Furs Theme Of DAC Meet

The Daughters of the American Colonists met Saturday, Sept. 28 for a noon luncheon in the Round Table Room of the Winema Motor Hotel.

Mrs. A. O. Roenicke, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Vera Clemens who presented an interesting program on the life of her grandfather, Martin R. Frain, pioneer fur trader to the Oregon Territory in 1857. He camped nearby the present intersection of Payne Alley and Main Street. He died in Klamath County March 27, 1927. Mrs. Clemens also displayed beautiful otter and mink furs that her father, Wren Frain, caught and tanned for her.

Mrs. Roland E. Wright introduced members who brought a display of numerous types of furs. Mrs. Bert C. Thomas, Mrs. Guy Barton, Mrs. L. B. Bartholomew, Mrs. Rollin E. Thompson, Mrs. Dick Henzel, Mrs. A. O. Roenicke, Mrs. Arch G. Proctor, Mrs. Charles K. Wells and Mrs. Wright. Mrs. L. H. Stone, patriotic chairman, announced that Patriotic Education Week has been endorsed by Gov. Mark Hatfield. The week begins Oct. 14.

Mrs. Guy Barton, national defense chairman, reported on a display in the city library during Constitution Week, Sept. 17-23.

Mrs. Arch G. Proctor, Oregon state regent, announced that the national nominating committee has endorsed Mrs. John Y. Richardson, Portland, for national president of DAC.

Mrs. Rudolph Paygr entertained with several organ selections. Marigolds from the garden of Mrs. Raymond Hall decorated the tables.

Mrs. Charles K. Wells introduced the guests, Mrs. Clemens, Mrs. A. V. McVey and Eva Dickson.

Manzanita OES Meets

Manzanita Chapter, OES, held their first regular meeting Sept. 11 with Mary Jane Sabo and Glenn Hageman, worthy matron and patron presiding in the east.

Lorene McCollum, past worthy matron of the chapter and presently grand marshal of the Grand Chapter of Oregon, was introduced and escorted to the east. Carrie Rush and Orval Alley, worthy matron and patron of Aloha Chapter, were also introduced.

A clever addendum was presented by the Rosebuds with Del Malone narrating the history of the founder of Eastern Star, Robert Morris. Assisting were the conductresses, Edna Koehler and Joyce Lanphear.

Social Club met at the home of Lucille Crawley on Sept. 18 to discuss the rummage sale.

At the next meeting, the chapter will honor the junior past worthy matron and patron, Verda Scribner and W. E. Anderson.

At the meeting on Sept. 23, Lorene McCollum, grand marshal, was introduced with Goldie Robertson, a past worthy matron of Lakeview and now member of the Estar Committee of the grand chapter, and Verda Scribner and W. E. Anderson.

Mrs. Robertson, on her official visit, reported on the Estar Committee which supports scholarships for students who are studying for the ministry.

A special program was presented for Mrs. Scribner and W. E. Anderson in appreciation of their leadership the past year. Each received a gift from the chapter.

In closing the meeting the altar was draped in memory of H. Edwin Jones.

Family Visits Bly

BLY — Mr. and Mrs. Willard Cline and their four children, Timmy, Kathy, Joe and Barbara, recently completed a trip which took them to Yosemite National Park and Mount Thather where they camped for a few days.

On their return they visited in Bly at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Max Cline, and with his grandmother, Mrs. Mae Cline in Anderson, Calif.

FOR YOUR PROTECTION

Dean DeWitt Answers Your Insurance Questions

QUESTION: We haven't changed the fire insurance on our home and furniture for many years. Some of our things have become almost worthless but some have increased in value including the house itself. How can we arrive at an accurate figure on the value?

ANSWER: Call in a good insurance agent for an appraisal of the house and then make a complete inventory of all your furniture and personal effects. It won't take as long as you think and you'll have a pretty good idea as to how much fire insurance you should have.
