

Sympathy Marches Scheduled Across U.S. Today By Negroes

By United Press International
Negroes in many cities across the nation have scheduled "sympathy marches" Sunday in memory of four girls killed in the bombing of a Negro church at Birmingham, Ala., last Sunday.

Plans for such demonstrations have been announced in such cities as New York, Los Angeles and Boston, Friday, Raleigh, N.C., and Richmond and Charlottesville, Va., were added to the list.

The Richmond branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) said in a statement that every American, no matter what his race, bears a share of the responsibility for the bombing.

In Birmingham, city officials were hopeful that the racial crisis could move from the streets to the conference table. A two-man mediation team appointed by President Kennedy will go to Birmingham this week to meet with white and Negro leaders in an effort to settle differences.

Two white youths were bound over to a grand jury without bond Friday for the pistol slaying of a Negro boy following the bombing.

Elsewhere in the nation:
Birmingham: Two off-duty highway patrolmen were attacked by a Negro man on a downtown street Friday night and another man was stabbed in the shoulder by the same Negro, police said.

Selma, Ala.: A state court injunction warning will have little effect on continued protest demonstrations against segregation, Negro leaders said Friday.

New Orleans: Police arrested 82 Negro children and three adult supervisors during a singing, clapping march on city hall Friday to protest alleged discrimination in voting registration.

Washington: Negroes will appeal on Oct. 15 to the U.S. Supreme Court an appellate court ruling on whether Prince Edward County, Va., can padlock public schools to avoid integration.

Memphis, Tenn.: The NAACP has filed a motion here seeking to reopen the Jackson, Tenn., school desegregation case. The motion said that a school zoning system is "completely gerrymandered," not only to stop desegregation but to bring segregation back to some schools.

Questioning by legislators after the report was read brought out:—The commission was thinking of going back to the reorganization plan that was junked when two new commissioners were appointed by the governor.

—That the Finance and Administration Department was aware of the old reorganization was not working, and is not convinced the present plan is working well either.

—A charge by Callahan that the old reorganization plan "was the brainchild of commissioners Sidney B. Lewis and Emily P. Logan," who were fired in June by Gov. Mark Hatfield.

—That while new commissioners Charles Gill Jr. and Wilfred Jordan were appointed on June 25, and abandoned the former reorganization program the following day, both insisted they had "several days to study the problem before being sworn in."

'Particulars' Demanded
When Callahan challenged some conclusions drawn by the report, House Speaker Clarence Barton, D-Coquille, ordered the commissioners to prepare a "bill of particulars" on any inaccuracies.

The legislative committee also directed the Finance and Administration Department to review "the former and present organizational structure" of SIAC and present "the department's present opinion regarding the necessity for future change."

Penwell's report noted a survey, completed in April, 1962, which led to reorganization, cost $50,367, and pointed to net annual savings of $180,724.

"However, the survey report did not include the fact that it would cost $161,030 to effect the savings..."

Plan Was Resisted
Penwell also noted "the reorganization was subject to intense internal resistance... in several instances, major deficiencies in the organizational plan became known, but no positive action was taken to correct them."

"Resistance to the reorganization originated among the commission itself... commissioner Callahan was convinced it was costly, ill-advised, unnecessary and would ultimately collapse."

"Commissioner Callahan had one important advantage that the other commissioners did not share: Long tenure on the commission which had given him an intimate knowledge of actual operations and a close personal relationship with the staff."

"Motives aside, it is obvious that the public interest was obscured by the rancor of the struggle."

Penwell concluded SIAC "has shown a historic need for realignment of the organizational structure," and said "it should be determined if the commission is properly organized to efficiently carry out its functions."

Legislative Fiscal Office Raps Formation Of Commission

SALEM (UPI)—Organization of the State Industrial Accident Commission (SIAC) was criticized in a scathing report issued Friday by the Legislative Fiscal Office.

The 10-page report, presented to the Legislative Fiscal Committee by principal analyst Cleighton Penwell, was immediately challenged by SIAC chairman William Callahan.

Questioning by legislators after the report was read brought out:—The commission was thinking of going back to the reorganization plan that was junked when two new commissioners were appointed by the governor.

Actor Better After Crash

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI)—Actor Richard Boone, of the "Have Gun, Will Travel" television series, was reported in "very good" condition today in St. John's Hospital.

Boone, 47, was hospitalized Friday after his powerful, expensive foreign car slammed into a parked car near his Pacific Palisades home.

Attendants said the crazy-faced actor received abrasions and multiple lacerations of the face and torn rib cartilage in the smashup. The injuries were described as extremely painful.

Doctors expected the onetime oilfield worker to be released Monday or Tuesday. He was placed under heavy sedation following the mishap, but Friday night attendants reported he appeared to be coming out of the drug-induced sleep.

Pair Killed In Crashes

By United Press International
Traffic accidents claimed two lives in Oregon Friday night.

The victims were Norma Joyce Hegg, 33, of Hillsboro, and Thom Ring, 44, Hood River.

Mrs. Hegg was pronounced dead on arrival at Tuallity Hospital after her car struck a tree two miles west of Hillsboro.

Ring was injured fatally in a one-car accident on State Highway 282 seven miles south of Hood River. He died about an hour later.

Police Nab 3 Escapees

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (UPI)—Three women who escaped from the Washington State Penitentiary Wednesday night were back in custody Saturday, captured after only 24 hours of freedom.

An official at the penitentiary said the three were picked up near Milton-Freewater, Ore., 11 miles south of here.

He said escape charges probably would be filed against the three.

The women were identified as Vivian Violet Jimmy, 22, Toppenish, Wash.; Frances Mae Rowton, 24, Aure, Minn.; and Shirley Ann Robinson, 20, no address given.

Argument Over Children Leads To Wife Slaying

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—The granddaughter of a founder of the Maxwell House coffee company was strangled by her wealthy doctor husband Friday night while the two were arguing about their children over a martini.

The body of Mrs. Patricia C. Newell, 35, clad in a green kimono, was found lying behind a bar in the Florida room of her fashionable, ranch-style home. The two martini glasses were nearby.

Her husband, Dr. Charles H. Newell, 36, was charged with murder and held without bond in county jail.

Newell is a radiology specialist at a local hospital. His wife was the granddaughter of Joel O. Cheek, founder of the Maxwell House Coffee Co.

Newell, who had divorced the auburn-haired beauty once and was preparing to do so again, told police his wife goaded him into the attack by accusing him

Hearing Held On Shooting

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)—Two Eagle Scouts listened to a saddened Negro youth tell a judge Friday they fatally shot his 13-year-old brother without provocation during Sunday's racial violence.

Larry Joe Sims and Michael (Mike) Lee Farley, both 16, were held for the grand jury without bond. The maximum penalty in capital cases in Alabama is death. The white youths have signed confessions in the case.

James Ware, 16, testified Sims fired two pistol shots from a motor scooter driven by Farley. Ware said his younger brother, Virgil, was struck by the bullets and died minutes later.

Ware told the court he was pedaling his bicycle toward home and Virgil was riding on the handle bars when Sims fired.

When Jefferson County Criminal Court Judge Ellis Watson announced following a preliminary hearing that the two crew-cut youths would be denied bond, their mothers broke into sobs.

Farley slumped in his chair at the counsel table and Sims buried his head in his arms. Both cried softly.

Youth Dies After Swim

MEDFORD (UPI)—A 14-year-old Medford youth was pronounced dead on arrival at a hospital Friday after collapsing while swimming in a municipal pool.

Gerald Walter Hobbs, a Medford high school sophomore, was swimming with some companions following a physical education course when he complained of feeling dizzy. He collapsed moments later and was given mouth to mouth resuscitation after being pulled from the water.

Jackson County Medical Examiner Dr. A. Erin Merkel said the cause of death was not immediately known. An autopsy was scheduled.

The youth's father is Charles Hobbs, a captain in the Medford Fire Department.
