

Dodgers Bury Cardinals' Sentimental Hopes In 13th, 6-5

Perranoski Saves Third Bum Win

By United Press International
If the Los Angeles Dodgers had their way, there would be two Cy Young pitcher-of-the-year awards for the 1963 season — one for Sandy Koufax and one for Ron Perranoski.

Brilliant as the 24-game-winning, 11-shutout and 288-strikeout Koufax has been, the Dodgers could not possibly be on the threshold of the '63 flag-clinching today without the 26-year-old relief pitching wizard from Paterson, N.J.

The six-foot, 180-pound left-hander whose chief stock in trade is a sharp-breaking curveball, demonstrated his value again Wednesday night when he shut out the St. Louis Cardinals for the final six innings of the Dodgers' climactic 6-5, 13-inning triumph.

The victory Wednesday night raised Perranoski's season record to 16-3 and his six shutout innings reduced his earned run average to 1.74. Both his won-loss percentage and his e.r.a. are superior to Koufax' and he has appeared in a league-leading total of 65 games.

Perranoski's performance in the big game Wednesday night was typical: three hits, two walks and three strikeouts in six innings. He was in one serious jam — when the Cardinals filled the bases with one out in the 10th — but he pitched out of it without allowing a run.

Winning Run Unearned
With Perranoski holding the fort it was a question of when the Dodgers would catch up to Lou Burdette — which they finally did in the 13th when Willie Davis' single, Julian Javier's error, a deliberate walk and Maury Wills' infield out pushed over an unearned but decisive run.

The Milwaukee Braves beat the San Francisco Giants, 6-4; the Chicago Cubs edged out the Pittsburgh Pirates, 2-1; the Houston Astros downed the Cincinnati Reds, 8-4; and the Philadelphia Phillies beat the New York Mets, 5-1, in other NL action.

The Braves snapped an eight-game losing streak with three eighth-inning runs with the aid of Roy McMillan's two-run double and Ty Cline's run-producing single. Willie Mays hit his 36th homer for the Giants.

His First Homer
Rookie Bill Cowan hit his first big league homer with Ron Santo aboard in the ninth inning to give Cub reliever Don Elston his fourth win. Bob Bailey's first-inning homer produced the Pirates' run.

John Weekly drove in four runs with a homer, double and single for the Colts, who scored five runs in the last two innings to

Cross Country Meet Slated

The Klamath Union Cross Country team will see its first action today when it hosts the Gilchrist Grizzlies in a warmup meet, the first competition of the season, on "Deller's Nightmare" course at Moore Park.

Coach Phil Harder invites anyone who wishes to see a true test of strength, stamina and willpower to come out to Moore Park today at 4 p.m. to witness the race.

Harder will probably go with Bob Scholl, Dave Vaagen, a transfer, Steve Moore, Mike Sweek and Gary Mawe.

Coach Jerry Bennett's charges are just beginning the program but have some fine track members. Carrying the banners highest probably will be John Arnold, Don Bertram, Ken Erickson, Butch Hager, Jack Haleswood, Dan Hoff, Denny Jessup, Matt Koski, Jay Tomlinson and Roy Warren among the top 30 potentials.

FAVORED IN RACE

NEW YORK (UPI)—W. Haggin Perry's Lamb Chop was an 8-5 choice for the $75,000 added Belvedere Stakes at Aqueduct today.

Lamb Chop, a strong candidate for the 3-year-old filly championship, heads a field of 14 fillies and mares starting in the mile and one-eighth test.

overcome a 4-3 deficit. Jim Maloney struck out batters to set a club season mark of 240 but suffered his seventh loss against 22 victories for Cincinnati.

Chris Short scattered nine hits to win his eighth game for the Phillies behind an eight-hit attack that included two hits each by Tony Taylor and Clay Dalrymple. It was the Mets' last game at the Polo Grounds, where they suffered 105 losses in two years. Jim Hickman homered for New York.

Lines of Defeat — The dejection of defeat. Veteran Lou Burdette, once a World Series hero, was tagged with come-from-behind defeat by the Los Angeles Dodgers in extra inning game in St. Louis Wednesday night. The Dodger win, completing a three-game sweep and putting them four ahead in the pennant race, may well have put LA info (and St. Louis out of) the coming World Series. The Dodgers won in the 13th, 6-5. — UPI Telephone

Baltimore's Barber Wins 20th, Chisox Also Garner Win

Barber made the biggest baseball jump in 20 years when he came to the majors in 1960 fresh from an unimpressive season in '59 with Pensacola in the Alabama-Florida League, where he was 7-11.

"I felt my potential was great but nobody would teach me anything," Barber recalled. He went to Baltimore general manager Lee MacPhail and told him, "If you send me to Clearwater (Fla.) and give me the instructions I want, I'll pitch up here next year. I'm just the boy who can do it."

MacPhail did, and so did Barber. He has won 57 games in

Liston Expected To Explain Trip

DENVER (UPI) — Heavyweight champion Sonny Liston was expected to explain today his strange and perhaps costly run-out on a European exhibition tour.

He suddenly refused any pertinent explanations Wednesday night at the airport here after his flight from London, although he was in a virtual mire of reasons offered by others — explanations ranging from women to Sunday's Birmingham (Ala.) bombing.

At another Birmingham, in England, promoter Alex Griffiths threatened a suit of $20,400 because Sonny failed to appear in an exhibition there Wednesday night after all tickets had been sold out.

In Leicester, Eng., William Cotterill — an official with the Midlands Boxing Board — said Liston fled to America "in a rage" after Cotterill and Sonny had a spat about women.

Cotterill declared that after Sonny had given an exhibition in Leicester Tuesday night Sonny walked into a nightclub "and accused me of sending two girls to his room. I said I knew nothing about it. There was an argument. Sonny got up and walked out in a rage."

Cotterill said Sonny had asked him earlier to arrange "a party" for him, "but I told him I couldn't because I was a stranger in Leicester, too."

At Stapleton Field here in Denver Wednesday night big Sonny brushed past news men and told them: "You ain't going to get no words from me. I don't have to answer your questions."

Pascual, Peters Climb To Within Game Of 20th

By United Press International
The leaps Steve Barber has made with his rubbery left arm would make John Pennel scrap his fiberglass pole.

The brash southpaw became the Orioles' first 20-game winner Wednesday night because he "got tired of kicking around in Class D for three years and not making any money."

Barber made the biggest baseball jump in 20 years when he came to the majors in 1960 fresh from an unimpressive season in '59 with Pensacola in the Alabama-Florida League, where he was 7-11.
