WALL STREET

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks moved higher today, spurred by news that Chrysler has split its stock 2-for-1 and doubled its dividend.

Trading in Chrysler was suspended most of the day because of an accumulation of buying orders.

Chrysler opened at the close on a block of 200,000 shares followed by 10,000 at 99 1/4 up 9 1/4 from Wednesday's close.

Consolidation Coal, which owns a substantial block of Chrysler stock, rose more than 3. M. A. Hanna, which owns considerable stock in both Chrysler and Consolidation Coal, jumped more than 2.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — Martin Gilbert of Van Alstyne, Noel & Co. notes that the stock market usually reacts to news such as the government's move against the steel industry — and this particular action was no exception.

"However," he adds, "more important was the fact that after the first selling wave, prices steadied." Gilbert believes that the Dow-Jones industrial average will begin to move upward from this point on. "The current pullback is temporary and provides an opportunity to accumulate favored equities at more reasonable prices," he said.

Moody's Investors Service says that "cigarette stocks should not be written off in fear of the upcoming report by the U.S. surgeon general on smoking and health. "If the official report is less harsh than anticipated, the stocks should show some price recovery. After all," it adds, "it is hard to believe that any cigarette smoker is unaware of the health controversy and yet sales continue to rise."

Reynolds & Co. says that despite the unruly trading prevailing in some issues, it still appears as if the primary trend is upward, "and a positive approach to the market is advisable at this time."

Investors Research Co. says that the insurance group remains in the favorable category at this time, "but accounts with positions in these issues should exercise wariness and be prepared to act should signs of faltering develop in their holdings."

Bids Being Opened

On Hospital

Another phase in the project to construct the 141-bed Presbyterian Intercommunity Hospital got underway in the banquet room of the Pelican Cafe at 2 p.m. today when Boyd Sanderson, administrator, and members of the hospital board opened bids for the construction of the estimated $2.7 million structure.

Results of the bid opening were not available in time for publication in the Herald and News.

The next step in the construction project will be a formal ground breaking ceremony at the hospital site, 1:30 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 2. Dedicating the site will be Congressman Al Ullman, who will be one of various dignitaries, including Gov. Mark O. Hatfield and Sens. Maurine Neuberger and Wayne Morse, to appear at the ceremony.

The successful bidder will also play a large part in the ground breaking event, the hospital board has disclosed.

RUSTLERS' LOOT — Elmer Belcastro (left), manager of the Medo-Bel Dairy, inspects a fiberglass cow which was stolen from his dairy Wednesday night and planted in a carport on Harlan Drive. In background is Gino Zalunardo, supervisor of the dairy.

Dairy's Kidnaped 'Cow' Returned Minus One Ear

Miss Rae D. Marks, 5415 Harlan Drive, stopped out her door this morning to go to work — and found a cow staring her in the face.

But it wasn't real.

It was a fiberglass milk cow stolen the night before from the Medo-Bel Dairy, 1114 East Main, and planted in Miss Marks' carport by the thieves.

Miss Marks, recognizing the cow which normally sits in front of the dairy, called Medo-Bel manager Elmer Belcastro and he picked it up later this morning.

Belcastro said the chain holding the cow down was cut and the fiberglass animal hauled off during the night, apparently in a truck.

The cow was damaged as it apparently lay on its side in the thieves' truck. One ear was broken and the side was scratched up. The cow is valued at $300.

Jet Flights Will Mark 'Adoption'

EUGENE — A formation of supersonic F-101 jet fighters from Kingsley Field was scheduled to fly over Howe Field on the University of Oregon campus today as the university's Air Force ROTC detachment was "adopted" by the 408th Fighter Group of Kingsley.

The ceremony at Howe Field at 1 p.m. included talks by UO President Arthur S. Flemming and Col. Edwin J. Witzemberger, Kingsley Field commander.

Also featured were a color guard and a precision drill marching unit.

The F101's were to have made a low-level pass during the ceremony.

Prior to the field ceremony, there was a luncheon for the visitors from Kingsley Field.

"Adoption" of ROTC units by active Air Force detachments has become standard procedure on the West Coast and is designed to acquaint the student-airmen with active Air Force life.

Play Times Announced

The Klamath Falls Parks and Recreation Department announced today that the Klamath Auditorium will be open for free play beginning this Saturday.

The free play time is an opportunity for youngsters and adults to use the auditorium for athletics and games during the winter months. There is no fee.

The auditorium will be open on Saturdays from 12 noon to 4 p.m., on Sundays from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m., and Monday through Thursday from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. The auditorium will not be open on Fridays.

Motorist Cited After Accident

Herman Dietrich Schroeder, 84, of Klamath Falls was cited for running a red light following the collision of his auto and another car at Main and Spring streets Wednesday afternoon.

Police said no one was injured in the crash at 1:40 p.m. Officers said Schroeder, 2435 Reclamation, was stopped for a red light while westbound on Main, but mistakenly crossed into the intersection before the light changed. His auto struck one being driven south on Spring by Benny Vega, 22, of Tulelake. Both autos sustained moderate damages.

Cars Hit, Two Hurt

Two drivers were slightly injured Wednesday afternoon when their autos collided at Union and Division streets.

Neither person required hospitalization. The drivers were Mrs. Virginia Maude Harris, 40, 1500 Division, and David Edward Middleton, 19, 2424 Union. Middleton was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Police said Mrs. Harris was northbound on Division in her 1963 station wagon when the auto collided with Middleton's 1954 pickup truck, eastbound on Union.

The collision occurred at 12:06 p.m.

Chamber Told Convention 'Trade' Important To Broadening Economy

Klamath Falls Thursday, Oct. 24, to attend the annual meeting of the American Chamber of Commerce Executives at Atlanta, Ga., slated for next Sunday through Thursday. Callison added that he would be back at his desk the day following the convention.

County Commissioner Frank Ganong reported that the board of directors of the Winnemucca-to-the-Sea Highway Association had been enlarged to include one member from each chamber of commerce located along the route served by the new road linking three states.

Ganong asked President Jim Stilwell to appoint a member of the chamber to serve on the board and he in turn referred the matter to the Tourist and Convention Committee for study.

Stilwell later remarked that the chamber budget for 1963-64 had been drafted and would soon be presented for adoption. On another subject, he urged the membership to attend the banquet of the Klamath County Cattlemen's Association scheduled next Saturday evening at the Winema Motor Hotel. The dinner is to follow a business meeting slated for the county fairgrounds earlier the same day.

In line with a new program calling for fewer meetings each month, Stilwell announced that the next regular luncheon meeting of the chamber would be held Wednesday, Nov. 13, at the Pelican Cafe.

Rodriguez Arraignment Slated Friday Afternoon

The arraignment of Isabel Pina Rodriguez, 24, of Mercedes, Tex., charged with the first degree murder of Richard M. Rodriguez, 42, of Phoenix, Ariz., was continued until 3 p.m. Friday to permit the defendant time to acquire the services of an attorney.

The defendant is accused of slaying the victim with a bullet discharged from a .32 caliber automatic as the two men were driving through Merrill and Main streets on the north side of Klamath Falls, Wednesday, Oct. 23.

George Callison, manager of the chamber, later pledged the cooperation of the chamber to any organization seeking to promote this city as the meeting place for an annual convention.

Surprenant then listed some conventions and other events which would bring large numbers of people to Klamath Falls from other cities in Oregon and elsewhere in the country, beginning next spring through fall.

Among those were Junior Chamber of Commerce, Future Farmers of America, Sectional Duplicate Bridge Tournament of the Klamath Falls Unit Committee of the American Contract Bridge League, Ham Radio Operators, and a district meeting of the Rotary Club.

In addition, Cal Peyton, president of the Klamath County Board of Realtors, reported that the State Board of Realtors would meet here for its annual convention in the fall of 1965.

On one of two other matters concerning conventions, Callison produced samples of a fabric faced self-adhesive identification badge that the chamber has available for its members for use at conventions. Callison said the new badges are superior to similar types in that they have better adhering qualities.

On the other subject, Callison announced that he was leaving

Snow Falls On Passes

Highways over Willamette Pass and the Green Springs and Dead Indian routes to Medford were still open today following a two-day storm which brought snow flurries to the mountainous areas of Klamath County, the local office of the state highway department has reported.

The storm deposited approximately five inches of snow at Crater Lake Tuesday night and early Wednesday and marked the closing of the north entrance into the national park for the winter, the office stated further. A trace of snow was reported on Willamette Pass.

Temperatures of 34 degrees and overcast skies was the forecast for Thursday, with bare pavement noted on all highways in the county.

Wound Proves Fatal To Hunter

BAKER (UPI) — Chester A. Teeter, 37, Salem, who accidentally wounded himself last Saturday while hunting, died Tuesday night as a result of the injury.

Officials said the accident occurred while he was hunting on Dooley Mountain near here.

Fire Report

(10 a.m. Wednesday to 10 a.m. Thursday)

Klamath Falls Substation

NROTC Deadline Nears

D. L. Goiding of Klamath Falls, principal of Fairview School and a retired commander in the U.S. Naval Reserve, has announced that the deadline is approaching for young men desiring to join the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps next fall.

Goiding, the NROTC commandant's local representative, said applications for admission into the program must be received by the Naval Examining Section, McHenry, Ill., by Nov. 22. These are applications for students who will enter the program next fall in college.

The program pays tuition, textbook costs, other instructional fees and a retainer of $50 to each student selected.

NROTC is available in 32 colleges and universities in the nation. Further information is available from local high school counselors.

Tour Cancelled

The scheduled tour of the new Oregon Technical Institute campus Saturday by returning alumni during homecoming has been cancelled due to a speed-up of work at the site. The contractor ordered the speed-up to meet completion schedules for two of the buildings.

Funerals

Funeral services for Frank Harry Marks will take place from the chapel of Ward's Klamath Funeral Home on Friday, Oct. 25, 1963, at 2 p.m. Concluding services, Eternal Hills Memorial Gardens.

Funeral services for Nancy H. (Mrs. W. W.) Dawley, 80, mother of Mrs. John A. Schubert, 2327 Bisbee Street, this city, died Oct. 23 in Hillside Hospital following a lingering illness. She had lived in Klamath Falls for nearly two years following the death of her husband.

Mrs. Dawley was a native of Blissfield, Mich., born May 29, 1883. The family had lived in Rio Vista and Lodi for many years where Mr. Dawley was in an administrative capacity with the Shell Oil Company.

After their marriage in Klamath Falls, June 14, 1924, they remained in Klamath Falls for two years before moving to California. She was a member of Chapter No. 222, Order of the Eastern Star, in Lodi.

Survivors include an only daughter, Mrs. John A. (Virginia) Schubert, Klamath Falls; grandchildren, Mrs. Nanette Taylor, Pasco, Wash.; John A. Schubert Jr., Heppner, Ore.; Charles Thomas Schubert, Willits, Calif.; seven great-grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Allen Buck, a nephew, Dr. Allen Buck, both of Coos Bay; also several sisters and nieces and nephews in the East.

Funeral services will be Saturday, Oct. 26, 10:30 a.m. from Ward's Klamath Funeral Home. Rev. Robert Greene, St. Paul's Episcopal Church, and Aloha Chapter, OES will assist with the service. Final rites and interment will be in Klamath Memorial Park.

Palbearers will be Orville Hamilton, Mike Balsiger, Tom O'Hara, Irving Burke, Frank Bogatay, Walter Kennell.

Landrum Placed On Museum Board

Francis Landrum, operator of the Fremont Glass and Millwork Co., has been named to fill a post on the County Museum Board of Directors that was left vacant with the appointment of Mrs. Lloyd Seely as curator of the museum, the county court announced Thursday. Mrs. Seely had been acting head of the museum at the time of her most recent appointment last Jan. 1.

Landrum's appointment to the seven-member board became effective Oct. 23 and expires Jan. 1, 1965. He is currently a member of the County Road Advisory Board and is a past president of the Winnemucca-to-the-Sea Highway Association. He also contributes his time to the Boy Scouts and is a member of the local Rotary Club.

Landrum came to Klamath Falls from Pendleton with his parents in 1926 and is a graduate of Klamath Union High School. He later attended Oregon State University and has since become a structural engineer.

He and his wife, Patricia, live at 825 Newcastle Street with their two sons and two daughters.

Others comprising the museum board are Jim O'Donahue, Mrs. Rufus Quillen, Warren Bennett, Hal Ogilvie, Carrol Howell and Scott Warren.
