Among the club member models were Anne McDermott, above, Jeannie Powell, right, and Gloria Harder, center right.

New members of the Kingsley Field NCO Wives Club were welcomed at a fall coffee and style show staged with international decor for the "Around the World" theme. Club president, Mrs. Roy D. Anderson, was general chairman.

Mrs. Anderson is pictured above, standing, with four special guests of the day. Left to right are Mrs. L. W. Provance, honorary president; Mrs. Edwin Witzemberger, wife of the base commander; Mrs. William Thoresen, the chaplain's wife, and Mrs. Lucius Theus, president of the Officers Wives Club.

Travel posters and objects from many foreign countries were effectively used by Emilie Trnka in decorating for the party.

The latest in fashions for all occasions were presented by Bon Bazaar with Carol Curtis acting as commentator. Anne McDermott was in charge of models who were members of the NCO Wives Club.
