

Police Locate Parents Of Two Abandoned Boys

NORTH BEND, Ore. (UPI) — Police Saturday located the parents of two young boys who were put on a bus for Boys Town, Neb., in Salem, Ore., last Tuesday because the family could no longer care for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Hackworth flagged down a city police car here and asked the officers' help in getting the matter straightened out.

The boys, Daniel Ray Presnell, 12, and Donald Presnell, 10, arrived in Omaha Thursday night with 90 cents, two suitcases containing their clothes, and a letter of introduction to Boys Town officials.

The mother, 32, said she went looking for the police after reading an article in a local paper. She told them she was unable to care for the boys because she had a heart condition and their stepfather was unemployed.

The couple was living in a trailer court at Charleston, near here, while Hackworth attempted to find work as a longshoreman.

He said he still was out of a job Saturday, although he had "a couple of leads."

North Bend police got in touch with Salem authorities and the mother talked with Detective Elwood Hewitt.

OFFERED HOMES — Scores of offers are rolling in to give a home to Danny Presnell, 12, and his brother, Ray, 10, but authorities at Omaha are still studying their fates. The boys arrived by bus late Thursday from Salem, Ore., with 90 cents and a note from their mother requesting their admittance to Boys Town. Here the boys are shown leaving the juvenile court. —UPI Telephoto

Tax Or Civil Rights Choice Facing Solons

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Fall's official advent brought home to Congress today a chill realization it probably can't complete action this year on both the tax and civil rights bill labeled 1963 "musts" by President Kennedy.

Final action on taxes this year has been a prime target of the Kennedy administration since January. Three months ago, the President added civil rights to the priority list for this year.

It might have seemed possible back in June to get both bills through the House and Senate in 1963. It doesn't look that way now.

Congressional leaders have been reluctant to talk about this. One reason is that the choice is a hard one and is certain, either way, to make a lot of people unhappy.

Some civil rights backers currently suspect that when and if the choice is made, taxes will get the nod. That could set off loud and long objections from civil rights supporters.

Favor Tax Bill

The cards appear to be falling in favor of the tax legislation, and not entirely as a result of efforts by civil rights opponents.

For example, the House will act on the tax bill this week. The civil rights bill hasn't even been approved by the House judiciary subcommittee that has been working on it for months. The efforts of northern Democratic civil rights advocates to carry along Republicans, rather than delaying tactics by southerners, have taken the time.

When the subcommittee, dominated by pro-civil rights members, clears a bill, it must be considered by the parent judiciary committee. Southerners have a strong voice there and are not expected to pass it out quickly. Once that hurdle is cleared, the southern-led House Rules Committee must be by-passed or prodded to act before the House can even take up the bill.

Young Driver Causes Crash

A 15-year-old learning driver was cited for failure to yield right-of-way Friday night following an auto crash which slightly injured a woman at Eleventh and Washington streets.

Klamath Falls Police Sgt. Charles Shipman witnessed the collision.

He reported that a car driven by 15-year-old Larry Lee Anderson, 3031 Emerald, southbound on Washington stopped for a stop sign and turned onto Eleventh, striking another car which was driven by Alwira Roberta Taylor, 36, 1801 Worden Street. Sergeant Shipman said the woman struck her head on the steering wheel, but the injury didn't require treatment.

Neither the boy nor any of his four passengers was hurt.

Liz, Burton In Mexico

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton, keeping their marital intentions a mystery, settled down today for a planned three-month stay in Mexico while Burton makes a movie.

The couple flew here Sunday night from Paris via Montreal and Toronto and ran into about 100 reporters and photographers eager to find out whether they will divorce their respective mates while in Mexico.

A private guard force of 10 men — apparently hired in advance — cleared a path through the crowd for the two movie stars and Miss Taylor's daughter, Lisa Todd, 6.

They were halted by a mob of 200 movie fans outside the airport terminal building, however, and reporters fired questions but learned nothing about rumored marriage plans.

Asked if this was his first trip to Mexico, Burton, obviously irritated by the crowd and a delay in getting through customs, snapped: "Yes, and I hope it will be the last."

The three traveled from Paris to Montreal as "Mr. and Mrs. Hayward and child."

Asked in Montreal whether he plans to divorce his wife Sybil, Burton replied: "Who knows?" Miss Taylor, asked if she desired to obtain a Mexican divorce from singer Eddie Fisher, said: "I wouldn't tell you if I did."

Fund Raising Dance Slated At Chiloquin

CHILOQUIN — The Chiloquin Volunteer Firemen's drive committee will sponsor a street dance from 8 o'clock to midnight on Friday, Sept. 27, to raise funds for the purchase of a new ambulance. Individual donations will also be accepted.

The dance will feature free music, and hot dogs, hamburgers, and coffee will be sold. All Chiloquin, Fort Klamath, and residents of surrounding areas are invited to attend.

The dance was proposed at a meeting held at the Chiloquin Fire Hall on Sept. 17, when it was determined that the boundaries to be covered by the new ambulance and emergency service will be extended to Chemult to the north and Beatty to the east.

Anyone living within an approximate 30-mile radius of Chiloquin who wishes to become a member of the ambulance service donation fund, can purchase a one-year membership for $10. Memberships for those living beyond Sand Creek to Chemult and east to Beatty can be purchased for $15 by the head of the family to include members of his immediate household.

The drive is expected to close on or around Oct. 10. Interested persons may contact any member of the Chiloquin Volunteer Fire Department, Chiloquin Fire Belles, or inquire at the city hall or U. S. National Bank in Chiloquin.

Lakeview School Board Accepts New Structure

LAKEVIEW — Formal acceptance of the Lakeview High School building by the board of education for District No. 7 was effected Friday night, Sept. 20, when the key to the building was turned over by Howard Perrin, architect. Acceptance was made by John McDonald, chairman of the board of directors.

The building, which has been in use during the past year, was opened after the program for a tour by those present. Perrin said the structure was unique in that it had been constructed for modes of teaching in the present day and also 30 years from now. Arrangements were for team teaching and a language laboratory.

Dr. Frank Bennet, president of Eastern Oregon College and guest speaker, reminisced on the changes in buildings and teaching modes since the days when he started to school in the one-room schoolhouse. He reflected on the births, bonds, buildings, and buses which were the sequence which resulted in such construction, and touched on the economic changes which have increased the percentage of students attending high school and college.

A highlight of the program was the honoring of retired teachers in the area and those who had taught more than 15 years here. Included among the retired teachers were Laura Barry, Martha Bolton, Jennie Carroll, Lora Conn and Wilma Taylor. Others still on the teaching staffs who were recognized were Laura Waterman, 38 years; Ida Stroda, 30 years; Mary Gallagher, 24 years; Dora Brosius, 23 years; Hazel Murphy, 22 years; Bernice Moffitt, 21 years; Ruth Bricey, 20 years; and Neva Green, 19 years.

The program consisted of prelude music by the senior high band, under the direction of John Jordan; the pledge of allegiance led by Brian Newcombe, president of the student body; invocation by Rev. Elwyn Tesche of the Lakeview Presbyterian Church; presentation of guests by John Orr, superintendent of city schools; numbers from the senior high school chorus, directed by Robert Shotwell; singing of the high school alma mater with the chorus and band, and the benediction by Reverend Tesche.
