

General Assistance Program Slashed

SALEM (UPI) — The Public Welfare Commission Saturday slashed the general assistance program which has zoomed $243,071 over budget in the past three months, and ordered a $1.8 million cutback

Blood Calls Scheduled This Week

The next visit of the Red Cross bloodmobile to Klamath Falls will be sponsored by the Circle K Club of Oregon Technical Institute and Kingsley Field personnel.

The bloodmobile will go first to Kingsley Field on Tuesday, Oct. 29, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. and on the following day, Wednesday, Oct. 30, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. to the Student Union Building on the OTI campus. Goal for 1963 is 450 pints.

This will be the first visit of the scholastic year on the campus for OTI which last year was second place winner in intercollegiate competition in Oregon. OTI was nosed out first place in blood sharing by a narrow margin by Willamette University.

The Marine Corps League is calling all ex-Marines in this area to give blood to help replace the 65 pints used by Thomas Small, California ex-Marine who died after losing both legs while swimming. Small died following surgery but the blood must be replaced. Blood may be tagged for him and his family will be notified of the donations. Those planning to give in his memory may donate either at Kingsley Field or OTI.

Those needing transportation to either place may call the Red Cross office, not later than Monday, Oct. 29.

This will be the last visit of the bloodmobile to Klamath County in 1963. The next visit will be in January.

Dope Peddler Shot And Killed

CHICAGO (UPI) — A wounded federal narcotics agent shot and killed a reputed top level dope peddler Friday night in the climax of a gun duel on a busy Chicago expressway.

Nolan Mack, 38, who had a record of narcotics arrests dating to 1935, was slain by Gayle Ruhl, 33, who had chased Mack at speeds up to 100 miles an hour for 19 miles through late evening expressway traffic.

Lake Stockgrowers Plan Annual Meeting Tuesday

LAKEVIEW — The annual meeting of the Lake County Stockgrowers Association has been called for Tuesday, Oct. 29, at 2 p.m. in the Memorial Hall, with a dinner to follow at 7:30 at Hunter's Lodge.

The meeting was set prior to the Oregon Cattlemen's Convention in Baker in early November in order to discuss current issues and air any problems prior to that meeting. Important and timely topics for discussion include the increasing cattle theft problem, and the problem of Bang's re-accreditation which will come up in 1965.

According to a report from Oris Rudd, secretary of the association, blood tests from animals sent to slaughter are not being reported back in sufficient numbers to insure re-accreditation, and unless some action is taken another round of testing may be in prospect.

Walter Schrock, president of the state association, will be on hand to bring up to date the activities of that group. Also attending will be LeRoy Rogers, livestock economist from Oregon State University, who will outline a few guidelines for sound financial decisions. He will also be the dinner speaker that evening and his topic will be, "You Can't Take It With You."

Reservations for the dinner are being made through the Extension Service Office.

AIRMAN CITED — For outstanding achievement in repairing an AN/UPA-35 Indicator, A.I.C. John E. Dicken is awarded the Air Defense Command Commendation Certificate by Lt. Col. Martin P. Alger, commanding officer of the Keno Radar Station. A native of Cumberland, Md., Airman Dicken is a radar maintenance technician and has been assigned to the radar station since January of this year.

Shipping Costs Stall Wheat Deal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The buyers are ready and the sellers are willing in the $250 million U.S.-Soviet wheat deal. But the knotty problem of how much to charge to get the grain from one to the other stalled the sale.

Two Russian delegations were in Washington for the sale, and it was learned that a group of private American grain traders, who will handle the selling end for the United States, also had arrived in the capital. It was believed formal talks would begin Monday.

While the administration dickered with U.S. shippers, the Agriculture Department attempted to head off any upsurge in bread prices to the nation's consumers.

The department, in a memorandum, stated flatly that recent wheat and flour price increases would not justify any increase in bread prices. It said flour prices for the year probably would average below 1962.

The memo, prepared for Secretary Orville L. Freeman by members of his staff, said bakers might use the increase in wheat prices to hike bread prices, but that this would be unwarranted.

Neither the price of wheat nor the prospective sales to Russia can be cited as the reason. Bread prices did not decline this summer when flour prices fell; there is no basis in slightly higher flour prices for higher bread prices now or later this year.

Despite President Kennedy's announced approval Oct. 9, the transaction remained stalled on the issue of U.S. shipping charges. The President made it a condition of the sale that the purchased wheat be shipped to Russia in American vessels whenever available.

While the administration dickered with U.S. shippers, the Agriculture Department attempted to head off any upsurge in bread prices to the nation's consumers.

The department, in a memorandum, stated flatly that recent wheat and flour price increases would not justify any increase in bread prices. It said flour prices for the year probably would average below 1962.

The memo, prepared for Secretary Orville L. Freeman by members of his staff, said bakers might use the increase in wheat prices to hike bread prices, but that this would be unwarranted.

Neither the price of wheat nor the prospective sales to Russia can be cited as the reason. Bread prices did not decline this summer when flour prices fell; there is no basis in slightly higher flour prices for higher bread prices now or later this year.

Despite President Kennedy's announced approval Oct. 9, the transaction remained stalled on the issue of U.S. shipping charges. The President made it a condition of the sale that the purchased wheat be shipped to Russia in American vessels whenever available.

While the administration dickered with U.S. shippers, the Agriculture Department attempted to head off any upsurge in bread prices to the nation's consumers.

The department, in a memorandum, stated flatly that recent wheat and flour price increases would not justify any increase in bread prices. It said flour prices for the year probably would average below 1962.

The memo, prepared for Secretary Orville L. Freeman by members of his staff, said bakers might use the increase in wheat prices to hike bread prices, but that this would be unwarranted.

Neither the price of wheat nor the prospective sales to Russia can be cited as the reason. Bread prices did not decline this summer when flour prices fell; there is no basis in slightly higher flour prices for higher bread prices now or later this year.

Despite President Kennedy's announced approval Oct. 9, the transaction remained stalled on the issue of U.S. shipping charges. The President made it a condition of the sale that the purchased wheat be shipped to Russia in American vessels whenever available.

While the administration dickered with U.S. shippers, the Agriculture Department attempted to head off any upsurge in bread prices to the nation's consumers.

The department, in a memorandum, stated flatly that recent wheat and flour price increases would not justify any increase in bread prices. It said flour prices for the year probably would average below 1962.

The memo, prepared for Secretary Orville L. Freeman by members of his staff, said bakers might use the increase in wheat prices to hike bread prices, but that this would be unwarranted.

Neither the price of wheat nor the prospective sales to Russia can be cited as the reason. Bread prices did not decline this summer when flour prices fell; there is no basis in slightly higher flour prices for higher bread prices now or later this year.

Despite President Kennedy's announced approval Oct. 9, the transaction remained stalled on the issue of U.S. shipping charges. The President made it a condition of the sale that the purchased wheat be shipped to Russia in American vessels whenever available.

While the administration dickered with U.S. shippers, the Agriculture Department attempted to head off any upsurge in bread prices to the nation's consumers.

The department, in a memorandum, stated flatly that recent wheat and flour price increases would not justify any increase in bread prices. It said flour prices for the year probably would average below 1962.

The memo, prepared for Secretary Orville L. Freeman by members of his staff, said bakers might use the increase in wheat prices to hike bread prices, but that this would be unwarranted.

Shipping Costs Stall Wheat Deal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The buyers are ready and the sellers are willing in the $250 million U.S.-Soviet wheat deal. But the knotty problem of how much to charge to get the grain from one to the other stalled the sale.

Two Russian delegations were in Washington for the sale, and it was learned that a group of private American grain traders, who will handle the selling end for the United States, also had arrived in the capital. It was believed formal talks would begin Monday.

While the administration dickered with U.S. shippers, the Agriculture Department attempted to head off any upsurge in bread prices to the nation's consumers.

The department, in a memorandum, stated flatly that recent wheat and flour price increases would not justify any increase in bread prices. It said flour prices for the year probably would average below 1962.

The memo, prepared for Secretary Orville L. Freeman by members of his staff, said bakers might use the increase in wheat prices to hike bread prices, but that this would be unwarranted.

Neither the price of wheat nor the prospective sales to Russia can be cited as the reason. Bread prices did not decline this summer when flour prices fell; there is no basis in slightly higher flour prices for higher bread prices now or later this year.

Despite President Kennedy's announced approval Oct. 9, the transaction remained stalled on the issue of U.S. shipping charges. The President made it a condition of the sale that the purchased wheat be shipped to Russia in American vessels whenever available.

While the administration dickered with U.S. shippers, the Agriculture Department attempted to head off any upsurge in bread prices to the nation's consumers.

The department, in a memorandum, stated flatly that recent wheat and flour price increases would not justify any increase in bread prices. It said flour prices for the year probably would average below 1962.

The memo, prepared for Secretary Orville L. Freeman by members of his staff, said bakers might use the increase in wheat prices to hike bread prices, but that this would be unwarranted.

Neither the price of wheat nor the prospective sales to Russia can be cited as the reason. Bread prices did not decline this summer when flour prices fell; there is no basis in slightly higher flour prices for higher bread prices now or later this year.

Despite President Kennedy's announced approval Oct. 9, the transaction remained stalled on the issue of U.S. shipping charges. The President made it a condition of the sale that the purchased wheat be shipped to Russia in American vessels whenever available.

While the administration dickered with U.S. shippers, the Agriculture Department attempted to head off any upsurge in bread prices to the nation's consumers.

The department, in a memorandum, stated flatly that recent wheat and flour price increases would not justify any increase in bread prices. It said flour prices for the year probably would average below 1962.

The memo, prepared for Secretary Orville L. Freeman by members of his staff, said bakers might use the increase in wheat prices to hike bread prices, but that this would be unwarranted.

Neither the price of wheat nor the prospective sales to Russia can be cited as the reason. Bread prices did not decline this summer when flour prices fell; there is no basis in slightly higher flour prices for higher bread prices now or later this year.

Despite President Kennedy's announced approval Oct. 9, the transaction remained stalled on the issue of U.S. shipping charges. The President made it a condition of the sale that the purchased wheat be shipped to Russia in American vessels whenever available.

While the administration dickered with U.S. shippers, the Agriculture Department attempted to head off any upsurge in bread prices to the nation's consumers.

The department, in a memorandum, stated flatly that recent wheat and flour price increases would not justify any increase in bread prices. It said flour prices for the year probably would average below 1962.

The memo, prepared for Secretary Orville L. Freeman by members of his staff, said bakers might use the increase in wheat prices to hike bread prices, but that this would be unwarranted.

Neither the price of wheat nor the prospective sales to Russia can be cited as the reason. Bread prices did not decline this summer when flour prices fell; there is no basis in slightly higher flour prices for higher bread prices now or later this year.

Despite President Kennedy's announced approval Oct. 9, the transaction remained stalled on the issue of U.S. shipping charges. The President made it a condition of the sale that the purchased wheat be shipped to Russia in American vessels whenever available.

While the administration dickered with U.S. shippers, the Agriculture Department attempted to head off any upsurge in bread prices to the nation's consumers.

The department, in a memorandum, stated flatly that recent wheat and flour price increases would not justify any increase in bread prices. It said flour prices for the year probably would average below 1962.

The memo, prepared for Secretary Orville L. Freeman by members of his staff, said bakers might use the increase in wheat prices to hike bread prices, but that this would be unwarranted.

Warning Issued On Great Lakes Smoked Fish

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's housewives were urged today to destroy all smoked fish known to have been caught or processed in the Great Lakes area.

Commissioner George P. Larrick of the Food & Drug Administration (FDA) ordered the emergency measures into effect Friday night in a move to stem new outbreaks of the deadly type-E botulism poisoning.

Larrick said the "destroy" order was aimed at smoked fish products that are "packaged in sealed plastic wrappers and those that are sold in bulk without any package." Canned fish products are not involved, he said.

Larrick issued the order after receiving a report from FDA scientists and from an advisory panel of experts who made an independent study of seven recent deaths traced to botulism-E and stemming from smoked whitefish processed by the H. J. Hornbos & Bros. Co. at Grand Haven, Mich.

In the course of the investigation, the FDA said, traces of botulism-E were found in at least three other fish processing plants in the Great Lakes area.

The emergency measures proposed by the panel were adopted "with modifications," Larrick said, pending development of more complete information on the sources of contamination. He said the FDA's investigation of the botulism hazard was continuing.

In a notice to wholesalers,

EARLY GREETINGS
Earliest printed Christmas card was that designed by John Calcott Horsley, an Englishman, in 1843. About 1,000 copies were printed and sold at a shilling each.

WAIT FOR IT!
Retail ORIGINAL 1 SALE
America's Greatest Drug Store Event
STARTS OCT. 31st 10 DAYS ONLY
NATIONALLY ADVERTISED in LEADING MAGAZINES, SUNDAY NEWSPAPERS, RADIO & TELEVISION
Hundreds of items at 2 for the price of 1 plus a penny
Wood's Drug
10th and Main

retailers and processors, the smoked fish products made in the area also should be destroyed.

LOW COST'S BIG Anniversary Sale CONTINUES THROUGH WED.

Yes, every item in our big ANNIVERSARY SALE of last Thursday (except meats) will remain on sale through Wednesday as long as stocks last. Come in for a bagful of savings. Look at these examples:

Delicious Carnation
Ice Cream All Flavors 1/2 Gal. 69¢
Drip or Regular MJB Coffee Large 3-lb. Tins $1.45

Bradley 8" Frozen
PIES Apple, Cherry, Boysenberry, Peach 39¢

Brookfield
BUTTER Creamery Fresh 59¢ lb.

Mayonnaise Nalley's Qt. 38¢
Catsup Del Monte 14-oz. 39¢

Flav-R-Pac Canned Food Sale!
EXAMPLES
CORN Whole Kernel or Creamed 8 303 Tins $1.00
GREEN BEANS Sliced 5 303 Tins $1.00

SUGAR C&H Brown or Powdered 1-lb. Pkg. 10¢

Tender Aged Low Cost Beef STEAK
RIB or SIRLOIN 68¢ lb.

Kraft Cheese Sale Continues
For Example:
Velveeta Cheese 2 lb. Loaf 79¢
13 More Varieties On Sale While Stocks Last!
Specials For Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday

Low Cost FOODS
RIGHT RESERVED TO LIMIT
TOWN & COUNTRY SHOPPING CENTER
3800 So. 6th

Reds Quit Moon Race

MOSCOW (UPI) — Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, in a statement published Saturday, declared the Soviet Union is withdrawing from the race with the United States to put a man on the moon first by 1970.

The premier announced "at the present time we do not plan flights of cosmonauts to the moon."

"I have read a report that the Americans wish to land a man on the moon by 1970. Well let's wish them success."

"And we will see how they will fly there, and how they will land there or to be more correct 'moon' there."

"And most important — how they will get up and come back. We will take their experience into account."

"We do not wish to compete in sending people to the moon without thorough preparation. It is obvious there would be no benefit from such competition."

"On the contrary it would do harm since it would lead to the destruction of people."

Officials Fail To Settle Issue

PORTLAND (UPI) — Negotiations between union leaders and Weyerhaeuser Co. officials here Friday failed to settle a strike which has shut down the firm's Coos Bay area operations, federal mediator Leroy Smith reported.

Another session was scheduled for next Wednesday.

The strike, which has idled 800 men for more than a week, was called by International Woodworkers of America local 3261.

Choice, Late Model CADILLACS

We have delivered a number of 1964 Cadillac and have taken in some wonderful-clean-low mileage Cadillacs in trade. Here is our largest offering and best selection for many months.

The discriminating used car buyer couldn't have a nicer, cleaner selection in Southern Oregon. Truly a better buy than many new 1964 models for the same amount of money.

See them on display on our large Used Car Lot
P.S. The lights are on late for your evening leisure "browsing" and inspection.

1963 CADILLAC 4-WINDOW SEDAN DeVILLE. 3500 miles. Air conditioned, new Cadillac warranty. White and black with white leather trim. $6150

1960 CADILLAC COUPE DeVILLE. We sold new. Air conditioned. Lady owner and driver. Beautiful tuxedo blue, clean. $3320

1963 CADILLAC COUPE. We sold new. Beautiful tuxedo blue and white, full complement of accessories. $5693

1961 CADILLAC 6-WINDOW DeVILLE. Local car — we sold new. Beautiful turquoise exterior and interior. Clean and sharp. $3665

1963 CADILLAC 4-WINDOW SEDAN DeVILLE. Beautiful rose exterior and interior and clean as a pin. $5575

1959 CADILLAC 4-WINDOW SEDAN. We sold new — local professional owner. This one is sharp and clean. $2393

Bargains Galore!
at the Salvation Army FAMILY SERVICE STORE
1749 Oregon Avenue
Open Daily 10 a.m. Till 5 p.m.

★ OLDSMOBILE
GMC TRUCKS
★ CADILLAC

MILLER
BROS., INC.

7th & Klamath — Ph. 4-4154

Want to do your Christmas Shopping early and save up to 50% or more?
See Page 6-A Today!
For Sensational Savings on every item!