BPW Guest From India

A charming recent guest to the city and unofficially to the Business and Professional Womens Club was Renuka Raghaven, a native of Nagpur, India. Renuka first came to the United States on a PEO International Peace scholarship. She received a MEd from Smith College in 1960. After a year at Detroit's Merrill Palmer Institute she enrolled at Oregon State University. There, with the aid of a Business and Professional Womens scholarship, she will continue her studies in the field of child development toward a Ph. D. in that field. The young scholar has received an extensive educational background in her native India. She was graduated from St. Joseph's Convent High School at Nagpur and attended Lady Ambriahai Daga College for Women, receiving a BA degree in 1957. She then enrolled at Lady Irwin College in New Delhi and two years later was awarded a bachelor of education degree preceded by a diploma in Home Science. The same year she also received the King Edward Memorial Scholarship for graduate work.

Upon completion of studies at OSU, Miss Raghaven will return to India and probably teach at the University of Delhi which is one of the few schools where child development has been recently introduced as a field of study.

Renuka is one of several children, whose father, recently retired as a government railway man, owns a printing business in Nagpur. Their mother died about five years ago. Her brothers were educated in India and work there with the exception of one who is a chemical engineer in England.

Four sisters followed Renuka to the United States. The eldest, Kalyani, received a masters degree in economics from Bryn Mawr College and returned to India as a government employee. She married a journalist who last year was appointed a press correspondent to the United Nations.

The next two sisters, Maithili and Sulochana came in 1958 and went to the University of Michigan and Smith College, respectively. Maithili received her Ph. D. in philosophy and is presently teaching at the University of Long Island. Sulochana was awarded a masters degree in clinical psychology and later married a professor of sociology at the University of California.

The youngest sister, Sheila, came to this country in 1960, received her masters degree at Brandeis University and is continuing there on her Ph. D. in social anthropology. While in Klamath Falls, Renuka was a guest in the homes of Mrs. Dean Osborn and Mrs. Ken Brisco, both active members of the local Business and Professional Womens Club.

Long beaded crepes and fur-trimmed brocade suits will be "in" for fall cocktail and theater events.

VISITOR TO KLAMATH FALLS — Renuka Raghaven of India, right, was a recent visitor to the city and members of Business and Professional Womens Club. She is shown with Mrs. Dean Osborn, seated, and Mrs. Ken Brisco, center, in whose homes she was a guest.

OSU Mothers Schedule Tea

Oregon State University Mothers, under the direction of Mrs. K. E. Henry, president, are busily planning their activities for the coming year. The initial event of the fall season will be the annual tea honoring the new freshman mothers to be held at the home of Mrs. R. P. Ellingson Jr., 1700 Fairmont Street, on Saturday, Oct. 26, between the hours of 2 and 4 o'clock.

Although the event is especially planned to get acquainted with the mothers of new Oregon State University students, all past and present members of the group are urged to attend to become acquainted with the new members and with the new slate of officers who will guide the mothers during the coming months in the many projects which they undertake to raise money for the annual scholarship donation.

Aloha OES

Aloha Chapter No. 61, OES, held its regular meeting in the Masonic Temple, Oct. 8. The meeting was called to order by the worthy matron, Carrie Rush, and the worthy patron, Orval Alley. The grand committee member, Harold Rush was introduced.

Two new members were initiated, Edna Leslie and Douglas Tennant.

This was the night to honor the sideliners and a very interesting addenda was carried out by the Friendship Gems.

In honor of the worthy patron's birthday, Wilbur Harnsberger and Lillian Haneline portrayed the worthy patron and his wife on a deer hunting trip. The worthy patron was then presented with a gift of rifle shells made of currency. Ruth Renie, associate matron, presented the gift.

Refreshments were served by Bertha Vinson, Mildred Pepper, Mona Dixon and Ruth Musselman.

Teachers Are Honored

MERRILL—A reception was given by the Parents and Patrons Sept. 10 in the elementary school gym for the Merrill teachers. Emcees for the evening were Sharon Hobson and Chuck Kahann, both seniors at Merrill High School. Sharon began the first half of the program with an introduction of the cooks, bus drivers and janitor. Mrs. Lucille West's second grade class began the entertainment with a school room scene, songs and the Pledge of Allegiance. The school board members,

Randall Pope, Harry Orem and Sherman Waldrip were introduced next. Jim Conroy is secondary supervisor. Grade school teachers were presented, followed by the song, "School Days," sung by Kate Thompson, Leo McKoen, Ginger McCollum and Tommy Britton. Chuck Kahann took over the second half of the program beginning with an introduction of the high school teachers, after which Betty Ann Chapman, Karen Chapman and Peggy Carter danced. The entertainment was ended with several selections played on the accordion by Seve Garcia, music instructor. Program chairman for the coming year is Mrs. Ida Fleck. PPA meetings will be held the second Tuesday of each month.

Furniture Talk

"HOME FURNISHING IS OUR BUSINESS" BY BEN RYAN

SELECTING A SOFA is often the single most important decision you'll make in decorating your home. Cost is one reason, since the sofa is one of the largest pieces you will buy. Even more significant, the sofa sets the style of your living room. If you favor the popular trend towards elegance, you'll want a sofa whose grace of line and richness of fabric will set the elegant tone of the room. While it is possible and often very effective to mix different styles or periods in the same room, it is a good rule to choose the sofa in the room's dominant style, whether it be modern, contemporary or traditional.

Because of its size, the sofa is also a vital key to your color scheme. For instance, you can choose a fabric with several colors, in a print or striped pattern, and pick up the various colors in other pieces of furniture and in the walls and carpeting. Or you can select a fabric for your sofa similar to the background color, leaving you free to accessorize with contrasting colors.

Give a lot of thought to the sofa before you choose — you won't replace it very often. And be sure to see our selection of fine sofas and sections, available in a wide range of decorator fabrics.
