Five Teachers Join Sorority

The Blue Room of the Winema Hotel was the scene of impressive formal initiation rites for five candidates into Alpha Lambda Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, international honor society for women teachers, Oct. 5. Initiation honors were bestowed upon qualified women teachers, Winifred Clawson, Rita DePew, Irene Jelinek, Blanche Montgomery and Margaret Westlin by chapter officers, Dolly Bunch, president, Wilma Marvin, first vice president, and Nell Stewart, second vice president. Frances Stewart, secretary, presented new members with certificates which had been lettered by Marjorie Gunderson. Initiates were escorted into the beautifully arranged Blue Room by escorts Marjorie Gunderson, Lela Thurman, Elsie Mock, Alma Garrison and Aura Mitchell.

Dora Boye Visits Family

Dora Boye, who holds the rating of H.M.1. with the Navy has recently returned to her base at Quantico, Va., after spending a 30-day leave in Klamath Falls with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Oldfield. She also shared her vacation time with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Schmitz, this city, and her sister, Mrs. John Harris and family in Langell Valley.

Miss Boye is a native of Klamath Falls and was graduated from Klamath Union High School in 1947. Three years later she joined the Navy and took her basic training in Great Lakes.

RECENT VISITOR — Dora Boye, who has served the past 13 years in the hospital corps of the Navy, recently visited her family. She is presently stationed at Quantico, Va.

College Talks Scheduled

SOUTH HADLEY, Mass.—Victoria Shellenberg, field director of the Seven College Conference Scholarship program, will be in Klamath Falls Oct. 30 to meet with high school students interested in attending an eastern liberal arts college for women. She will talk to students from Klamath Union High School, Sacred Heart Academy and Henley High School.

An avid hunter and fisherman, the visitor spent much of her leave enjoying those pastimes. And, being a capable cameraman, too, she returned to her base with pictures of fish and a three-point buck, rewards of her Klamath Falls stay.

Story-telling is a highly developed skill in Moslem countries where religion forbids the portrayal of human and animal likenesses in art.

In charge of arrangements for initiation ceremonies and presenting candidates was Jeannette Jackson, committee chairman. Other committee members included Marjorie Gunderson, Lela Thurman and Alma Garrison.

Dolly Bunch presided over a brief business meeting preceding initiation rites. As candidates received the degree, chapter members sang two appropriate numbers entitled Symbols of the Delta Kappa Gamma and the Delta Kappa Gamma Song.

Following initiation, members adjourned to the Green Room for the banquet. New members were escorted into the dining room which was festive in hues of red and gold in keeping with the official colors of the Delta Kappa Gamma organization. Beautifully appointed tables carried out the color scheme with red and gold ribbon runners, rose floral arrangements, corsages and red tapers. A large red rose floral arrangement used during initiation ceremonies graced the head table and was complemented by red floating roses placed on remaining tables. Chapter symbols were placed around the room and on the piano.

Members enjoyed the chapter scrapbook which was on display in the back of the room. Marjorie Gunderson had charge of the scrapbook.

SORORITY MEETS — The Xi Theta Tau sorority met recently at the home of Mrs. William Smith. Speaker of the evening was Mrs. Phyllis Moisan, member of the Toastmistress Club. Her subject was "Who are We?"

Located in New York, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania, the seven colleges supporting the scholarship program are: Barnard, Bryn Mawr, Mount Holyoke, Radcliffe, Smith, Vassar and Wellesley.

Since 1943 these colleges have been offering competitive scholarships to outstanding young women in 14 states of the Middle, South and Far West. In the fall of 1963, 92 students entered one of the seven colleges under its scholarship program. Of these students, those with financial need shared in scholarship assistance totaling $100,200 awarded by the Seven College Conference.
