

Court Orders Transfusion For Boy

SEATTLE (UPI) — A seven-year-old boy was given two units of blood and was in fair condition in a hospital here today after a Superior Court judge ordered the transfusion when the boy's parents objected for religious reasons.

Judge William C. Long ordered the transfusion after a hearing at University Hospital. Doctors said the transfusion was necessary to save the life of the youngster, Thomas Allen Burnett, Juneau, who had arrived at the hospital three hours earlier.

His mother, Mrs. Clifford T. Burnett, member along with her husband of Jehovah's Witnesses, refused permission for the transfusion on grounds it violated a religious belief.

The boy's father, still in Alaska, earlier had refused permission by telephone.

The hospital administrator asked Judge Long to take the emergency action. Dr. Loren C. Winterscheid, attending physician, told the judge the boy was suffering from a bleeding peptic ulcer or other gastric hemorrhage and that the transfusion was necessary to save his life.

Others never came home. An explosion ripped through a huge section of a coliseum at Indianapolis, Ind., where thousands of parents had taken their children for a special Halloween "treat"—a visit to an ice show.

Massive chunks of concrete and tiny bodies flew through the air, showering the glittering ice with dead and injured. At least 67 persons were dead and 331 injured.

Another explosion shattered a drug store filled with shoppers and children dressed in Halloween costumes at Marietta, Ga., killing seven persons and injuring others.

The blast came as hundreds of persons gathered for an informal Halloween parade. Boys and girls in gawdy and grotesque costumes milled about as ambulances screamed back and forth in the night.

A speeding car at Chattanooga, Tenn., swerved out of control on a street corner and slammed into four young girls making "trick or treat" rounds. Two of the girls, aged 6 and 14, were killed. The other two were seriously injured.

Other boys and girls were struck and killed by cars at Los Fresnos, Tex., Southampton, Mass., Wadsworth, Ohio, and Brossard, La. A 4-year-old girl wearing a scary mask

New Wage Minimum Proposed

PORTLAND (UPI)—A recommendation that the minimum wage for women and minors in housekeeping regulations be increased 50 cents an hour was made Thursday by employee representatives of the State Wage and Hour Commission.

They proposed a 75-cent minimum for women be increased to $1.25 and a 65-cent wage for minors under 18 to be increased to $1.15 an hour.

Walter Logren, representing the Astoria culinary workers union, also recommended the present 44-hour work week be cut to 40 hours. He asked that the law be revised to require employers to pay a full day's wages to any employee called to work but sent home for lack of work.

At present a half day's wages are paid. Logren also asked that the present $250 a month minimum set in regulations for managerial positions be increased to $300.

Employer representatives opposed the increase recommendation. The board voted to take the recommendation under advisement.

Spies Can Quit Early

WASHINGTON (UPI)—What should a U.S. spy come home to after laying aside his cloak and dagger for keeps?

As far as the House is concerned he should enjoy an early retirement system and pension plan second to none.

The House passed and sent to the Senate Wednesday a bill which would allow agents of the Central Intelligence Agency in some cases to retire after 10 years of employment, of which five must have been on hazardous duty, and begin drawing payments at once, regardless of age.

Bids Asked On 13 Jobs

SALEM — Bids will be received by the State Highway Commission on Nov. 19 for 13 projects estimated to cost approximately $12,200,000.

One of the projects is in Lake County and calls for improvement of the Dry Creek Road-California State Line Section of FAS 407. Located approximately 17 miles southwest of Lakeview, the project will cover a distance of 4.28 miles and will provide two 10-foot travel lanes.

It includes construction of a stone base and oil mat wearing surface on the existing county road and is scheduled for completion in the summer of 1964.

It isn't the amount of milk a farm produces but the amount each cow produces that makes the difference between profit and loss.

Rains Bring Some Relief

By United Press International

Blustery winds drove showers across the Midwest today as scores of communities gladly watched the driest October on record pass.

The fire threat remained high in parched forests and fields. New York City imposed sweeping new water restrictions, but rains brought measurable moisture to most of Ohio for the first time in 40 days.

The Weather Bureau at Sioux City, Iowa, and Topeka, Kan., said last month was the hottest October on record in those cities.

In New York City, where some streams and wells are at an all-time low level and records showed October to be the driest one in 94 years, a new water conservation program was announced.

Restaurants were asked not to serve water unless a customer asks for it. Barber shops, hotels, garages and other major water consumers also received water-saving instructions.

Water in the city's six reservoirs dropped to less than 30 per cent capacity.

Nearly 3/4 inch of rain fell at Findlay, Ohio, during the night each cow produces that makes the difference between profit and loss.

Reds Orbit New Craft

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union today launched a new unmanned "space vehicle" to carry out further research in the cosmos.

Radio Moscow said the vehicle launched today "can maneuver in all directions." It identified the craft only as "flight one."

Injured in the crash were Keith Brame, 21, Empire; Gerry New, 21, Empire; and Janet Hendricks, 19, Myrtle Point.

Officers said the car went off the road about 12:30 a.m. Thursday.

High Taxes Irk American Couple

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I earn a substantial salary but I had to float a loan to send our second son to college this year. Why? Because we Americans are being taxed out of our peepkin minds.

Last night my wife and I sat down and figured out what percentage of our combined dollars (she works, too) go for taxes of one sort or another. Starting with federal income taxes we went straight through state taxes, city taxes, sales taxes, gasoline taxes, amusement taxes, excise taxes, transportation taxes, cigarette taxes, and liquor taxes. My strength is taxed just thinking about it.

Remember those "slipped your time taxes" they emergency on in 1942? Well, my pocketbook doesn't know the war is over.

You seem like a nice, sensible woman, Ann Landers, will you please tell me what we are getting for the billions we are handing over to Uncle Sam without a whimper? — THE GUY NEXT DOOR

Dear Guy: You are getting police protection, fire protection, postal service, excellent roads, beautiful parks, schools for your children, libraries, art galleries, paved streets, purified water, welfare services, defense in time of war, free elections and the privilege of living in a country where there is no taxation without representation.

If you'd like to leave please be aware that thousands of people in other countries are eager to come to America and they would cheerfully take your place at the tax window.

Dear Ann Landers: Last week we had as guests a college classmate, her husband and their two sons, ages 13 and 8. I had not seen Penny for 15 years but we've kept in touch with Christmas letters and pictures.

We had a delightful time but after they left my husband and I had a long talk and we can't decide what to do. Penny's 8-year-old is a bright, considerate boy with lovely manners and a sunny disposition. The 13-year-old is surly, destructive, and unquestionably subnormal. Penny told me he is a difficult child and has always been "slow."

In my opinion this boy should be in a school for retarded children. Although he has a bad temper he is not a menace to society but I shoulder to think
