

Kennedy Rejects Plea For Canadian Quotas

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Kennedy administration has rejected a plea signed by 106 congressmen for quotas on Canadian softwood lumber, a Maine congressman disclosed today.

Rep. Clifford G. McIntire, R-Maine, made public a letter from Christian A. Herter, special representative for trade negotiations, turning down the idea of trade restrictions but announcing that U.S.-Canadian talks on lumber will be held in Washington during the fall.

Herter's letter, dated Sept. 13, was in response to a petition signed by 106 congressmen Aug. 29 calling on President Kennedy to take action against Canada's growing export of softwood lumber.

Canadian softwood lumber exports to the United States totaled about $280 million last year.

The petition said that unless Kennedy acted, "there appears to be no other alternative but that the Congress enact legislation to provide a quota."

But Herter said, "The administration has sought to deal with the fundamental problems besetting the lumber industry without resort to devices inimical to our expansion of United States exports or contrary to our international commitments."

He said lumber imports were an "important factor" in the competitive situation, but that the U.S. industry faced other basic problems such as timber supply, forest access roads and transportation costs.

"Measures other than import restrictions must be brought into play to meet these conditions," Herter said.

He said he believed U.S.-Canadian meetings coupled with domestic action under the six-point program announced by President Kennedy last year "can best make a positive contribution to solving the problems of this industry."

Herter did not set a date for the U.S.-Canadian lumber consultations. Similar talks were held about a year ago, but there was no reduction in Canadian shipments of lumber to the United States.

Second Session Slated By Ecumenical Council

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — The Ecumenical Council will start its second session this month with debate on one of the weightiest and most controversial items—the nature, role and organization of the church, it was announced today.

The council secretariat said in a communique that a new draft of "De Ecclesia" about the church, a source of heated debate last year, would come up in the first working meeting of the session Sept. 30. The session opens the day before with a public ceremony.

The original draft of "De Ecclesia," prepared by the theological commission under conservative Alfredo Cardinal Ottaviani, drew widespread criticism from liberal council fathers during the first session last year.

Official communique at the time said a number of speakers described the document as "too juridical" and said it failed to place enough stress on "the powers of the college of bishops and the function of laymen" in church life. Others said the document should be adapted to modern reality, "avoiding any expression that could shock" present-day politicians.

"The church must be ready to face persecutions, but it is not part of its mission to provoke them," one of the speakers was quoted as saying.

"De Ecclesia" has since been drastically rewritten by a coordination commission which revised, shortened and combined drafts

Tax Slice Drive Seen

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The administration has launched an all-out effort for congressional approval — before the end of the year — of an $11 billion tax cut Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon says is "a matter of vital national concern."

The measure, hammered out by the House Ways and Means Committee after seven months of drafting, goes to the House floor for debate Sept. 24, and a favorable vote is expected two days later. It was considerably different from the one President Kennedy recommended last January.

But to speed action on the cut, Dillon said that with one possible exception the administration would not ask the Senate to change the House tax-cutting bill.

Dillon's statement Sunday indicated that the administration was eager to avoid lengthy, time-consuming hearings in the Senate Finance Committee. The committee's chairman, Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., is a staunch foe of cutting taxes without reducing federal spending.

Other congressional news:

Foreign Aid: Congress was told that foreign aid was a key tool in building a world of peace. The opinion came from President Kennedy when he submitted his annual report on the aid program to the lawmakers, Kennedy, hoping to convince the Senate to restore House cuts in the aid program, said the future of the free world depends on programs like the aid proposal.

Vote Edge Held By Republicans

MEDFORD (UPI) — Jackson County has 32,800 registered voters with Republicans ahead of the Democrats in registrations, according to the Jackson County elections department.

The Republicans, at last count, had 16,695 registered voters compared to the Democrats' 15,665, or a margin of 230.
