Council On Aging Elects Portland Man Chairman

SALEM (UPI) — The State Council on Aging was elected Wednesday to relate its success to the legislature in human terms.

The admission by Sen. Alfred Corbett, D-Portland, came shortly before the council, elected Vice Chapman, Portland, executive vice president of Oregon Physicians Service, as chairman for the 1963-65 biennium. Mrs. Ann Chambers, Oregon City labor official, was re-elected secretary.

KF Student Honored At Stanford

A Klamath Falls youth was among a group of 19 sophomores at Stanford University honored Wednesday for academic excellence during their freshman years.

The Oregonian is David Warren Poole, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren M. Poole, 1960 Lawrence Street. He was the only student from Oregon to attain the honor.

Stanford President Wallace Sterling cited the 19 at the freshman convocation in Frost Memorial Amphitheater at the Palo Alto, Calif., campus of the university.

The students had a cumulative grade point average of 3.80 during their freshman year. A grade point of 4.0 is "straight A" or "perfect."

The group will be formally honored at a dinner Oct. 3 with the Alumni Executive Board and the special faculty committee which chose the honorees.

The committee is composed of H. Donald Winbigler, dean of students; and Professors John W. Doods, English; Edwin M. Good, religion; Eric Hutcheson, chemistry; and James T. Watkins, political science.

Poole was graduated from Klamath Union High School in 1962. He is majoring in physics.

Bank Announces Tribal Session

The U.S. National Bank, trustee for the remaining members of the Klamath Tribe, has called a meeting of importance to all remaining members for 2 p.m., Friday, Sept. 20, in the Masonic Hall at Chiloquin.

The meeting will deal with factors to consider regarding the appraisal of Klamath Indian Management Trust assets as of Dec. 31, 1962, when compared with the withdrawing members' pro rata share of termination proceeds.

All remaining members, a re urged to attend.

Rest Home Survivors Are Moved

RIGGINS, Idaho (UPI) — Survivors of the tragic pre-dawn fire which swept through a rest home here Tuesday and claimed the lives of seven elderly men will be moved to other rest homes throughout the area.

Bob Salter, owner of the Paradise Pines Rest Home, said Wednesday, "We are cooperating with state officials in attempting to move these people out as rapidly as possible."

"I would not say we are being forced by the state officials. It's more a matter of both we and the state realizing that Riggins Hot Springs is not a suitable place to keep these people," Salter said. Riggins Hot Springs is a resort run by the persons who owned the hospital.

Salter, who estimated his property loss at $200,000, said he did not believe he would rebuild the rest home.

Nearly a score of elderly patients, both men and women, were taken to Riggins Hot Springs a few miles from here following the fire. About a dozen others, who suffered shock, cuts and bruises in their hasty exit from the inferno, were hospitalized for observation at McCall south of here.

"We are moving them just as quickly as we can" to rest homes at Grangeville, Weiser, possibly Council and some even to Boise, Salter added.

The fire was discovered about 3:15 by Johanna Walters, a nurse's aide, who was en route to the furnace room to check on a wall which felt warm. Before she reached there she found the ceiling in flames.

Meanwhile, at Council, Adams County Coroner Gene LaFay said an inquest will be held to determine the cause of the blaze.

He said the inquest would be held at New Meadows Friday, Saturday or possibly Monday.

LaFay said the date would depend on how quickly some of the staff members of the Paradise Pines Nursing Home recover from shock.

"When that many people die, I think this should be done so there will be no unanswered questions," LaFay said.

Corbett told the group's quarterly meeting some legislators question the need to continue the council.

"You have operated very quietly, and have not taken credit for much you have done. Maybe you did your job too well," he said.

Outgoing Chairman J. Wesley Nicholson, Eugene, said "it would not be proper for the state council to blow its horn and shift the spotlight from the work done by local agencies."

Nicholson said the council's 1963-65 budget was $44,534. He said under executive order plans have been prepared to trim this 14 percent to $38,299 or by 21 percent to $34,875 if the Oct. 15 election results in defeat of the tax increase measure.

When questioned by a member regarding the elimination of all out-of-state travel in the stripped budgets, Nicholson replied "it is hard to sell the legislature on the value of travel—unless it is a trip to Hawaii."

Corbett outlined action by the 1963 legislature which affected the elderly. He said the council should study and suggest needed amendments to the homestead tax exemption act and the bill to bar discrimination based on age.

"The homestead tax exemption act as passed is an important step toward easing the financial burdens of elderly persons on limited incomes, but needs some improvements. The act is difficult to administer and needs clarification," he said.

He said the $2,500 gross income limit was too low for an elderly couple attempting to live with today's rising costs.

He said the legislature improved the law barring discrimination based on age.

"The act applies to firms which employ six or more persons."

"Since five out of seven employers hire less than six persons, I suggest you look into the wisdom of modifying this limit," Corbett said.

Negro Leaders Visit White House To Discuss Birmingham Situation

By United Press International
The racial crisis in Birmingham, Ala., comes up for discussion today in the White House. President Kennedy will meet with seven Negro leaders who are pressing for federal intervention in Birmingham because of last Sunday's bombing of a Negro church in which four children were killed.

The Negroes, including Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., the President Wednesday, requesting an "immediate conference" on the tense situation. King earlier had asked that federal troops be sent to Birmingham.

King delivered the main eulogy Wednesday at the funeral for three of the four Negro girls killed in the church bombing. He said they were "victims of one of the most tragic crimes ever perpetrated against humanity."

A crowd of 6,000 attended the solemn services and hundreds of the mourners staged a street demonstration after the services.

Trio Awaits Proceedings

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Two of the three men charged in connection with a $55,000 Troy, Idaho, bank robbery Wednesday waived hearings, and will have a removal proceeding here along with a third suspect on Oct. 17.

The third, Joseph Lynn Gordon, 22, Glendale, was scheduled for a hearing Tuesday before U.S. Commissioner Theodore Hocke, but his case was continued at that time. The tentative date of the removal hearing was set Wednesday, pending arrival of necessary documents to return the trio to Idaho.

The two who were to come before Hocke Wednesday were Ronald Lee Gordon, 19, San Bernardino, Calif., and John Edsel Halverson, 19, Glendale.

All three have been free on $7,500 bail each since early this week.

—many of them crying "How many more have to be killed?" State troopers armed with riot guns stood by but Negro leaders were able to calm and disperse the demonstrators.

New York: Author James Baldwin and Bayard Rustin, who planned the recent civil rights march on Washington, Wednesday said protest demonstrations against Birmingham violence would be organized across the nation.

Kansas City, Kan.: The Wyandotte County Bar Association voted Wednesday to admit Negro lawyers to its membership, deleting the word "white" from its constitution.

Jackson, Mich.: Racial violence flared Wednesday following an incident near Parkside High School in which a gang of Negro youths beat up a white youth. More than 200 students began a rock-throwing, fist-swinging fight. Police used billie clubs to break up the riot.

Jackson, Miss.: Two more Negroes served on Hinds County court juries Wednesday. Two Negroes drew jury duty Tuesday and officials said it was probably the first time Negroes had sat on juries in Mississippi courts.

Pittsburgh: James Meredith, the only Negro graduate of the University of Mississippi, has charged that last Sunday's church bombing at Birmingham was part of an organized terror program against Negroes.

Thibodaux, La.: Seven Negroes quietly attended classes for the first time Wednesday at Nicholls State College, marking the end of segregation in all south Louisiana state-supported colleges and universities for whites.
