

Move Made To Settle Racial Issue

By United Press International
A group of Negro ministers in Birmingham, Ala., Wednesday made a move to settle the city's latest racial controversy by conference rather than ultimatum.
The Birmingham Baptist Minister's Conference, an organization of about 200 Negro clergymen, urged city council to demonstrate "responsibility, fair play and meaningful faith" with the Negro community by firing Negro police and firemen and opening other city jobs to Negroes.
The ministers' statement set a deadline for the police force desegregation as was put forth last week in an ultimatum by the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr.

The statement apparently was an olive-branch gesture by some Negro leaders to head off resumption of huge street demonstrations similar to those which last spring resulted in more than 2,500 arrests.

King, who led the earlier demonstrations, demanded the firing of 25 Negro policemen by next Tuesday — a demand Mayor Albert Boutwell has flatly rejected. King vowed to lead more demonstrations if the deadline is not set.

"The conference table should be made more attractive than the streets for trying to make civic adjustments," the ministers said.

Other developments:
Selma, Ala. — Only about 40 Negroes showed up to register in Selma where King made an appearance Tuesday night to spur the "big push."

Gastonia, N. C. — About 200 Negroes marched on two segregated theaters for the fourth consecutive night. The march was without incident.

Jackson, Miss. — A perjury charge was filed Wednesday against Lois Chaffee, a white student at predominantly Negro Tougaloo College, after she testified that policemen beat demonstrators to the ground with clubs. Police witnesses said they saw no such beatings and County Judge Russel Moore filed the charges.

Charleston, W. Va. — Gov. W. W. Barron issued an executive order Wednesday banning racial discrimination by state agencies or firms doing business with the state.

Tot Fights For Life

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A 2-year-old Mexican girl waged a quiet fight for life today against an illness that still posed an unsolved mystery to doctors.

The condition of Marivole Olea, of San Luis, Mexico, was critical although slightly improved at Children's Hospital where she has been undergoing extensive tests to determine the cause of her illness.

"She appears calm and seemed to sleep some in the afternoon," a nurse said Wednesday night.

When doctors at Yuma, Ariz., suspected the tot suffered from gangrene resulting from an infected mosquito bite, she was flown here for treatment in a compression chamber. But tests discounted the possibility of gangrene, and other treatment—including oxygen, intravenous feeding and 24-hour attention—was ordered instead.

GRANT VISITS HOME

BRISTOL, England (UPI)—British-born actor Cary Grant paid a surprise visit to an old folk's home Monday and was mobbed by elderly autograph seekers.

Grant, who planned to return to the United States later this week, had promised in an exchange of letters to visit the Old Aged Pensioners Club in suburban Bedminster, but his appearance came as a surprise.
