Club Lists Programs

DUNSMUIR — Concerns of youth and community will provide program topics for the luncheon meetings of the Dunsmuir Women's Club. Tentative programs for the year were distributed at the first fall luncheon Tuesday, Oct. 15, at the Travelers Hotel.

At this meeting, Kathy Harris, participant in the Americans Abroad program of the American Field Service, told of experiences while living with a family in Norway last summer. She showed colored slides to illustrate her talk.

In November, Jess Brewer, Siskiyou County probation officer, will discuss youth problems. The Girl Scouts have been asked to provide the December program.

The Eye Bank is slated as January's topic and in February the club will hear Jose Saldeno, Venezuelan student spending the year in Dunsmuir as an American Field Service student.

Assistance with the local AFS program has been a club project for six years. A speaker from the California Federation of Women's Clubs will discuss family living in March. Art in the home is the April subject.

Flowers and gardens will be the May program and the year will conclude with a picnic and round table discussion in June. Mrs. Harold Walsh is program chairman this year.

Ext. Leaders Are Trained

Training in the use of "Color in the Home" was given to 41 project leaders of Home Extension Units. Sept. 24, 25 and 26 by Peggie Setzler, county extension agent. During October these leaders will present lessons on color for interior decoration at meetings of their extension units. They will show how color can create a pleasant atmosphere letting a room reflect the character and preferences of those living there—how old rooms can glow to a new life, sparkling with well-chosen and harmonious colors. These leaders will explain how the magic of color can make architectural defects seemingly disappear. Their lesson will include slides of room interiors illustrating the variety of effects that can be achieved by a person who recognizes the possibilities provided by color.

Any woman interested in learning how to use color effectively in her home is welcome to attend during October. Each of the 22 extension units in Klamath County will meet during the first three weeks of the month. For information about these meetings, write the County Extension Of-ice, Box 231, Klamath Falls, or call TU 4-8151.

Leaders who will be teaching color in the home include Mrs. Harry Lester and Mrs. William J. Kunz, Altamont; Mrs. John Murphy and Mrs. Gordon Braker, Bonanza; Mrs. Harold Thompson and Mrs. Raymond Downs, Conger-Fairview; Mrs. R. V. Seater and Mrs. Walter Smith, Langley Valley; Mrs. M. E. Barrett and Mrs. Ray Billings, Lindley Heights; Mrs. Charles Street and Mrs. James Lacy, Malin; Mrs. William M. Williams and Mrs. Morris Bidwell, Henley.

Other leaders were Mrs. Susan Vincent, Bly; Mrs. A. Stump and Mrs. James Telrick, Buena Vista; Mrs. Forrest Freid and Mrs. Alvie Youngblood, Chiloquin; Mrs. Jack Brandon and Mrs. R. F. Baher, Fairhaven; Mrs. W. E. Davison and Mrs. Elmer Edler, Keno; Mrs. D. F. Ritzel and Mr. Loy G. Andrews, Klamath Falls; Mrs. Ernest Watts and Mrs. Dale Moore, Merrill; Mrs. Fred E. Sharp and Mrs. Thomas Cusker, Midland; Mrs. D. P. Therjault and Mrs. W. A. Spencer, OTI; Mrs. H. R. Johnson and Mrs.
