

Mrs. Neuberger Cites Attacks For DAR Stand

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Maurice B. Neuberger, D-Ore., said today she had been subjected to a campaign of "concerted venom" for suggesting withdrawal of tax exemption for the Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR).

In a speech prepared for Senate delivery, Mrs. Neuberger said she had been attacked with the implication that she was "a Communist, a party to the 'international anti-freedom conspiracy.'"

200 Churches Close In Soviet

MOSCOW (UPI) — Two hundred churches and prayer houses have been closed in the past three years in one section of the western Ukraine, the Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda announced Monday.

POSSIBLE CAUSE — A microbiologist with the Tennessee Department of Public Health examines a package of smoked whitefish that was taken from counters in grocery stores in Nashville Monday after two people in a Knoxville family died of food poisoning. Their deaths are thought to be the result of eating contaminated whitefish as this. Lab tests are pending. — UPI Telephoto

Two Die After Eating Smoked Fish, Six Others Fight For Their Lives

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — Doctors fought a silent battle against a little-known killer today — hoping they have caught it in time.

A prominent businessman and his 10-year-old daughter died Monday. A university professor, his wife and two children lay ill with the same disease. A chemical engineer and his wife also fought for life.

The suspected killer was type "E" botulism. Rare but deadly.

Solon Wants Fiscal Study

BEAVERTON (UPI)—State Sen. Walter Pearson, D-Portland, said Monday he will seek an investigation of the fiscal control procedures in the Oregon System of Higher Education.

Pearson, speaking at a meeting of the Washington County Public Forum here, said he thought "there is no real fiscal control" and that this opened the way to misuse of funds and "probably to illegal use of funds."

In Salem, Secretary of State Howard Appling Jr. denied there was any illegal use of funds.

Pearson said he would ask for the investigation this year if a special session of the Legislature was called.

The Portland Democrat also said he will push for an inquiry into some of the procedures of the State Board of Education and wanted provision for legislative review of rules and administrative agencies.

Appling said "the audits division of my office has for some time been engaged in an examination of the financial procedures of the State System of Higher Education."

"We have questioned a number of those procedures and have requested the system to either correct them or to justify them," he said. "None of these matters involves questions of personal morality or culpability; all are concerned with questions of sound financial procedure and accountability."

Appling said the findings of the audit will be made public when it was completed about Dec. 1.

U.S. Investigates Missile Mishap

VANDENBERG AFB, Calif. (UPI) — Air Force investigators today attempted to determine what caused a giant Atlas-D missile to explode shortly after it was launched from this Pacific missile range base Monday.

The big intercontinental ballistic missile exploded on a 5,000-mile mission downrange into the Pacific. An Atlas-F blew up at the same missile base during lift-off last Thursday night.

Ben Bella Threatens Force To Smash Revolt

ALGIERS (UPI) — President Ahmed Ben Bella said today he will mass 100,000 Algerians if necessary "to smash" the great Kabylia revolt.

Ben Bella, who in the past has pledged never to use the army against the Algerian people, said his government in future "will assume its responsibilities" to quell rebellious Berber dissidents.

He told a cheering crowd of 3,000 persons in the stadium at Bougie that his government had proof the counter-revolution was linked with foreign plots.

"We will mobilize 100,000 Algerians if necessary in vigilance committees to smash this counter-revolution" he said.

"The only sort of dialogue Ahmed and El Hadj understand is the dialogue of the machine-gun," he said, pointing to the mountains where Hocine Ait Ahmed and Col. Mohamed Ou El Hadj have their counter-revolution headquarters.

Ben Bella spoke for 15 minutes and frequently was interrupted by the wild cheering of the crowd. He has said he will not use the Algerian army against the rebels and his speeches are believed

Rocky Lists Trip Agenda

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, a potential 1964 Republican presidential candidate, renews testing the political atmosphere Friday and Saturday with visits to Indiana and Oregon.

A tentative itinerary, announced by his office here, shows the governor will arrive at Louisville, Ky., airport and at 9:30 a.m. go by car to French Lick, Ind.

The New York governor will attend a private luncheon in French Lick Friday.

Later he attends a luncheon given by the annual convention of the Indiana Bar Association.

The governor flies from Louisville to Eugene, Ore., airport and will spend the night at the Village Green motel, Cottage Grove.

Rockefeller has scheduled a 9:30 a.m. news conference at the Eugene Hotel for Saturday morning. Later he will attend a University of Oregon reception and attend a box luncheon at the Republican western conference, McArthur Court.

He is scheduled to speak at the conference at 12:15 p.m.

Rockefeller will attend the Oregon-Idaho football game at 1:30 p.m.

Tito Ends Mexico Visit

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—Yugoslav President Tito, accompanied by President Alfaro Lopez Mateos, was flying today to the western provincial capital of Guadalajara, last official stop on his two-week visit to Mexico.

After two days in Guadalajara, Tito will go to the Pacific Coast resort of Acapulco for a week's vacation before flying to Washington.

Lopez had not been scheduled to accompany Tito to Guadalajara, but a government spokesman announced Monday night that the Mexican president had decided to do so.

part of a plan to put down the uprising by force of overwhelming popular political opinion.

"In the near future we will assume our responsibilities, all our responsibilities, in the face of the counter-revolution," he said.

"The government and the people unanimously will say 'no' to divisionists so as to allow the socialist revolution to continue its impetus."

"We have proof that the revolution is linked with foreign plots. If necessary, we will mobilize 100,000 Algerians in vigilance committees to smash this counter-revolution."

Ben Bella said new and important sectors of the Algerian economy will be nationalized.

He said it was a time when "our revolution is taking a decisive turn"—a reference to recently stepped-up nationalization measures, against which Ait Ahmed and El Hadj launched their counter-movement.

"El Hadj had a personal axe to grind," Ben Bella declared, "because he held important shares in a big Algiers cafe that recently came under nationalization."

Ecumenical Council Approves Series Of Worship Reforms

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Ecumenical Council fathers today overwhelmingly approved a series of proposals for reform of Catholic worship, including greater insistence on preaching the word of God.

The fathers voted at today's session on five of 19 pending amendments to the second chapter of a document on the liturgy or public worship of the church. Voting on the document, which was discussed for three weeks at the council's first session last fall, will continue Wednesday.

The results were tabulated on four of today's ballots and showed that all passed by great majorities. The largest negative vote cast on any one of them was 31 votes out of 2,298.

The most important of the amendments approved today was designed to put much greater emphasis in Catholic worship on sermons, which always have occupied the central role in Protestant worship but in the past often have been regarded as an optional appendage to the Catholic Mass.

The proposal approved today said that sermons should never be omitted except for serious reasons. It emphasized the importance of the priest using every opportunity to explain the Christian faith and Christian living.

The document said priests should base their sermons on the Bible and make extensive use of Scripture in all of their preaching.

Another major amendment approved today is aimed at simplifying the rubrics or order of service of the Mass. It calls for omitting certain duplications and eliminating non-essential things which have been tacked on to the Mass over the centuries.

A council press spokesman said the other changes approved today were largely technical and matters of terminology of no general interest.

Still to come are a series of amendments authorizing the use of modern languages instead of Latin in a large portion of the Mass.

The proposed changes would permit national or regional conferences of bishops to authorize use of "vernacular"—the everyday language of the people—in most of the so-called "fore-Mass," the portion of the service which comes before the offertory.

In an American church, for example, worshippers might find English used in the reading of the Gospel and Epistle, in certain prayers, and in some of the congregation's chants such as the Creed, the Gloria and the Sanctus.

Interpreter Flees Reds
TOKYO (UPI) — Communist Chinese defector Chou Hong-ching told Japanese police today he asked for political asylum at the Soviet Embassy in order to get to Nationalist China, not Russia.

Chou surrendered to police this morning. They were waiting for him when he walked out of the Soviet Embassy, where he had sought refuge Monday shortly before the technical delegation for which he was interpreter was scheduled to fly back to Communist China.

He is being held for investigation of violation of the immigration law, since his visa expired Sunday, but the government indicated he probably would be permitted to go to Formosa.

He is being held for investigation of violation of the immigration law, since his visa expired Sunday, but the government indicated he probably would be permitted to go to Formosa.

The Soviets washed their hands of the matter when they learned of Chou's wish to go to the Nationalist Chinese.

The Nationalist Chinese Embassy began negotiations with the Japanese Foreign Office today for Chou's release and said the Japanese government should "respect the wishes of Mr. Chou from a humanitarian standpoint."

The fact that Chou was choosing Nationalist China took some of the political significance out of his act, which was first believed connected with the current dispute between Communist China and vice versa occur with relative frequency.
