Los Angeles Dodgers won't have to wait until next year because they won "the big one" despite a boner that rarely even is seen on the sandlots.

They not only survived that "rock" Monday night, but increased their shriveled National League lead to two games by snapping the St. Louis Cardinals' 10-game winning streak with a 3-1 victory.

The setback for the Cardinals was only their second in 21 games, and even ultra-conservative Walt Alton conceded "things look a little better."

"One game better, anyway," he hedged, smiling.

It was the first time the Dodgers manager had smiled in days, and he had ample reason after southpaw Johnny Podres and Ron Perranoski collaborated in a three-hitter.

Podres, who pitched perfect ball for 5 1/3 innings and was credited with his 14th victory, was the hero beyond any doubt in the victory, and his battery-mate, catcher John Roseboro, nearly wound up the goat.

Connects For Triple

Roseboro, whose three passed balls figured prominently in a 6-1 loss by the Dodgers at the hands of the Phillies last Sunday, connected for what appeared to be a triple off Cardinal starter Ernie Broglio in the second inning.

Roseboro's blow hit the right field screen and barely missed being a home run. The Dodger catcher made it all the way to third and was dusting himself off when four Cardinal pitchers, sitting in the St. Louis dugout, frantically began waving to Broglio, urging him to throw the ball to second base.

Shortstop Dick Groat didn't know what it was all about either but he finally took Broglio's throw and tagged second.

The Cards then appealed to the umpires, insisting that Roseboro had neglected to touch second. First base umpire Ed Sudol agreed and declared the Dodger catcher out.

After the game, Roseboro admitted he hadn't touched second.

Musial Hits Homer

Tommy Davis singled home the first run of the game in the sixth inning, and Stan (The Man) Musial tied the score in the seventh with his 12th homer of the season and 475th of his career.

Musial's wallop stirred the capacity crowd of 32,442 at Busch Stadium into a near frenzy, but hopes for a Cardinal victory were short-lived because the Dodgers cracked through with two runs in the ninth.

Little Bobby Shantz took over the pitching for the Cards in the ninth after Broglio had yielded for a pinch hitter in the eighth.

Ron Fairly hit Shantz' second pitch off the right field screen for a double and after Roseboro struck out, Willie Davis singled to score Fairly with the winning run. The Dodgers added an insurance run when second baseman Julian Javier threw wildly to second on a double play ball hit by Moose Skowron, pinch hitting for Podres.

Still Hopeful

"I'm not at all pessimistic because we lost the first game," said Cardinal manager Johnny Keane. "The defeat isn't fatal to our pennant hopes. We still have our two big men to throw at them."

He meant southpaw Curt Simmons, who'll be shooting for his 16th victory and fourth straight shutout tonight, and Bob Gibson, who will pitch Wednesday night. Sandy Koufax goes for the Dodgers tonight and Pete Richert Wednesday night.

Only two other games were played in the majors Monday night, with the Giants beating the Braves, 4-3, and the Pirates downing the Cubs, 1-0.

Juan Marichal scored his 23rd victory for the Giants in handling the Braves' seventh straight loss with a six-hit effort. Orlando Cepeda's 31st homer off loser

Tony Cloninger in the fifth proved to be the winning run after Denis Menke hit a three-run homer in the second.

Bob Veale hurled a two-hitter for the Pirates and out-dueled Larry Jackson of the Cubs when Billy Mazaroski's ninth-inning single broke up a scoreless game.

Indians, 89ers Battle For PCL Crown Tonight

By DAVE ROWE
UPI Sports writer

All the chips are down tonight as the Pacific Coast League championship playoff series goes to the seventh game. Spokane and Oklahoma City will shoot the works at Oklahoma City to determine the league champion.

The scrappy 89ers brought the series to a deadlock Monday night by shutting out the Indians, 9-0, on the three-hit pitching performance by the veteran Russ Kemmerer. It was a "must" game for Oklahoma City.

The 89ers pulled themselves together after trailing Spokane three games to one with triumphs Sunday and Monday.

Manager Grady Hatton said he will start Ben Johnson tonight but

Southern Cal Goes Against Colorado

By AL WOOD

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—University of Southern California's Trojans, boasting a record of 11 straight victories, go for No. 12 Saturday against Colorado — the first step, the Trojans hope, on the road to another Rose Bowl appearance.

And from all indications, coach Johnny McKay's powerhouse should have no trouble making the return visit to the Pasadena show-place.

There isn't another team in the Big Six — or anywhere else in the West, for that matter — that looks as powerful on paper as do the Trojans.

"You just have to pick the Trojans," says head coach Jim Owens of Washington. "The rest of us will be fighting for second place — and may wind up in a tie."

Owens isn't given to idle talk. The other coaches concur. USC has the offense, the defense, the talent.

In addition to the "Four B's" (Bill Redsole, Damon Bame, Pete Benard and Willie Brown), the Trojans have such returning veterans of the Rose Bowl as end Fred Hill; tackle Gary Kirner; and, to help Bame in the line-backing business, Larry Sagoupe and Ernie Pyle.

The other major West Coast teams shape up like this:

UCLA: Bruins have 25 lettermen returning, including Mike Haffner, the great halfback of 1961, who sat out 1962 with injuries. Good quarterbacking, headed by Carl Jones and Larry Zeno, powerful fullback in Warren Jackson. Line may be a bit weak.

Washington: Huskies' chances for Big Six title went down the drain when fullback Junior Coffey broke an ankle. He's out for season — and Washington may be, too. Two of finest guards in West in Rick Redman and Rick Sortun. Good quarterback in Bill Siler and Bill Douglas.

California: Golden Bears may have lightest team in the country, with one of the first string guards, Dave Ureia, only weighing 160 pounds; the No. 1 fullback, Rudy Carvajal a 170-pounder; and

Cotton Resumes Drills For Hank

SEATTLE (UPI) — Eddie Cotton, rated the No. 1 light-heavyweight challenger by the World Boxing Association, resumed training Monday for his 15-round bout with sixth-ranked Henry Hank.

The fight is scheduled in Flint, Mich., on Oct. 25. It will be recognized as a world's title fight by the Michigan Boxing Association, which has broken off relations with the WBA.

Cotton boxed four rounds Monday with Boone Kirman.
