MOUNT SHASTA — Products slated for manufacture in the electronics plant being constructed in Mount Shasta by the Booker, Thomas, and Little Company were described at the last meeting of the Mount Shasta Chamber

Celebration Dates Set At Dunsmuir

DUNSMUIR — The dates for next year's Railroad Days celebration were set, the number of chamber board of directors reduced, and a highway sign fund campaign begun at the luncheon meeting of the Dunsmuir Chamber of Commerce on Thursday.

Chamber members decided Dunsmuir's community homecoming and celebration should come later in the summer when the weather is more settled and set Aug. 15-16 for the 1964 Railroad Days.

A motion was passed reducing the board from 16 to 9 members, and reduction of this year's board will be determined by lot at the next meeting.

At least $400 must be raised by Dunsmuir businessmen to retain the promotional billboard at the south approach to Dunsmuir, Leslie Lenton reported.

The chamber will endeavor to raise enough additional funds to erect a similar sign at the north approach to the city. The city of Dunsmuir has recently allocated $872 for sign assistance, Lenton reported.

Christmas promotional plans will be made at the next chamber meeting, Harry Arnold, vice president, announced. This will be a luncheon at the Travelers Hotel on Oct. 17.

Mrs. Juris Rites Held

CHILOQUIN — Funeral services were held Wednesday, Oct. 2, from Ward's Klamath Funeral Home for Mrs. Catherine Elizabeth Juris, 76, who died in Hillside Hospital Sept. 30. She had lived in Chilquin with her family for 26 years. Final rites and interment were in Klamath Memorial Park. Rev. Harold Fumo of Lady of Mt. Carmel Church, Chilquin, presided.

Club Schedules Turkey Shoot

The Kingsley Field Rod and Gun Club is sponsoring a turkey shoot Sunday, Oct. 6, from noon until dark, at the skeet range, the Kingsley Field Information Office has announced.

The turkey shoot is one of the many projects planned during October for the benefit of the United Fund.

Refreshments will be available in a booth sponsored by the Kingsley Field Teen Club. The public is invited.

of Commerce by H. C. Little, company president.

The company has purchased 28 acres at the outskirts of Mount Shasta and in addition to the electronics plant, hopes to interest other industrial development, Little said. A glass cleaner and a garden cultivator are to be manufactured this fall, with an electrical measuring device for determining internal heat of metals slated for production next spring, he added.

Mike Hennessy, Yreka attorney, outlined the Siskiyou County application for Area Redevelopment funds to augment the construction of Box Canyon Dam.

This recreation facility, deemed a necessity to a healthy economy in southern Siskiyou County, by the Mount Shasta chamber, will need continued local support, Hennessy said, and much more red tape at the federal level. He feels the Box Canyon Dam can be built with state and federal funds if the chamber continues with the groundwork.

David Otis, chamber president, expressed gratification at the attendance of over 100 persons at this dinner meeting, and stated that the Mount Shasta Chamber of Commerce is now the most active and the most financially strong chamber in the county. A budget exceeding $5,000 was recently adopted by the chamber for this year.

Pair Killed In Accident

REDDING, Calif. (UPI)—Two persons were killed late Friday when a California car collided head-on with an Oregon vehicle on U.S. 99 near Shasta Lake.

Killed, according to the California Highway Patrol, were Elizabeth Hoover, 38, of Oakland, Calif., and Grace W. McCracken, 61, of Lebanon, Ore. Both were passengers.

The two drivers were seriously injured and taken to Mercy Hospital in Redding. They were Robert James Hoover, 41, the husband of Mrs. Hoover and Marion I. Shields, 62, of Lebanon.

Officers said the accident, about 15 miles north of here, occurred when Hoover's northbound car swerved across the two-lane highway and hit Mrs. Shields' southbound vehicle.

Mrs. McCracken retired last year after 20 years as a teacher in Lebanon elementary schools. Mrs. Shields was a nurse at Lebanon Community Hospital.

Quint To Go Home Soon

ABERDEEN, S.D. (UPI)—James Andrew Fischer, who tips the nursery scales at 4 pounds 13 ounces, appeared to have the best chance today of being the first Fischer quint to go home to mama.

James Andrew, largest of the quint and the only boy, had only to gain three more ounces to be sent home to join his parents, Mary Ann and Andrew Fischer.

Dr. James Berbos, the general practitioner who delivered the quint Sept. 14—about one month prematurely—indicated the infant will probably be sent home one day at a time as they appear ready to leave the hospital nursery.

CHAPERONES—All the large and small details of preparing a royal court for a public appearance will be worked out by this trio of chaperones who accompany the six Klamath County high school girls competing for queen of the 27th annual Klamath Basin Potato Festival at Merrill Oct. 25-26. Their duties include seeing the girls get to gown fittings on time, keep other appointments and dress the girls for the coronation held during the Friday night banquet. Left to right are Mrs. Bill Nicholson, Mrs. Forrest Breithaupt and Mrs. Harry Orem.

THE OWL HOOTS

By ALMON L. GEISS

actly the same as a year ago, it appears that the amount of increased enrollment will depend upon the number of returning students who are working until the last minute and who will register on Monday or Tuesday, the final days of registration. The new student enrollment has increased from 482 a year ago to 539 this year — a 10 1/2 per cent increase.

VIES FOR CROWN — Nondica McFall, high school senior, represents Bonanza as a candidate for queen of the 27th annual Klamath Basin Potato Festival to be held in Merrill Oct. 25-26. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jessie McFall.

Incidentally, all groups and organizations in the Klamath Basin are invited to participate in the parade with floats or marching bands.

The public will be invited to Saturday night's Homecoming dance which will be held in the campus gym. The Starlighters, a 17-piece band from Klamath Falls, will furnish the music.

The new curricula were accredited and two older curricula were re-accredited as curricula in engineering technology by ECPD last week at its annual meeting. The Drafting and Mechanical Technologies were the two new programs and Structural Design and Surveying Technologies were those re-accredited. The Electronics and Highway Technologies are also ECPD accredited on the same basis. The accreditation of the two new curricula resulted from an inspection visit on the Oregon Tech campus last May by five members representing the Technical Institute Accreditation Committee.

Dr. Purvine, who is chairman of ECPD Region III, and G. Ross Henninger, who is chairman of the ECPD Subcommittee on Engineering Technology, attended the annual meeting of the Engineers' Council for Professional Development held in Chicago Sept. 30 and Oct. 1.

The foreign students who have registered at Oregon Tech for fall term are Jorge A. Begue, Ecuador; Abdul Bulhanan, Arabia; Robert G. Cassendo, Haiti; Ernesto C. Daumas, Argentina, S.A.; Gabriel Diafouka, Congo; Julio C. Gomez, Colombia, S.A.; Victor C. Hoe, British Columbia; Charles Makita, Congo; Edwin F. Nguma, Liberia; Laurence O. Otoo, Ghana; Narendra J. Patel, East Africa; Deepak N. Shah, India; Soukoun Sissoko, Mali; and Mir Waheeduddin, India.

Work Of 'Bloodhounds' Make Drive Successful

How does the Red Cross get hundreds of busy people to give an hour of time every three months to come to the bloodmobile visits and share their blood with the sick and injured?

Donor recruitment is the most challenging volunteer service of the local Red Cross chapter. It requires the best talent and many hours of time of workers in the field of firms and employee groups of the community who cooperate with the program. The title of "bloodhound" is given to the man or woman who personally contacts employees at each bloodmobile visit to remind them that over 100 pints of blood are needed in this community each month for the sick and injured.

Among the star bloodhounds for 1963 are John Holzgang of Pacific Power and Light and Mrs. Ralph (Betty) Hill, Klamath County employee. Each has vital personal knowledge of the importance of blood for the treatment of the sick and both have been blood donors. Perhaps that is the reason they succeed in convincing their fellow employees of the importance of this life-giving community service.

Recruitment efforts are now in full swing in all sections of the community to meet the 200 pint quota set for Tuesday, Oct. 8, under the sponsorship of the Knights of Columbus and Catholic Daughters. Hours are from 3 p.m. to 8 p.m., location is upstairs in the Evans Building, 10th and Main, in the Knights of Columbus headquarters. Baby sitters will be provided, and free parking is available at the Winema Hotel lot.

Donors not contacted by recruiters are urged to phone the Red Cross office, TU 4-4125 and make appointments.

Spanish master chefs says roast turkey is made more succulent and moist if brushed with olive oil before and during cooking.

BLOOD PROGRAM BENEFITS — Mrs. Ralph (Betty) Hill, Klamath County employe and John Holzgang, Pacific Power & Light, are among the top blood recruiters for the Red Cross this year. Each has been a donor and each is assisting with the recruitment efforts to reach the 200-pint quota for the special drawing on Tuesday, Oct. 8, in the Knights of Columbus headquarters in the Evans Building. Hours will be from 3 to 8 p.m.
