HAS OCTOBER BIRTHDAY — Mrs. Jennie Crandall, well-known Klamath Falls matron, celebrated her 87th birthday on Oct. 3. She has made her home in this city since 1910.

Birthday Is Observed

Thursday, Oct. 3, held special significance for Mrs. Jennie Crandall who that day celebrated her 87th birthday. Mrs. Crandall is well-known in the community and has made a host of friends in her long residency here. She was born in New York City and came to Klamath Falls in 1910.

She was married to W. Crandall in 1900 in Brookfield, Mo. "Dad" Crandall as he was known here, died in 1938. They came West to the Redding country and he engaged in mining activities.

For the first five years in Klamath Falls the Crandalls operated the Washington Hotel over the old McMillan Furniture Store which was located where the present First National Bank

Nuptial Mass Unites Couple

LAKEVIEW—At a nuptial mass in St. Joseph Catholic Church, Prineville, Virginia Greeley of that city became the bride of Cornelius John Taylor of Lakeview, on Sept. 21 at 11 o'clock in the morning. The single ring ceremony was performed by Msgr. Matthew Croly.

The bride is the daughter of Captain Quentin McKay Greeley and Mrs. Greeley of Menlo Park, Calif., and the bridegroom is the son of Con Taylor and the late Mrs. Taylor of Lakeview.

Garnet red roses trimmed the church pews and white gladioli decorated the altar. Organist was Mrs. Thomas Kasberger.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a gown of antique slipper satin with full train. The long-sleeved fitted bodice was accented by a dropped shoulder effect of reemboilered Alencon lace. It was worn originally by the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Carter Fetsch. The bouffant veil of French illusion was caught in a wide satin bow. Her bouquet was a cascade of gardenias and stephanotis.

The color accent was carried out in the frocks of her attendants, Mrs. Robert Sheppard Jr. of Seattle, was matron of honor, wore an afternoon length frock of ruby red velvet, with modified A-shaped skirt. Her bouquet was made of gardenias and garnet red roses, and her headress was a ruby red popcorn veil. The bridesmaid, similarly attired, was Frances Greeley, Menlo Park, sister of the bride.

Best man for his brother was Barry Taylor of Plush, and ushers were Jack Flynn, Plush, John O'Leary, Paisley, and Dr. William Barry, Lakeview.

The bride's mother wore a frock of smoke green chiffon with matching hat, accented by a corsage of red roses.

Following the ceremony a garden reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard

B. Boyce of Ochoco Lake, Prineville. The four-tiered white wedding cake was served by Mrs. Mike Miksche, Mrs. Frank Hamilton and Mrs. Harry Bongers of Prineville. Pouring tea and coffee were Mrs. Con Fitzgerald Jr. and Mrs. Con Lynch of Lakeview, Mrs. Donald Graham and Mrs. Stuart MacDonald, Prineville. Serving the punch were Virginia Hagen and Mrs. George Gomm, Portland; and the sandwiches, Elizabeth MacDonald, Betsy Cowan, Carolyn O'Connor and Sue Stover.

At the gift table was Jeanette Kimball. The bridegroom's cake, wrapped in red tulle and tied with red ribbon and white lilies of the valley, was carried in baskets to the guests by three nieces of the bridegroom, Barbara Taylor, Carla Fetsch and Mary Fitzgerald.

The bride's going-away costume was a three-piece Italian knit in vintage green, with brown velvet hat and alligator purse and shoes. Her corsage was of red roses and gardenias. The first step of their wedding journey was to Portland where the bride, in the tradition of Marylhurst College graduates, placed her bouquet on the altar in the chapel. The couple is now at home in Lakeview at 551 South "H" Street.

The bride has been a teacher of foreign languages in Grant High School, Portland, and Crook County High School, Prineville. Her husband is a graduate of Oregon State University, served in the Air Force, and is now engaged in ranching.

Special guests for the wedding were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. M. J. Ryan, Alexandria, Va.; her aunt, Elizabeth Greeley, New York; a cousin, Winifred Bresnahan, Cheyenne, Wyo.; and her aunt and uncle, General and Mrs. Leonard Greeley of Los Altos, Calif.

The return of longer sleeves in ready-to-wear has brought a revival of four and six-button length gloves. But the longer eight-button and the shorter ending at the wrist will continue into winter, reports the Leather Industries of America.

RECENTLY WED — Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius John Taylor are now at home in Lakeview following their recent marriage in Prineville. Mrs. Taylor is the former Virginia Greeley of that city.

Ex-Residents Observe Date

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Brooks of Medford observed their golden wedding anniversary on Sunday, Sept. 22. The Brooks resided in Klamath Falls from 1928 until 1938 when he retired from the Great Northern Railway. They were married Sept. 24, 1913, at the First Christian Church in Wenatchee, Wash.

The anniversary reception in the Fireplace Room of the First Christian Church, Medford, was planned by the couple's three children and their wives and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brooks, Klamath Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Lane Brooks, Empire, Ore., and Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Franzman, Ingleswood, Calif.

For the reception, Mrs. Brooks wore a blue brocade dress with a white orchid corsage, gift of her children. All decorations were made by Mrs. Arthur Brooks. They were chrysanthemums, asters, and calla lilies in fall shades. A gold tree with fruit and white and gold doves decorated the gift table. On the refreshment table was an arrangement using gold brocade bowl and matching candleholders with gold flowers and tapers. Other decor was appropriate to the occasion.

Mrs. Rolland Franzman made and decorated the four tiered cake which she served. Mrs. Lane Brooks served coffee and Jeralynn Brooks, Klamath Falls, and Carolyn Brooks, Empire, poured punch. Sandra Brooks, Empire, was in charge of the guest book.

The couple's grandchildren, Mrs. Edward Gillette, Martha, Linda and Robbie Franzman, Ingleswood, played an instrumental arrangement of "Anniversary Waltz," accompanied by Mrs. Nathan Woodworth, Gled, Wash., cousin of Laurence Brooks. Mrs. Woodworth played incidental music during the reception hours.

Another granddaughter, Jeralynn Brooks, also entertained with two piano selections. Among the guests honoring the Brooks were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Wickersham, Mrs. Gordon Grow and son, W. C. Hooper, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gill and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Chamberlain and daughters, all of Klamath Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Ted Stephens and son, Lakeview.
